THE COMMITTEE.

ATTACKS WESTERN UNION.

Got $1,000,000 Illegally.

San Francisco, June 16.—A sensational arraignment of the Western Union Telegraph Company is contained in the report of the special committee of the grand jury which investigated the charge that telegraph companies accepted thousands of messages in the days immediately following the fire which were sent by mail and messenger.

The enquiry was conducted more especially into the action of the Western Union Company, but the committee declares that from such testimony as it was able to adduce other telegraph companies also violated the public confidence, though in a lesser degree.

The evidence of the post office officials is that more than half of these telegrams were addressed to points in the burned district. It is estimated by your committee that at least $1,000,000 was collected from all parts of the United States and Europe by the telegraph companies for messages which were not transmitted by telegraph, and your committee has not been able to find that the telegraph company has contributed one cent toward the relief fund.

TO INDICT THEM. "Your committee would recommend an indictment of officials, but for that section of the law which requires evidence of the false obtaining of a sum of over $50, to make it a felony."

Attention is called to the fact that the sender of messages which were handled in this way are by law entitled to the return of the tolls and $50 liquidated damages for each message. The report recommends that the evidence be laid before the Federal grand jury and sent to President Roosevelt.

I had kidney disease and constipation, and was wholly unfit for work. Pains shot through my limbs and lodged in my back. Headaches often made me desperate. I had no appetite, an awful color, and felt dispirited. Sometimes I was a little rheumatic. After a few days I began to mend, and kept up Dr. Hamilton's Pills till I was restored to my present tip top condition."

DR. JOHN A. CONKEY

We congratulate Dr. John A. Conkey, who was joined in wedlock on the 5th inst. to Miss Genevieve Campbell, of Indianapolis. The wedding was carried out in the very highest and latest style of nuptial knot tying, and the following is an account copied from the Indianapolis News.

The marriage of Miss Genevieve Campbell, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clay Campbell, and Dr. John Alexander Conkey was celebrated last night, before a large number of relatives and friends, at the Tabernacle church.

The pulpit was massed with palms, amid which were set Russian candelabra with white tapers. Mrs. W. E. Duthie was at the organ, and played a program that included the march from the "Queen of Sheba," "Adoration" and intermezzo by Gallarate; "Bridal Hymn," by Huntington Woodman, with "Kathleen Mavourneen" just before the wedding procession.

Then came the march from "Lohengrin," with Mendelssohn's "Spring Song" during the ceremony, and the "Swedish Wedding March," by Sudermann, as the party left the church.

The entrance of the party was unusual. The ushers, Frederick W. Eisele and Oren L. Hack, passed down the west aisle, Dr. Benjamin M. Bogue and Dr. Albert A. Hill down the east aisle, while down the central aisle went Miss Helen May Allison and Miss Edna Nooney, bridesmaids, then Mrs. Albert A. Hill and Mrs. Charles A. Murphy, of Brazil, matrons of honor; Miss May Matthews, of Lebanon, maid of honor; Henry Clay Campbell, Jr., and James Griffin Campbell, nephews of the bride; the flower children, and lastly the bride with her father, the minister, the Rev. Neil McPherson, awaited the party at the pulpit. The bridegroom and his best man, Alfred S. Coffin, met the bride at the head of the aisle. The wedding gown was an imported lace robe made in princess style, the corseage elaborated with duchesse lace. Her tulle veil was caught with orange blossoms sent by a friend from California, and her flowers were a cluster of white carnations tied with tulle. Mrs. Hill wore a princess gown of white chiffon cloth combined with lace studded with pearls, and Mrs. Murphy white chiffon cloth and lace, and they carried bouquets of white carnations. Miss Matthews wore a robe of white net and lace and the bridesmaids white chiffon cloth and lace and they carried arm bouquets of pink carnations and wore half wreaths in their hair. The flower children wore white silk suits with lace collars and carried baskets of pink and white sweet peas. Dr. E. H. Dennell was master of ceremonies.

After the service at the church there was a large reception at the home of the bride's parents, 2017 North Illinois street. The rooms were elaborately decorated with Southern smilax, palms and ferns, thickly set with roses and carnations and there were wall pockets of pink and white peonies and large baskets of pink and white sweet peas. Mrs. Campbell wore a gown of black and white lace and Mrs. Harry R. Campbell, a pink silk princess gown, made over pink.

The assisting friends were Mrs. Charles E. Wilson, of Lebanon; Mrs. M. J. Allison, Mrs. Charles A. Baggs, Mrs. V. W. Woodward, Mrs. Augustus Bruner, Mrs. Geo. F. Burroughs, Mrs. Charles E. Kennedy, Miss Isabelle Doherty, Mrs. James E. Bailey, Mrs. William O. Moore, Mrs. Harvey Mullins, Mrs. Frank R. Harding, Mrs. S. A. Harlan, Mrs. Robert Matthews, of Lebanon; Mrs. Otto T. Schen, Mrs. R. W. Lowry, Mrs. Charles O. Nichols, Mrs. Charles E. Hanna, Misses Helen Woodward, Grace Cummings, Margaret Harlan and Gladys E. Nichols. There were many handsome gifts. The bride gave her maids white hand bags, to the flower bearers signet rings. Among the guests were Mrs. Randolph, of Noblesville; Mrs. Worth Merritt, of California; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Wilson, of Lebanon; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Coby Brown, Misses Fanny Mahan, May and Harriet Gabriel, Mrs. Josephine Saltzgeber, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Adler and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Zion, of Noblesville. Mr. and Mrs. Conkey have gone on a short wedding trip, and they will be at home at the Palma after June 20.
