DURHAM CHRONICLE

IRWIN, Editor and Proprietor.

DURHAM, JULY 5, 1906.

Why the Canadian press should be regularly afflicted with despatches of uncalculated courtesy to the United States, on the part of Canadians in Canada, in displaying the Stars and Stripes alongside the Union Jack on patriotic occasions, is more than ordinarily comprehensive people can explain. The latest is the draping of a Kingston pulpit with the Union Jack and Stars and Stripes. On the occasion of the visit of Prince Arthur of Connaught to Toronto, the American flag played a very conspicuous part in the decoration of the Union Station, really holding the place of honor. While it is not our intention to belabor the flag of our American cousins, we can't for the world imagine where it plays any part in the celebration of the First of July, or the welcoming of a British Prince to a British colony. If cities like Toronto and Kingston don't know better, it's hard to expect much from people who are unfortunately enough to live in the smaller towns and villages, and who naturally look to the larger places, especially Provincial Capitals, for guidance in matters of this kind. We respect the flag of the greatest Republic on earth, but we don't worship it. We hope they respect ours, and think they do. But wouldn't it be expecting too much to think it should be paraded alongside their own emblem on Independence Day, or any other National occasion, for that matter?

Modest Claims Often Carry the Most Conviction

When Maxim, the famous gun inventor, placed his gun before a committee of judges, he stated its carrying power to be much below what he felt sure the gun would accomplish. The result of the trial was therefore a great surprise, instead of disappointment. It is the same with the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. They do not publicly boast of all this remedy will accomplish, but prefer to let the users make the statements. What they do claim, is that it will positively cure diarrhoea, dysentery, pains in the stomach and bowels and has never been known to fail. For sale at Parker's Drug Store.
