

STRAY SHOTS FROM SOLOMON.

(The Shoe and Leather Journal.)

BITTER SWEET.

"Human nature is a queer compound." "What we have we hold," may do as a pretty sentiment upon which to hang our patriotism, but when applied to human life it is a myth. It is the ephemeral "what we haven't" that we are eternally seeking to the neglect of the substantial good that is in our fist.

Apart from whatever wisdom may be in the saying there is no doubt that much breath is wasted in the endeavor to keep fools on the right track. At the same time a man clears his own conscience when he devotes a little effort towards preventing people of the fool class running their heads against stone walls.

POULTRY HOUSES.

By W. R. Graham, B. S. A.

The poultry houses I have seen on many of the farms in Ontario are mostly of two kinds—those that are small, poorly lighted, and seldom cleaned; and those that are well built, well lighted, and frequently kept moderately clean.

The essential points in a poultry house are light, dryness and good ventilation. The houses that have been built warm and tight, with the idea of keeping the water from freezing have the objection, that in nearly all cases the ceilings and walls coat with frost during the very cold weather.

For a number of years we have been trying to find some way to overcome these difficulties. The best means of ventilating a house, that I know of, is by using cloth screens, and to keep a house perfectly dry I have found nothing better than a loft, i. e., the ceiling is covered with boards or rails which are 6 or 8' apart. The straw should be about one foot or more in depth.

The use of the curtain front is coming more into favor. Under ordinary circumstances a house needs to be 3/4 of the front of glass in order to have the pen well lighted. There should be about as much more of the front of cotton. The cotton may be put on frames which can be closed or opened according to weather conditions.

Where floors are made of cement, boards, or ground, at least four to six inches of fresh earth should be put on each year. Care should be taken to keep the floors well cleaned, otherwise the ground becomes tainted and the common epidemic among fowls, more prevalent. The ground outside the house should be ploughed or spaded once or twice a year.

All poultry houses should be white-washed and disinfected at least once a year. The present time is undesirable for whitewashing, as it is apt to leave the house entirely too damp for the coming season. It would be better done in the spring or summer.

WASTED WIND.

Giving advice to a fool is like pouring water into a sieve. You might as well try to get a nail into a rock as sense into the pates of some people. A lawyer remarked the other day that a man had come to him with a trivial case against his neighbor.

When you ask your grocer to send you the best flour, he sends you—his best. When you know the best flour and order by the name, the choice is not left to the grocer. Many grocers handle as their leader. They have found it the safest flour to recommend because its results are sure and its purity is unquestioned. If your grocer's best is not Royal Household, insist on his getting it for you. The benefit will be mutual.

Do Not Be A Burden.

Some Good Advice to Readers of the Chronicle.

A weak stomach and its resulting ills are not natural. With proper care and the use of Mi-o-na stomach tablets, the very worst case of indigestion or stomach trouble can be completely cured.

The directions for taking Mi-o-na emphasize the difference between this remedy and the ordinary medicine that is given for indigestion. Mi-o-na is to be used before meals, strengthening the digestive system for the food which is to be eaten.

We absolutely agree that your money will be refunded should you buy a 50-cent box of Mi-o-na stomach tablets and not be satisfied with the results. Mi-o-na is sold by druggists everywhere, or will be sent by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents.

A well-to-do Scotch lady one day said to her gardener, "Man, Tammas, I wonder you don't get married. You've got a nice house, and all you want to complete it is a wife. You know the first gardener that ever lived had a wife."
