THE Town Council met on Tuesday night and went through the regular routine of business. A number of accounts were passed with a little spirited discussion thrown in as a flavor. There was nothing dangerous.

THE Fred Wren show held here on Tuesday had a fair attendance of dissatisfied patrons. We didn't see the show nor meet any of the outfit, neither did we hear any one who did see it give it a good name. "Rotten," "frank," "bummy" and "fierce" are the opinions expressed by some, but perhaps they weren't judges.

THE new store of Lenahan & McIntosh is being pushed rapidly forward, and the proprietors, as well as the Ritchie boys, who have the contract for the brickwork, are praying for about another week or two of fine weather. We imagine that about the middle of next week the walls will be completed if the weather continues favorable. The building will make quite an improvement to that portion of the street, and Christmas may yet see them at business in full blast.

We have a local advertisement in this issue advertising twenty dollars that was lost by a young man. He offers five dollars reward and instructs us to give that amount to the person who returns the money to this office. The finder will earn his money easily, and we could hardly conceive of a person to claim the amount. However, as the young man says he would rather lose five dollars than lose the whole sum. If the money happened to fall into honest hands it will surely be returned.

AN illustrated lecture will be given by Bishop Stringer in Trinity church on Monday evening, Nov. 12th, beginning at 7:30. As the scenes showing forth the country, the inhabitants, their manner and customs are thrown upon the canvass, His Lordship will give an account of his life and experience amongst the Esquimaux and Indians of the frozen Arctic regions of that land of three months day and three months night, where the people live in snow houses, dress in skins of wild beasts and live upon their flesh. Bishop Stringer (as St. Paul) was in perils often, in perils of the sea, in perils in the wilderness, in perils of the natives, and presents to us an opportunity of learning of life in the extreme north, which, perhaps, will never be offered to us again. During the evening a collection will be taken up in aid of missions.

MR. WM. HERD, of Allan Park, started for Dauphin, Manitoba, on Monday morning under rather distressing circumstances, but we hope he may be able to find things better than he expects. It seems that a few weeks ago Mrs. J. H. Willis, his daughter, was taken down with typhoid and removed to the hospital. On being acquainted of the facts, Mrs. Herd went West to render what assistance she could, and favorable progress resulted to such an extent that Mrs. Willis was sufficiently recovered to leave the hospital. The mother then took sick and is now a patient in the hospital herself and evidently in a serious condition. We can readily imagine the very trying circumstances under which the trip will be made by the old gentleman, who feels quite distressed on account of the sad news. We hope, however, that on his arrival there he will be quite disappointed, and that Mrs. Herd will be on the highway to recovery.

TO OUR READERS.

This is Friday morning and the cuts that should have reached us Wednesday have not yet come to hand. On that account we are reluctantly forced to hold the Trade Section until next week. In any case we would not be able to get the whole issue in the mail tomorrow, and we would be late anyway. The illustrated portion of the paper is taking a lot of work, and will, we honestly believe, be the best production ever printed in Durham. It would be poor taste for us to speak boastfully of it, but we are not ashamed to have it go forth from a country office. It is simply eight pages the size of the Chronicle giving short sketches of nearly all the business men, clergymen, and other prominent citizens, the living and the dead. There are also a number of fine half tone engravings of citizens and scenes of local interest.

We are sending the paper out to our regular subscribers, and will have a few copies left which can be obtained at 10c each or three for 25c if ordered at once. Remember we have only a few left. If you want one order it soon remitting the amount.

For a nice lamp—cheap—try Macfarlane's.

Try Baby's Cough Cure, specially prepared for the little folks, 25c at Macfarlane's.

THE large 12x14 photograph given away with one dozen cabinets is well worth a dollar and a half. F. W. Kelsey, Photographer.—July 12th. tf.

FOR SALE—Two cows, one six years old in the spring, the other three years old in March, both from Parker's stock farm. Apply to Mrs. Ed. Landner, near Creamery, Durham.—3pd.

DEVOTE the long evenings now to reading. Come and see the new books and a great many old favorites at a very low price, Macfarlane's Drug and Bookstore.

THE Varney L. O. L. No. 639 will hold a Pie and Box Social in their Hall at Varney on Friday, 9th Nov., when a good musical and literary program will be rendered. Admission 15 cents. Ladies bringing pies or boxes free. Ladies not bringing pies or boxes 25c.

INFORMATION was received here Sunday by Mayor Hunter of the death of his aunt Mrs. Schofield, sister of the late J. H. Hunter, M. P. Deceased was well known in Durham where she spent most of her youth up to the time of her marriage. For many years she has been a resident of Brockville where she died at the age of seventy six years. Interment takes place this week, Mayor Hunter and his brother James P. being there in attendance.

THE Rt. Reverend I. C. Stringer, D. D., Lord Bishop of Selkirk, will (D. V.) preach at both services in Trinity church on Sunday, Nov. 11th. His Lordship suffered all the privations and hardships of missionary life for eleven years among the Esquimaux in the most northerly point of America, and as a result of his zeal and untiring efforts for God and his fellowmen he was appointed to the high and holy office of Bishop of Selkirk.

IT was a sudden blow to the wife and members of the Binnie family when the sad news was spread on Tuesday morning last that Mr. Alexander Binnie became suddenly ill and died the afternoon of the same day. In the morning he went to work as usual at the Cream Separator Works, but soon became weak and lost the power of his legs and arms. It was first thought he was stricken with paralysis, but the bursting of a blood vessel in the brain is the ascribed cause. Medical aid was summoned and the stricken man was conveyed to his own home, but it seems nothing could be done to save his life. Deceased was a brother of Mr. George Binnie of Glenelg, Rev. Jas. Binnie, of Tweed, Thomas Binnie out West, Mrs. W. L. Dixon, Mrs. Thos. Mc Gier, Mrs. D. Edge, Mrs. John Weir and Mrs. John Bell. About Christmas last he was married to Miss Elizabeth Ector, daughter of the late Jas. Ector who sadly mourns the loss of her devoted husband against whom no man can justly say an unkind word. He was a member of the Ancient Order of Workman, his beneficiary certificate being formerly made out in favor of his mother who died a couple of years ago. Only a month ago since a transfer was made, in favor of his wife, Mr. Binnie making the remark at the time that "you never can tell what may happen." "Sandy" Binnie was an honest man, and we're sorry to hear of his death.

TO OUR CORRESPONDENTS.

We have a number of correspondents whose contributions have not been so frequent as we would like to see them. To these we have a word or two to say. The town topics are supposed to be gleaned as well as possible by the Editor and his staff here. For country happenings we depend on our correspondents who are just as important in their respective spheres as the Editor is in his. No news is too small for us to value, but light local gossip and rude jibes without any point in them can not be regarded of much value outside the person who writes them. Births, deaths, marriages, accidents sickness and lots of other things should find their way to the local paper, and we shall welcome any information from any reliable source, whether a correspondent or not. We want news and now that the evenings are growing longer, and young people in the country are mingling more amongst one another, we should be able to fill our pages every week with good wholesome information that will be read with interest and profit wherever the Chronicle goes. We invite every correspondent to send us in a budget next week and see how the paper will be improved by the effort.

THE bachelors of Durham are having an informal assembly in the town hall Friday night. The Loudon Harpers are to be in attendance to furnish the music.

WE are pleased to know that some of the citizens are taking exception to the location we have recommended for a town hall viz., the Vollet property on the corner of Garrafraxa and Saddler streets. For a long time the Edge property was regarded as the most eligible site, and we have always been favorable to the situation till the decision was made that the railway would cross there. This, to some extent, will injure it for market purposes, and, moreover, the available ground is rather small for all the purposes required for a town hall and market. So far as we know there is no serious harm done yet, and we see no immediate danger unless the future councils be a little more progressive than some of those we had in the past. For a town hall alone the Edge property referred to would make a good site, but the market and weigh scale would have to go elsewhere in the event of such selection being made. The present building is not much of an ornament, and if the town is going ahead something better must be provided somewhere.

OUR attention has been called to the fact that one of the arc lights has been out of business for several dark nights. We were scarcely aware of the fact and perhaps would not have noticed it had our attention not been directed that way. We presume the absence of the light will in no way lighten the light bill, but it will be no harm to enlighten the Council that the lights are not all running.

OBITUARY.

We regret to learn of the unexpected death of Mrs. Donald McFayden, which took place at her home on Saturday night last at her home in Glenelg. She leaves to mourn her death her husband and four children, John, Wm., Mary and Kate. Her illness was of very short duration.

The Review has the following:—Deceased was a Miss McGregor whose family lived for a time in the "Glen" Glenelg, but later moved to Bruce County, where a sister, Mrs. John Ross, still lives. A brother Donald in Winnipeg, is the only other survivor of her family. She was married to Mr. McFayden 34 years ago in Walkerton the officiating clergyman being Rev. Dr. Moffat, the well-known agent of the Bible Society. This union was blessed with two sons, William and John and two daughters Misses Mary and Katie all well known and respected here, and these with the sorrowing husband, and uncle Colin C. who lives with them, will sincerely mourn the loss of the loved one who meant so much to all. Mrs. McFayden was a woman of admirable character. Deeply devoted to husband and children, her memory will be cherished by them as a precious possession. All who knew her were attracted by her genial personality and bounding hospitality. Her sudden removal in the midst of a useful life has cast a gloom over the community, and neighbors and friends will join the deeply bereaved family in lamenting the loss which to her is great gain.
