At 2:30 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon of last week wedding bells rang merrily from the public school belfry in honor of an event of general interest then taking place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Crossley whose eldest daughter Ethel M., one of the most estimable young ladies in the village, was united in marriage with Mr. William A. Bentham, of Bentham Bros., grocers this place. Rev. L. W. Thom performed the ceremony in the presence of about twenty guests mostly immediate relatives of the bride and groom. Mrs. Thom played the wedding march. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked very pretty in a dainty gown of white silk with point de esprit yoke. She wore the customary bridal veil and carried a bouquet of white carnations. The bride's sister, Miss Bertha Crossley, was bridesmaid. She wore a pretty gown of white silk and carried pink carnations. Little Miss Edith Sheppard, niece of the groom, was ring bearer, and looked sweet in cream silk. The groom's brother, Mr. E. T. Bentham was best man. After the ceremony a choice wedding breakfast was served. The table and house decorations were very pretty. The bride's travelling suit was of navy blue broadcloth and she wore a becoming large black velvet hat with plumes. Showers of rice and good wishes were bestowed upon the young couple as they left on the evening train for Toronto. On their return they will settle in Mr. Thistlewaite's residence on Collingwood St. The esteem in which the popular young bride is held was shown by the numerous costly wedding gifts, among which was a beautiful silver pudding dish from the Presbyterian Sunday School and choir in both of which she has long rendered faithful and valuable service. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful necklace with amethyst pendants and to the bridesmaid a pearl crescent. We wish the esteemed young couple a long life as bright as was their wedding day.

A successful shooting match was held at Mr. Lafayette Badgerow's, 4th line, on Tuesday of last week in consequence of which a large number of turkeys lost their heads. Mr. George Latimer, of Eugenia, an old gentleman of 81 years of age made the best shot of the day with his rifle. Mr. W. J. Caswell's twelve-year-old son, Nat, came next and did splendid shooting for one of his age. Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Douglass have the sympathy of many friends in their bereavement by the death of their little daughter, Evelyn, nearly five months of age, whose death occurred unexpectedly early on Saturday, morning last. A sad feature was that Mr. Douglass, not anticipating death, had gone from home for a few days. Mrs. Douglass had, however, the comfort of her mother, Mrs. Cowper, who had come from Nobleton for a few days' visit. The little one was taken to Markdale for interment in the family plot.

Successful anniversary and thanksgiving services were held in the Methodist church on Sunday last when Rev. R. B. Strangways, of Shelburne, who exchanged with Dr. Caldwell, preached excellent sermons. In the morning the doctrine of ownership and stewardship was exhaustively dealt with and in the evening success was the theme discoursed upon in a very able manner. The choir rendered special music and was given valuable assistance by Mrs. Matheson, of Port Dover. The pulpit platform was prettily decorated with foliage and flowering plants. The thank offering was $115, a large increase over last year.

Rev. L. W. Thom was seized with a bilious attack on Sunday morning which rendered him unable to take his work for the day. Rev. Mr. Wass on short notice kindly preached for him at Eugenia and this place.

Union Thanksgiving service was held in the Presbyterian church on Thursday last when Rev. F. L. Kipp, gave a well delivered discourse appropriate to the occasion. Revs. Thom, Wass, and Dr. Caldwell took part in the service. The collection was in behalf of the Bible Society. The annual business meeting of the branch here will be held in the Presbyterian church on Thursday evening and the general agent, Rev. Mr. Smith, of Toronto, will preach in behalf of the Society in the Methodist church next Sunday evening.

At Mr. Archy Boyd's sale last week stock went at good figures, but the late season made implements not so much in demand. Mr. Boyd has some fine articles he will dispose of privately. We are indebted to Mrs. Boyd for a basket of beautiful pears from their orchard.

Mr. Alex. Reid, who is closing his eighteenth year in the school east of the village, has been re-engaged for 1907 with an increase on salary of $50.00. A tempting offer was made Mr. Reid last week from another school, but No. 4 has secured him for another year. His successful work has made him deservedly popular in the section.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bentham returned from Toronto on Monday evening when a reception was held at the home of the former's parents, and an enjoyable time was spent by the friends assembled.

The League meeting in the Methodist church on Monday evening was in the hands of the honorary members and Mr. Wm. Clayton, one of the oldest members and earliest settlers in Flesherton, gave a very interesting talk on early Methodism in this place. Mr. Thos. Grainger also gave a short interesting address.

Mr. C. N. Richardson shot two coons on Thanksgiving Day.

A huge rubber boot the foot of which is about two feet long is quite an attraction in Mr. W. Clayton's shoe store window. The boot is an ad. from the W. Hamilton Co., Toronto, whose goods Mr. Clayton handles extensively.

Mr. James Stinson has had a handsome granite monument erected at his plot in the cemetery in memory of his deceased wife and child.

The Bell Telephone gang, who have been centered here for some time, left town on Monday on a big load of baggage singing lustily a farewell song.

Mr. D. McTavish is having a large storeroom erected at the rear of his carriage shop.

APPEAL DISMISSED

Judgment was given on Saturday dismissing with costs the appeal in the case of Finch vs. Northern Navigation Company from the decision of Mr. Justice Anglin at the trial at the March assizes. The case arose out of the death of Lyman Finch who lost his life in the burning of the steamer City of Collingwood, of which he was a deck hand in the summer of 1905 at Collingwood, his wife entering the action to recover damages. The plaintiff charged negligence on the part of the defendants in not keeping a watchman on duty, in not providing a proper system of awakening workmen, and defective means of exit. The defendant alleged that a careful watch had been kept, and denied effective means of escape had not been provided. At the assizes the trial there was no evidence upon which a jury of reasonable men could be asked to find that the failure of defendants to keep a sufficient watch or provide means of escape was the cause of the death of plaintiff's husband. Upon the evidence it is purely conjectural what caused his death, and upon the whole case there is nothing which would warrant a jury in finding that it was caused by the want of an additional watchman, or would have been prevented had such watchman been provided. A. G. MacKay, K. C., plaintiff, and W. Nesbitt, K. C., and Britton Osler for defendants.

HOW THEY DO IN ORANGEVILLE

On Friday night another fight took place at the Queen's hotel and for a time it was a genuine rough house. Harry Tyler, a carpenter employed at Matthew's planing mill, and Alex. Watson, porter at the Queen's, live opposite each other on Church street. Tyler accused Watson of ill-treating dogs owned by the former and a fight started. It is said Tyler was getting the better of the argument when Watson went behind the bar and got a club and dealt Tyler a bad blow on the head making a bad gash. Tyler tried to ward off the blow with his arm and it was also hurt. The matter was to have been ventilated in court, but before it reached that stage it was settled by Watson paying Tyler $20. Several fights have occurred at this hotel recently and it might be well for the license inspector or commissioners to see who is responsible for the disturbances.—Orangeville Sun.
