The heretofore sawdust floor has been replaced by solid cement concrete. Side shelving and stands have been remodelled and two modern stairways take the place of the rickety old steps. Parties can now exhibit without dread of unnecessary dust and dirt.

MR. AND MRS. JOS. FIRTH, Upper Town, are mourning the loss of their little son, Davis William, who passed away Friday morning last at the age of 2 years, 9 months and 25 days. The little fellow had been sick with empyema since February last, and though the best of medical assistance was procured, and an operation performed, the grim reaper had taken too firm a hold. Interment took place on Sunday last to Zion cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. Firth have the sympathy of the community in their hour of sorrow.

LOOKING over the accident and fatality accounts of the Fourth of July celebration in the States almost makes one glad that Canadians, after all, are a conservative people. This year the accidents in the United States ran up into the thousands, and the fatality list is fast assuming alarming proportions. On this side of the line, we may not go crazy on Dominion Day, nevertheless we appreciate it, and do so without endangering the lives of our neighbors. Toy pistols are responsible for most of the fatalities, so the despatches say.

We intimated last week that the poor attendance at camp in Niagara this year would have a tendency to remove company headquarters from Durham. This, it now develops, is the case, and steps have been taken to reorganize and have headquarters held here. For several years little or no interest has been taken in military affairs, and the reason why has been a hard one to fathom. Perhaps, like other things, persistency is an essential to military success, and where military is not placed continually before the people, the patriotic spirit soon dies out. It takes more than two or three weeks' drill to inspire enough patriotic enthusiasm into a person to make him enlist in the militia for a two-weeks' practice at Niagara or any other camping ground, and to overcome this, the authorities have been written to regarding the matter. Over fifteen young men have already expressed their willingness to enlist if officers are selected from the town who will be at all times available for practise drill, and this should not be hard, as there are a number who have been actively connected with the volunteers for years past, and others who have been in both the Canadian and British armies in actual warfare. We see no reason why Durham should lose her volunteers, and if everything is favorable at headquarters to have officers appointed who will always be in touch with the company, we have no fear that she will.

We are pleased to report that Mr. Wesley Storey, who was taken ill very suddenly on Thursday evening last, is improving slowly and his condition, once alarming, is now such that no serious consequences are anticipated.

ON reassembling in their lodge room after the service on Sunday last in the interest of the L. O. L., Durham, the brethren tendered a very unanimous vote of thanks to Rev. Mr. Farquharson, of the Presbyterian church, for the very able sermon addressed to the members of the lodge represented there. The sermon was well thought out, well delivered and extremely appropriate, and we have little doubt that all present were highly gratified.

COMPLAINTS are reaching us as to the condition of Garafraza street from Durham to Dornoch. One man says it is a terror the number of stones, large and small, that are scattered over the roadbed, making travelling dangerous as well as very uncomfortable. The same gentleman says it would almost pay persons who have any amount of travelling to do over this territory, to club together and hire men to put the road in shape. Who is to blame?

NIAGARA FALLS' EXCURSION.

The Epworth League Excursion to the Falls, Friday was quite a success socially as well as financially. It is quite an undertaking for any small local society to become responsible for the guarantee the Railroad Company exacts on such occasions, and their enterprise is deserving of support. The fares were low $2.35 for adults and $1.20 for children and the scenery about the Fall is something that every one in reach should have an opportunity to witness. Many of the excursionists returned the same day and were no doubt quite exhausted with the trip. They'll soon forget the fatigue but the scenic beauty of the Falls beheld by some for the first time will never be forgotten.

Those who desired to stay over had the privilege of remaining till Monday and many took advantage of the privilege, some going to Buffalo and others to Toronto, St. Catharines or Hamilton.

About 140 adults and 20 children left the station here, and the numbers were considerably increased at Varney, Holstein and Mt. Forest. The League decided last year to make this an annual event, and now that they have been successful twice we may look forward for a repetition of the trip for next year. The weather was all that could be desired and we think the excursionists were all pleased with their day's outing.

THE local option By-law in Owen Sound was quashed last week by the decision of Judge Mabey. It was owing to some technicality regarding the way the votes were polled, each voter being allowed to vote only once whether he could qualify or not in the different wards. The town council has decided to appeal against the decision of Judge Mabey. It is said the law was not observed during the two months of local option and much liquor was sold illegally.

UNDESIRABLE COLONISTS.

Many people in England are under the impression Canada is the proper place to dump all the criminally inclined people convicted in English courts of any offence from petty larceny to forgery. A boy, convicted of theft, who was being tried in a London court had his counsel plead for leniency, promising that his friends would send him to Canada if let go. The recorder refused to be a party to any such arrangement, for the reason that "Canada objected strongly to having criminals sent there."

Of course she does. And what's more, she always will. If it has come to the point where Canada is to be a dumping ground for all the English characters whose proper address is "Portland", or some other prison, it is certainly time to raise an objection. Even if we didn't kick, how long would it be, supposing they were sent here, before they would land in Kingston, or one of the many gaols or prisons throughout the country. We have trouble enough looking after our law-breakers as it is, and don't care to become a character modeler of all the toughs the old country turns out. If we've got to do it, why not put it on a paying basis, cash-in-advance, cure-guaranteed system, and let in France, Germany, Russia and a few more of them.

An exchange, dealing with this same question says: "In a recent issue of the Watertown Standard, the Malone correspondent writes that the United States Government is on the trail of some government officials in Vermont who have been assisting undesirable emigrants into the United States from Canada and incidentally refers to Canada as the "dumping ground for all creation". It is not very pleasant to be called the "dumping ground for all creation", but when one reflects upon the flood of European nondescripts being deliberately brought into the Canadian West, one is forced to admit that such is the case. It is a wonder that Canada is not warned by the horrible example of the United States. To-day they are suffering grievously from the foreign element which they allowed years ago to come into their country at their own sweet will. To-day they are not only put to enormous expense in barring out undesirable emigrants, but have their very life's blood poisoned by the foreign element which breeds anarchy, lawlessness and crime. A large percentage of criminals, so the criminal records of the United States show, are of foreign extraction. Let Canada beware in time."

And right now is that time. Not to-morrow, nor the next day, but now. We need emigrants and colonists, and we are willing to do everything in our power to assist them when they reach this great Canada of ours. At the same time we demand, and rightly too, that they be men of character and decency, who will help to build up and shove to the front, a country that to-day has more wealth and riches in her insides than any other under the sun. Hoboes, house-breakers and anarchists need not apply. Neither the wharf-rat who comes over with the expectation of capturing the presidency of some bank in a week or two.

We've had our own experience right here in this town, good and bad. One of them floated in last winter, looking for a job. He said he was a farmer. A job was easily obtained, and Mr. Man worked two days. The next time we saw his lordship, he was looking for a job mixing mortar. He got it and it lasted about as long as the first. Several other jobs panned out in about the same way and the last we saw of our friend from the old sod, he was filled to the nozzle, and in his own dramatic manner, was describing the advantages of his own over this country, which, according to his idea, was a "bloomin' place o' bloody 'ard work, and not loike Old Hingland, at all." Perhaps it isn't, but we are of the opinion the individual in question is not of much importance in or out of England. Money can be picked up on the streets here, all right, but it takes a pick and shovel to get it. If there's any country where they get it any easier, just point it out. We'll sell out and start by the next train.
