

DURHAM CHRONICLE

W. IRWIN, Editor and Proprietor.

DURHAM, NOVEMBER 15, 1906.

THE GLOBE AS AN EQUIVOCATOR

One would think when the Rev. J. A. Macdonald took charge of the editorial end of the Toronto Globe, that he would at least have endeavored to raise the standard of journalism up to the high moral plane of the pulp it he just recently vacated. But it would appear that the exigencies of extreme party journalism will not permit of any such approach to the decencies of life. Of course we are not saying that this is the Rev. Mr. Macdonald's fault, as to use a homely metaphor he is the hired man and must do the management's bidding; that's politics the world over.

But what we do say is, if he has anything like a free hand he is very far from following the scriptural injunction: "Speak evil of no man." Never was there a Premier of Ontario, who occupied that high and honorable position, and who was ever elected by such an overwhelming majority as the Hon. J. P. Whitney, whose administration in every department has given the universal satisfaction to the public at large—outside of the realm of party politics—that his has. Never was there a cleaner administration than he has given the country. Mr. Whitney, who is a man of unimpeachable character and of high integrity, has first of all surrounded himself with a Cabinet of men that will compare very favorably with a like number in any walk of life, in this or any other country, intellectually, socially, morally or politically. They are all admitted to be men above reproach.

But it is such a new thing in politics—and in Ontario politics particularly, that we need not be surprised that his reverence is ordered to write and say things, against which his better nature revolted. For we know that an exemplarily christian gentleman, such as the Rev. J. A. Macdonald, left to himself, is capable of better things.

When he states as he did in the Globe of Thursday, Nov. 1:—"For such treatment of the civil service in this Province there is absolutely no excuse. The Liberals when in power never dismissed any member of the service because he had been a Conservative in politics," he is either designedly or ignorantly juggling with the truth. If he will take a survey over Ontario he will find scores and scores of Conservatives who were dismissed by the Laurier Government from caretakers of Government buildings to much higher offices. Let him ask in any county in the Province and see what the reply is. The idea of the Ontario Government not firing any Tory office holder, how funny. How many Tory office holders has there been in Ontario in the past forty years to fire? Will his reverence kindly inform a gaping world? Talk about spoils system—does he know anything of how liquor licenses in this country were granted for years? How these men were compelled to contribute to the Grit Campaign funds, or in the education department, what made all, or nearly all the male teachers in the high and public schools Grits? He knows they dare not be anything else—he under Ross and hold their jobs. This is a matter of history that even school boys know.

If space would permit, a list of Conservative dismissals since Laurier came to power could be published that would astonish the people. Of course we do not think it would astonish the Globe directorate.

When Mr. Macdonald speaks of Hon. Mr. Whitney adopting the spoils system in Ontario, where he appoints a Tory to office, who does he think Mr. Whitney should appoint, a Grit? To follow Mowat's, Hardy's and Ross's lofty examples in this regard? Let his reverence name one Tory that was appointed during those forty years of waiting in the political wilderness. So long as we have party Government, party appointments will be made. It always has been and always will be so long as grass grows and water runs.

If Mr. Whitney was a believer in the spoils system, it would not have taken him five minutes to have bounced the 5,000 Ontario Grit heeters that the late Ontario Government gathered about it. These sturdy and heroic henchmen, who fought Whitney and Meredith before him, at every by road and cross road for the past twenty years and even longer expected that they were "all longer" politically speaking, when Whitney was returned. And sometimes we think it was a great mistake to disappoint them. And articles like this recent one from the Globe arguments that chagrin.

What has the Globe to say now that it is on the spoils system, to the 64 Grit M. P.'s, who were appointed to office under the late Grit Government of Ontario; to the five members who were appointed the day before the June elections of '94, the five who resigned to accept office, or the seventeen who were defeated at the polls and appointed to office. Will his reverence kindly tell us not what the Globe directorate thinks about it, and not what he thinks he thinks, but what he honestly and conscientiously thinks in the premises?

IMPROVED machinery will not, of itself, produce good flour.

You may be an excellent cook, but you cannot produce light, wholesome baking unless the flour you use be the kind that permits such results.

So in the milling; machinery alone cannot produce

Royal Household Flour

out of the wrong kind of wheat any more than you can make the right kind of bread or pastry out of the wrong kind of flour.

Ogilvie's Royal Household Flour is made from hard spring wheat—a wheat that is rich in nutriment, that grinds fine and white, and produces bread and pastry that are wholesome and nourishing as well as light and crisp—it's a flour that begins to be good in the wheat fields, not in the mills.

Your grocer prefers to sell you Ogilvie's Royal Household Flour because he knows the value of a pleased customer.

HOW A STENOGRAPHER CURED A DRUNKARD.

"There goes a young man who I saved from going to the dogs through drink," remarked a court stenographer. "He is a tip-top fellow, and has plenty of ability, but two or three years ago he began to let red liquor get the better of him."

"He had a good position at the time, and I don't think he exactly neglected his work, but it got to be a common thing to see him standing around barrooms in the evening about two-thirds full and talking foolishly. A few of his intimate friends took the liberty of giving him a quiet hint. As usual in such cases, he got highly indignant, and denied point-blank that he had been in the least under the influence of liquor. All the same, he kept increasing the pace until it became pretty easy to predict where he was going to land, and it was at that stage of the game that I did my great reformation act.

"I was sitting in an uptown restaurant one evening, when he came in with some fellows and took a seat without seeing me. He was just drunk enough to be talkative about his private affairs and on the impulse of the moment I pulled out my notebook and took a full shorthand report of every word he said. It was the usual maudlin talk of a boozey man and included numerous candid details of the speaker's daily life.

"Next morning I copied the whole thing neatly on the typewriter and sent it to his office. In less than an hour he came tearing to me with his eyes fairly hanging out of their sockets.

"Great heavens, Jack!" he gasped, "what is this anyhow?"

"It's the stenographic report of your monologue at—'s last evening," I replied and gave him a brief explanation.

"Did I really talk like that?" he asked faintly.

"I assure you it is an absolutely verbatim report," said I.

"He turned pale and walked out, and from that day to this he has not taken a drink. His prospects at present are splendid. All he needed was to hear himself as others heard him."

FATAL BLOOD POISONING.

A NEWSPAPER BARGAIN.

The biggest dollar's worth in the newspaper line to day is the Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal. Other large city dailies make feeble attempts to follow the big Montreal weekly, but they fall far short of it. The Family Herald and Weekly Star spares no expense to give its readers the best to be had and the result is their subscription lists are growing larger every year. The beautiful premium picture given this year with the Family Herald and Weekly Star is entitled "A Tug of War" and is certainly a gem. It is one of those pictures you see in an art store with a price of generally two or three dollars on it.

The Family Herald and Weekly Star deserves the first place in every home in Canada and combined with your own local paper it is about all you require. If you are not a reader of the big Montreal Weekly try it for 1907 and you will never regret it.

Sells More of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy than All Others Put Together.

Mr. Thos. George, a merchant at Mt. Elgin, Ontario, says: "I have had the local agency for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy ever since it was introduced into Canada, and I sell as much of it as I do of all other lines I have on my shelves put together. Of the many dozens sold under guarantee, I have not had one bottle returned. I can personally recommend this medicine as I have used it myself and given it to my children and always with the best results." For sale at Parker's Drug Store

The white bricks made by the Kennedy Co. have forced their way into the market and now it is said there is sale for all that can be made. So far as this part of the country was concerned it was a new thing to make bricks from sand and without burning. Some doubts were expressed as to the value of the bricks as building material but it is now fairly demonstrated, and next season will no doubt see them in general use. The low price of these bricks has materially lessened the cost of building and the difference between them and clay bricks will likely increase for the cost of burning the clay does not get any less. They are made of nothing but sand and lime mixed in a powdery state and subjected to heavy pressure. Ninety per cent is sand and ten per cent, lime. They are made one day and can be used for building the next day.—Toronto Junction Leader.

At the celebration of Rev. Dr. McMullen's jubilee at Woodstock, Rev. Father Cook, of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, had a seat on the platform, and was one of the speakers. In the course of his address Father Cook said that Dr. McMullen had preached the broad doctrine of the cross and the spirit of Christ. "We hope as the Lord has blessed him in the ministry He will bless him now; when he goes to his fathers, may his departure be a glorious sunset. He has been an example for all to follow, and his life has been a benediction. He has labored with an eye single to the Master's service." This was a generous tribute to a Protestant minister, and expresses exactly the relation that ought to prevail between the clergy of the Catholic and the Protestant Churches. The estrangement which generally marks the relationship of the two bodies discredit the Christian spirit, and is almost a denial of the Christian faith. It is nothing more than a scandal that Protestant and Roman Catholic alike cannot agree upon a system of religious teaching for the Public Schools, and thus keep back the tide of secularism which is fed by the differences between the Churches.—Toronto News.

Every Home Needs zam-Buk.

EXPERIENCES OF HOUSEKEEPERS WHO KEEP IT HANDY.

In every home cuts, bruises, scalds and similar injuries are sure to occur, especially where there are children. In most homes too chopped hands, chilblains, eczema, ringworm, ulcers and other skin diseases occur.

For these you need a balm which is pure, herbal, free from mineral compound, free from animal fat, antiseptic, able to stop bleeding and which should heal.

Zam-Buk meets all these requirements. Why not prove its merits. Read this:—

Mrs. Angus, of Fenelon Falls, says:—"In 40 years of housekeeping I have never met with such an excellent salve as Zam-Buk."

Mrs. Everett Brown, of Markham, (Ont.) says:—"Zam-Buk cured some bad bruises on my knee. I also find it excellent for chapped hands."

Mrs. Lizzie Gilmore, of Kingston, says:—"I had an ulcerated leg, which became so bad that I could not wear a boot. The foot and ankle were swollen to nearly double their ordinary size, and the pain was terrible. The ulcers spread in a ring all round the limb. Doctor's treatment brought no relief, and at one time it was thought only amputation could end the agony I suffered. Zam-Buk was brought to my notice, and I bought a few boxes. Each box gave me more ease and healed the ulcers. To day I am quite cured, the limb is sound, and whereas before I could not stand, now I can go up and down steps with ease. I owe it all to Zam-Buk."

Zam-Buk also cures eczema, cold sores, ringworm, stiff joints, bad leg, sore nipples, boils, abscesses, blood poison, poisoned wounds, etc. Used as an embrocation, it cures rheumatism and sciatica, and rubbed well into the chest cures lung troubles, colds, etc. For all purposes to which a household balm is put Zam-Buk will be found unequalled. All druggists sell at 50c a box, or direct from the Zam Buk Co. upon receipt of price. 6 boxes for $2.50.

In a riding not a thousand miles from Toronto (but not West York) a rich man from the city got the nomination some years ago. After the election he sent around to the stalwarts who had done the work of the campaign nice little reminders in the shape of ten-dollar bills. They weren't expecting anything and would have kept on working and sweating and cheering till the crack of doom without remuneration. But the money came and it was a pleasant surprise. The next time they worked for the same gentleman but couldn't keep their minds off the reward and were expecting it when it came. In course of time the rich man passed off the scene and the next candidate was a local man not so flush with ten-dollar bills. Well we won't carry the story any further but suffice it to say you can't get the workers to do anything in that riding now. They got the taste of money and it spoiled them for good. If that rich man had kept his money these men would have continued their interest in elections and perhaps the riding would have been kept to the party. We won't say what party the rich man belonged to but he wasn't a Tory.—Toronto Junction Leader.

In Time of Peace.

In the first months of the Russian Japan war we had a striking example of the necessity for preparation and the early advantage of those who, so to speak, "have shingled their roofs in dry weather." The virtue of preparation has made history and given to us our greatest men. The individual as well as the nation should be prepared for any emergency. Are you prepared to successfully combat the first cold you take? A cold can be cured much more quickly when treated as soon as it has been contracted and before it has become settled in the system. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its cures of colds and it should be kept at hand ready for instant use. For sale at Parker's Drug Store.
