Dundalk Herald: We congratulate the Durham Chronicle on the issuing of a trade edition last week, in which is photo engravings of the leading factories, business places, churches, hotels and business men. The reading matstaff and the office.

Durham Chronicle an apology for omitting last week to mention the splendid illustrated edition turned out by that office. The edition is by all odds the handsomest specimen of artistic work ever issued in Durham. RESULTS OF BLOOD POISONING. As a "half-tone" printer Bro. Irwin is hard to excel.

O. S. Advertiser: The Durham Chronicle last week issued a 16 page trade edition in which the town industries and leading citizens were well written up. The edition was an exceedingly creditable one, and the Review comes in for about half a column says: reference, indicating that the two newspapers are on harmonious terms.

The edition contained an interesting history of the town above that Zam-Buk has made for ittogether with portraits and short sketches of the leading men, manufacturing industries, schools and churches. The Chronicle is breezy up-to-date local paper and one of our most valued exchanges.

Chronicle issued an illustrated trade edition last week which is a credit to the office and the town as well. For the past few years Durham has been steadily advancing among manufacturing towns and it was fitting that it's progress should be recorded in this manner. Br'er Irwin appears to have made a special study of half tone printing, and in this case the product w as equal to any city work.

Toronto Junction Leader & Recorder: The editor of the Durham Chronic le is to be complimented on the highly successful effort in producing a Special Trade Edition, printed on fine paper and illustrated with numerous en gravings describing the history, past and present, of the progressive town Nov 7-8t. of Durham. The edition has been carefully designed and should be the means of bringing Durham location and facilities into the limelight of prominence with Canadian manufac-

Post: The Durham Chronicle published last week an industrial supplement, containing cuts of business houses and business men which was calculated to give the live town of Durham a business stimulus. Such a digression from a country paper's weekly grind lends interest, and no doubt the Chronicle's readers appreciated the enterprise of the publisher. That Brer. Irwin was able to get out so fine and excellent a number was creditable to the business men of Durham-for the venture was made purely on a business basis. The advertising value of such an issue to the town of Durham is no small item.

Meaford Mirror: The Durham Chronicle issued last week a very creditable special trades edition to mark its fortieth year of publication. It contained an interesting and well-written history of the town and its recent development, together with portraits and sketches of its leading business men, manufacturing industries, schools, churches and clergymen. Clifford Express: The industrial The Chronicle is a bright, breezy and number of the Durham Chronicle, just up-to-date newspaper, and among our issued, is cretitable to the publisher, oldest and most valued exchanges. DO YOUR EARS RING?

When they buzz and seem slightly deaf, beware of catarrhal inflammation. This grows steadily worse, but can be cured by Catarrhozone. J. A. Hammill of Greenmount, P. E. I., proved the merit of Catarrhozone and writes: "No one could have worse Catarrh than I had for years. It caused partial deafness, bad taste upset my stomach, made me sick all over. Catarrhozone cleared my nostrils, stopped the cough and gave me organs. I am absolutely cured." at any rate those who take them have Doctors say nothing is better than Catarrhozone. Examination showed that even the second and third storeys of the east and west walls had been forced a little out of line, and it was feared that very serious damage was done. An architect was summoned from Toronto. His report was reassuring, and the chief damage done will be that to the top storey, which is indeed serious enough, but not so bad as it might have been, for the contractors, Messrs. Patton and Dale, and for the Weir Wardrobe Co. While putting things to rights on Thursday a serious accident happened. One of the large girders had been broken off and lodged. While the workmen were engaged releasing it, it suddenly fell. Two of the workmen, Mr. James Allen and his son, William, were caught under it and others had a narrow escape. On being released it was found that both were severely injured. Mr. Allen had three of his ribs broken and his no risk whatever in buying Mi-o na. title. Possession at once. Good land. Must son the two bones of his forearm, and both were otherwise bruised. They were taken home, where a daughter of Mr. Allen is just recov fever, so that their case deserves peculiar sympathy. Both are reported to be doing nicely. Mt. Forest Confederate.

Remedy.

There is no other medicine manufactured that has received so much praise and so many expressions of gratitude as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is effective, and prompt relief follows its use. Grateful parents everywhere do not hesitate to testify to its merits for the benefit of others. It is a certain cure for croup and will prevent the attack if given at the first appearance of the disease. It is especially adapted to children as it is pleasant to take and contains nothing injurious. Mr. E A. Humphreys, a well known resident and clerk in the store of Mr. ,E Lock, of Alice, Cape Colony, South Africa, says: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to ward off croep and colds in my family. found it to be very satisfactory and it gives me pleasure to recommend it." A despatch from Toronto announces that Ralph Connor's new story, "The Miss Hutton spent Sunday with Doctor," has been secured by the Family Herald and Weekly Star of J. Teasdale has purchased another Montreal, for exclusive newspaper farm, the one at present occupied by publication. This is a big surprise. Such stories are seldom sold to newspapers for months after the book is issued, but the Family Herald is in a position to pay the price and land the prize. Their subscribers are to be congratulated. It is said the opening Mr. and Mrs. George Fisher attend- chapters will be published on January ed the wedging of the former's sister 2, 1907, so as to give all their supscribers ample time to renew their Miss Nancy Smith has returned subscriptions. There is plenty of evidence to show that systematic stealing of grain and fowl is going on in the neighborhood of Dundalk, and the wise farmer will take every precaution to prevent a visit of the thieves to his place. The number of complaints regarding the loss of fowl, and the quantity in each case taken, indicates that there is a large number in the combine, or there is a large quantity stored up somewhere. It may be the fowl is a clear feeling in my breathing being marketed in other towns, but an abnormal appetite for turkey. Several have lost as many as fifteen at a clip, while many more have had a smaller number taken. Just now when turkeys are bringing fourteen cents a pound and most of them are ready for market, it will be seen how serious the loss is. Oats also appear to be the favorite cereal. One man told us on Tuesday last that he had been robbed of between thirty and forty bushels, and several smaller thefts of grain are also reported. If these depredations continue it will be quite in order to put a provincial detective on the trail of the quilty parties, as there is no reason why farmers should continue to be subject to losses of this kind. The thieves will be wise if they take warning .-Dundalk Herald.

A merciful man is merciful to his beasts. We like to see our farmers when they drive into Durham on a cold stormy day, put their team in the stable and cover them with blankets. There are many however who on cold days will rush for a stove themselves and leave their horses in a cold shed. There is something may not swear, smoke nor have any bad habits but we would not want to be his horse.

This story is told by the Rev. R. W. Alexander, of North Carolina: "An old colored man stole a pig, and after getting home with the animal, knelt before retiring. His wife heard him praying to the Lord to forgive him for stealing the pig. She went to sleep with Uncle Eph still praying. Later in the night she woke up and saw her husband still kneeling in prayer. At daybreak his supplications had not ceased. "Eph, why don't you come to bed?" asked his wife. "Let me 'lone, 'Riah; de mo' I tries to 'splain to de Lord how come to steal dat pig, de wusser I gits mixed."
