H. H. MILLER, M. P.

An illustrated Trade Edition published in this town without a lengthy reference to Mr. H. H. Miller, M. P.,—so well and favorably known in Durham and surrounding country—would not be considered complete. Mr. Miller, while not now a citizen of Durham, in his earlier life resided here for something over four years, which he spent in the office of the late Mr. David Jackson; and, as since he left Mr. Jackson's employ in January, 1884, to establish his present business in Hanover, he has continued his business as well as social grip upon Durham and its vicinity, he is looked upon as one of our business men.

A successful record of twenty-seven years in his present line of business should in itself be a sufficient guarantee of the reliable nature of the business carried on.

Mr. Miller is always able to lend money on good security on better terms than it can be obtained elsewhere. He also buys and sells property on commission—no charge if no deal. For many a man he has collected a note or account that has been thought "no good."

H. H. Miller, M. P.

Perhaps no other man in the county has settled more disputes or prevented as many law suits. He places Fire, Life, Biler and Accident insurances, sells Railway and Ocean Steamer Tickets, draws all kinds of writings.

He has now for sale many fine farms, as well as town residences and business properties in Hanover, Durham, Alban Park and other places.

We can give the word of the Durham Chronicle for it (and who would want any better guarantee?) that he is one of the most reliable men in business in this part of the country, and, as he says himself: "Always prompt—never negligent."

Politically, he is not on the same side as the Chronicle, but four years' companionship with David Jackson and with the late George Jackson M. P., of whom he was a great admirer, left him politically broader minded and less partisan than are most men who have for so long a time taken an active part in party politics.

While engaged in Ottawa during the sessions of the House of Commons to which he was elected in 1904, Mr. Miller's office is splendidly looked after by a staff of able and attentive lieutenants, thoroughly acquainted with the business.

If you want your business looked after in a prompt and satisfactory manner, you cannot entrust it to better hands.

The Durham Model and Public School with High School Equipment.

A. B. McLELLAN.

Another business man here that must not be neglected in our review of Durham is A. B. McLellan, who is a dealer in first class agricultural machinery, being agent here for the celebrated Peter Hamilton binders and agricultural machinery, that have attained a reputation second to none on this continent for durability and finish. Wherever these goods have been introduced they invariably give the greatest degree of satisfaction. When you are thinking of securing serviceable machinery and reasonable in price you should give Mr. McLellan a call. He has the New Hamburg wagon, Barber buggies, Armstrong cutters, Paris riding plow and two furrow walking plow, National Cream Separator four sizes, Maple Leaf sewing machine, Bissell land rollers and disc harrows, Daisy churns, washing machines and wringers, and a full stock of hay machinery manufactured by Workman & Ward, London. He carries repairs for all the machinery he handles. Mr. McLellan's business is well established and he says this year's business beats all former records. He is well and favorably known throughout the country.

J. A. LENAHAN.

Another business man here that we must not neglect to mention in our review of Durham, is J. A. Lenahan, who is a woodworker, painter, trimmer, etc. He has the reputation of doing the very best class of work in these lines. He manufactures cutters, wagons sleighs, buggies, etc., and they invariably give the greatest degree of satisfaction. In the line of wood-repairing he is always prepared to do work on the shortest notice, and to give satisfaction as to work and price. When you want good results in this class of work you should give him a call. Mr. Lenahan has been in business here for upwards of fifteen years, and is a man well and favorably known as a citizen.

THE SCHOOLS.

The school is an efficient institution doing public, model and high school work. Though not a high school it has made good records in the past, being more successful in the departmental examinations than many of the high schools throughout the province. The board and teachers work well together, and the harmony that exists is highly beneficial in the community. The trustees at present are: Wm. Johnston, Chairman, Dr. Gun, C. Ramage, W. D. Mills, S. P. Saunders, J. S. McIlraith. The teachers are: Thomas Allan, First Class Certificate, Principal; Miss Lola McLeod, B. A., Honor Graduate of Queen's University, Classics, Moderns and English; Miss L. M. Forfar, Queen's University, Science, History and Geography; Miss Edna Drewery, Graduate of Normal College, Mathematics, English Grammar, Botany, Physics, etc.; Miss Margaret McKenzie, Miss A. Grant, Miss A. McKenzie, Miss McMurtry, Miss A. Gun, Miss Dora Davidson.

The school accommodation is not sufficient, and the board is obliged to use rented rooms in town until better quarters can be procured.

DURHAM FOUNDRY

Was established here many years ago by the Cochrans. It was burned down some 25 years ago. Some seven years ago Mr. C. Smith & Sons bought the property and rebuilt the same, and they now conduct a first class foundry. They are manufacturers of threshers, engines, horsepowers, wind stackers, self feeders, feed boilers, piping and steam fitting. As well as the Farmer's favorite steam cutting attachment. They also manufacture the finest school desk made in this or any other country. It is adjustable, durable, strong, clean and comfortable. It is just the thing that should be in every public school, where economy and cleanliness are sought after. This foundry is fitted up with all the newest and most modern mill machinery for the rapid turning out of everything enumerated above. They also do machine and engine repairing on the shortest notice. They manufacture railway dump cars, and have at the present time an order for some twenty-four. And also manufacture inside trucks for furniture. It may prove to your interest to consult them before making any purchases of school desks, or anything in the shape of machinery which they manufacture. None but the most skilled mechanics are employed. As townsmen C. Smith & Sons are among Durham's best known and most valued citizens.

W. C. VOLLETT.

When you want a shave as good as a barber can give you should go to W. C. Vollett, the practical and up-to-date barber. Or when you want a fashionable hair cut you are invited to give W. C. Vollett the tonsorial artist a call.

Hot and cold baths. He uses Adam's hair rub to keep hair from falling out. When you want to be fixed up all right and to feel all right, give W. C. Vollett the up-to-date tonsorial artist a call.

MRS. JAS. BURNET.

Is the proprietor of a first class grocery in the upper town and she is in the enjoyment of a good patronage. When you want good values in all lines of fine fresh groceries you should give her a call. She also carries vegetables, fruits and a good stock of canned goods. Mrs. Burnet sells reasonable and aims at getting everything of the best. Try her when you want good values in groceries and honest treatment.

Home of the Durham Review. C. Ramage, Ed. and Prop.

MISS GUN.

Is a dealer in fancy goods, toys, stationery, magazines, fashion books, candies, nuts, as well as everything pertaining to women's fancy goods are sold very reasonable in price. She also handles a good stock of wall paper which she sells exceedingly cheap. Give her a call when you want good values.

W. J. LAWRENCE.

Is another of Durham's citizens, who is a practical blacksmith and up-to-date horseshoer. He has had a lengthy experience at the business, and those who are in a position to know say, that there are few mechanics engaged in the business to-day, his equal. In every way he endeavors to meet the demands of the public in the lines of horseshoeing, repairing, wagon and buggy making, etc. When you want the very best results give W. J. Lawrence the practical blacksmith, Durham, a call. As a townsman Mr. Lawrence is well and favorably known.

ARTHUR H. JACKSON.

Another business man that must not be neglected in our Illustrated Trade Edition is Arthur H. Jackson, who is Notary Public, Commissioner, Conveyancer, Insurance Agent, Land Valuator, Issuer of Marriage Licenses, farms bought and sold, estates managed, money invested or to loan. He makes a specialty of collections of all kinds.

Mr. Jackson represents some of the best Fire Insurance Companies in the world. (Cash and Mutual plans). The shrewd and far seeing business man usually carries an adequate amount of insurance, for fires break out where they are least expected and the business that has taken years to build up is swept out of existence in a twinkling. Guard against any such thing by placing sufficient insurance upon your business. Mr. Jackson represents only the best companies.

Anything in his line always receives his careful attention.

Mr. G. Sparling.

BARCLAY & BELL.

Another leading business concern here that we must not overlook in our review of the business interests here is Barclay & Bell, who represent an all Canadian Company. The Maxwell Harvesting Machinery of St. Marys, which has achieved a world wide reputation for reliability and wearing qualities. When you are looking for good values in high grade agricultural machinery you should get the Maxwell implements. They are made by first-class mechanics and of the very best material. They also handle hay forks, slings and trucks, as well as stoves and ranges in great variety. They also sell the new Williams sewing machines, the Karn organs and pianos, and Tudhope carriages.

They are also undertakers and funeral directors, in which line of business Mr. Bell has had many years' experience in some of the best undertaking establishments in Canada. They carry a full stock of undertaking supplies—probably one of the best outside the cities. Embalming done on the most scientific principles. Funerals taken in full charge and attended in any part of the county.

MISS DICK.

If there is one place more than another where the public know they are always assured of correct styles in head dress, it is at Miss Dick's Durham. She keeps a first class milliner, and the ladies of Durham and vicinity need no recommendation, as to where they can always obtain the correct thing in hats, as her millinery emporium is the recognized headquarters for correct styles. For good taste, correctness in the blending of colors and rare good judgment in the selection of high class styles and serviceable millinery she cannot be excelled. Give her a call when you wish to be considered stylishly dressed as regards your hat.

J. & J. HUNTER.

One of the most progressive business firms here is that of J. & J. Hunter, who are engaged as general merchants, having been in business here for over a quarter of a century. That some of our first customers are still with us speaks well for the way we have been dealing with the public. We have one price for everyone, and the goods we offer are always obtained owing to their being the best that money can buy. Their stock of ready-made clothing, hats, caps and footwear, carpets, linoleums and groceries, is one of the best ever shown here. In dress goods, full lines of staple and fancy goods are kept in stock, just as fine lines as can be bought anywhere. They are showing for the fall and winter trade some up-to-date dress goods. Just at present they are making some great reductions in ladies' dress goods, ready-made clothing, boots and shoes, etc. This is the store where you can invariably depend upon getting bargains at all times. Produce taken in exchange for goods. As townsmen, they are among the town's most esteemed and progressive.

THOS. SMITH.

There are harness makers and harness makers, but one of the best in this part of the country is Thos. Smith whose many years of experience in business here, and always paying 100 cents on the dollar, and invariably giving the best of satisfaction in the line of goods offered for sale, qualify him as a judge of the public needs. He manufactures all his own leather and his harness, which is much superior to the machine made article that is being peddled off by many dealers on the public. His harness has invariably won for him a good name hereabouts for durability and finish, and he sells reasonable. He also carries a good stock of horsemen's supplies of all kinds. Single and double harness. Repairing done reasonable and satisfactory. He is assisted in the harness shop by his son John, who is a practical workman. Mr. Smith also conducts a first-class tannery, where he tans horse hides, cow hides, dog skins, etc., tanned for robes and coats by the new process, which, for finish and softness, cannot be beaten. Cash paid for hides, skins and tallow. Mr. Smith and his son are well and favorably known as sterling business men.

McQUEEN & MORICE.

If there is one class of agricultural machinery more than another that has achieved a world wide reputation, it is the Massey-Harris, a firm that has made Canada famous all over the world. And there are more of their agricultural implements in use in the British possession than any two other agricultural implement manufacturers established. Their binders have won for them a splendid reputation everywhere, and the same may be said of all their agricultural machinery. When you want the very best class of agricultural machinery that is manufactured to-day try McQueen & Morice. They handle everything from binders to wagons and buggies. And have repairs for all the various machinery they handle. They are also agents for the Singer sewing machines, the best on the market, and the Bell organ, one of the finest instruments in Canada. They handle the Canada Carriage Company cutters and buggies, Brockville; Barrie carriages and cutters and Gray's carriages and cutters, of Chatham. As townsmen they are both men held in high esteem in the community.

Mr. A. A. Catton.

Manager of the Durham Furniture Co.

MISS COCHRANE.

Another of our business people, who never does much advertising, but who is in the enjoyment of a good trade, is Miss Cochrane, who is a dealer in farm implements, stoves, etc. And one reason of her success in business is due to the fact that she always aims at being very reasonable in her charge. She keeps agricultural machinery and carries a good stock of Souvenir stoves and ranges made by Gurney-Tilden Co., Hamilton, and Treasure stoves and ranges made by the D. Moore Co., Hamilton. Those looking for good values should consult her.

WM. CALDWELL.

Another business man here that must not be overlooked is Wm. Caldwell, who conducts a first-class livery at this point. Mr. Caldwell has a number of fine drivers, which are all quiet animals, and he also adds a number of first-class rigs from time to time making it first-class in all its appointments. When you want a good turnout for a pleasure drive or a wedding you should aim at getting a rig at Caldwell's livery, Durham. Commercial driving a specialty. He also runs the stage between here and Walkerton, carrying the mails. As a townsman Mr. Caldwell is a man well and favorably known.

MIDDAUGH HOUSE.

This well appointed commercial hotel, which is one of the old standbys in this part of the country, was taken possession of by Mr. J. Miehhausen one year ago. The Middaugh House is a well appointed hotel and it certainly enjoys an excellent patronage at the hands of the commercial men who cover this part of the country. No effort has been spared to meet the wishes of the patrons of this house. His aim has always been to meet the approbation of all who put up there, and with this object in view he is continually adding to the comfort of the public. The table of the Middaugh House is not surpassed by any hotel in Western Ontario. In the sample room you are always assured of the best of wet goods, domestic and imported cigars. There are extensive sample rooms and every comfort provided for the accommodation of the public. The house is well heated, well lighted and has ideal guest chambers. Everything thoroughly up to date. Good stabling and an attentive hostler in connection. Personally Mr. Miehhausen is deservedly popular with the travelling public, and no less so with the townspeople and farming community. When in town do not fail to give the Middaugh House a call. Rates, $1.50 per day.
