AS OTHERS THINK

Everyone in Durham Has a Right to His Own Opinion.

While everyone has a right to his own opinion yet it is wise to always consider what others think and profit by their experience.

Nothing makes life so miserable, or interferes so widely with the usefulness of the average American, as indigestion, and it is well for us to give fair consideration to what others think about this remarkable affliction.

Many people, from their own experience, are positive that Mi-o-na stomach tablets are an absolute cure for indigestion and the many disagreeable symptoms that follow this disease, such as distress after eating, coated tongue, bad taste in the mouth, dizziness, fatigue, nervousness and debility.

The way Mi-o-na is sold, on a guarantee to refund the money unless it cures, shows plainly the value of this remedy. There will be no charge whatever for Mi-o-na unless you are satisfied that it has relieved you of indigestion.

Mi-o-na wakes up the stomach muscles and strengthens them so that they take care of all the food you eat in a natural healthy way, without pain or distress after meals.

Mi-o-na is sold by druggists everywhere for 50 cents, and we positively guarantee to refund your money should you purchase a box and be dissatisfied with results. Write for free sample addressing Booth's Mi-o-na, Box 977, Buffalo, N. Y.

STOP MY PAPER.

During the recent local option campaign in Durham, Editor Irwin of the Chronicle published both sides of the question very fairly, but in the issue preceding the election he announced that he would personally vote for the by-law, believing it to be in the best interests of morality to have the bars closed in the community. As a result of this honest expression of opinion two of the three hotelkeepers in the town promptly ordered him to "stop their papers". The Canadian refers to the incident merely to call attention to the narrow-mindedness of some peoples' minds, and believes Editor Irwin hit the nail squarely on the head when he told these men to stick their fingers in a pail of water, pull it out and look at the hole to get a measure of their influence.—Wiar-ton Canadian.

MRS. CHAS. GILLIES.

It is our sad duty this week to publish the death of one of the earliest pioneers of this section in the person of Mrs. Charles Gillies. He ceased to have been confined to her bed for two months, but bore her lingering illness with Christian fortitude. Her maiden name was Margaret Robb and she was born in the County Tyrone, Ireland, seventy-nine years ago, and was married there, coming to this country with her husband in 1854. They lived near Guelph for one year, and then moved to their home in Egremont, where she died. Besides her husband she leaves to mourn the loss of a kind and affectionate mother, four sons and five daughters. The funeral took place Tuesday to the Woodland Cemetery.—Representative.

Classic City Chronicles.

We had a warm spell this week which reduced the snow considerably but did not injure the sleighing in the least. The weather has been fair and cold since.

Miss Mary Wilton, of this city, returned recently from a month's visit among friends in Priceville and vicinity. She was accompanied home by Miss Elsie McLeod, of Priceville, who is visiting her many friends in Stratford. Miss W. thinks the people of Priceville are O.K., and we think so too.

Owing to the scarcity of work many families are feeling the pinch of poverty. A soup kitchen has been opened where many people are fed daily. It would serve some of the men and women right, however, if they were allowed to suffer the pangs of hunger, for during the summer when work was plenty and wages good they spent their surplus earnings in whiskey and tobacco without even a thought of laying up some "thing for a rainy day. And even at present if some of them earn 25c off they go to the tavern for beer.

I was sitting in a shoemaker's shop one evening after school when suddenly the shoemaker laughed and said: "There they go again," referring to two women who had just passed the window. He told me that those women had gone into a neighboring hotel for the fifth time that afternoon, and at the same time they were receiving aid from the city and food soup kitchen. One woman was heard exclaiming that "this is a jolly country where we get fed free."

It is a pretty tough sight to see the little children going from school to the soup kitchen for their midday meal. Here is the substance of a note one of my assistants received lately: "Please excuse if he is late for school as he has to go to the soup kitchen for his dinner to day." It makes one's blood boil with righteous anger to see poor little youngsters going around half fed and thinly clad and their great hulking, lazy louts of fathers lounging around the street corners or in the hotel puffing away at cigarettes and ostensibly looking for work but inwardly praying that nothing will turn up. Not long ago a job was found for one fellow out of work. He labored a short time and then quit, and when asked why he didn't continue he replied that the work made his shoulders ache. A few good lashes on the back would have been a tonic for him. I noticed in to-day's paper that the Council has advertised for stone, and work will be given to those who need it the most. It remains to be seen how many will apply for a job breaking stone.

An editor has a thorny path to travel. No sooner does he express his opinion on some debatable question of public importance than some of the readers of his journal get their backs up and command him to stop their papers at once. What then? In nine cases out of ten those angry, self imposed ex scribers read the paper (their neighbor's, of course) with more interest than ever. Poor fellows! they are rather to be pitied than laughed at. It is a case of cutting off one's nose to spite his face. I wonder what their feelings are like when they humbly ask some good natured citizen for the loan of "this week's paper for a few minutes?" Possibly they feel like a certain man who was out hunting one day, while he was roaming through the woods a heavy shower of rain came on. Noticing a hollow log he crawled into it and was quite comfortable. In a few hours the rain stopped and the man concluded to crawl out, but to his astonishment and horror he couldn't budge an inch. During the shower the log had become thoroughly dampened and swelled so much that it had imprisoned the unfortunate hunter. Death stared him in the face and he began, quite naturally, to take a retrospect of his life. He had been a good moral man, somewhat close fitted, but strictly honest as he thought and remembrance of this made him swell with pride thus fastening him more securely in his cylindrical cell. His thoughts then turned to the eulogistic obituary that the newspaper men would publish when the sad particulars of his tragic death became known. Suddenly he remembered that for years he had been a reader of that periodical, but had never paid a cent for the privilege he enjoyed. He had always borrowed his neighbor's paper. He was so overcome with shame and felt so small over his meanness that he was able to crawl out of the log without any difficulty.

Have you renewed your subscription to the Chronicle.

Rev. G. C. Little commenced a series of sermons on the Seven Churches in Asia referred to in the book of Revelation. The sermon on Sunday on the Church at Ephesus was an able and interesting discourse in the course of which strong lessons were taught and solemn warning given against drifting into the deplorable condition of the church which had lost its first love.

The Junior League in the Methodist church, which had been inactive for some time, was reorganized last week with officers as follows:—President, Iva Mitchell; Vice Pres., Elsie Wright; Secretary, Gladys Cornfield; Asst Sec., Hazel Thompson; Treas., Frank Patton; Or. anist, Maad Boyd.

Mrs. VanDusen had a successful sale on Friday last of stock, stable equipments and surplus household goods. R. J. Sproule was auctioneer.

The Boyd & Blakely factory which has been idle for a long time commenced work again last week. This will fill a felt want, as will also Mr. Geo. Watson's sawmill now being supplied with logs.

We were favored last week with an interesting letter from Mr. W. F. Doll, of N. W. York, who is now in South America looking after business interests there. Mr. Doll's description of the natives of that country—their customs, habits, etc.—does not lead us to be enamored with them, but his reference to the climate, fruits and flowers gives a longing to enjoy for a time that which is coming his way just now.

Prince Arthur Lodge A. F. & A. M. have had their commodious new lodge room made to look very inviting with new carpet, comfortable arm chairs for the members and other furnishings. At the regular meeting on Friday evening last three candidates for initiation passed the ballot. One of whom was made an Entered Apprentice and a brother of the Fellow Craft degree was raised to the sublime degree of Master Mason. It was midnight when labor ended.

Mr. and Mrs. John Thistlewaite entertained a few of their friends very pleasantly one evening last week.

Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Caldwell were called to Toronto last week for examination by the C. P. R. company's physicians with respect to their claim for injuries in the Caledon wreck.

Mr. M. K. Richardson spent Sunday in Owen Sound.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Haney, of Dundalk, are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Cornfield.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Ruthven, of Clarksburg, visited over Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cairns.

Miss Bella Brown left last week to visit friends at Toronto and Newmarket.

Miss Christine Richardson left on Saturday to spend a month in Toronto.

Mrs. Corbett is very ill at present with heart trouble.

Miss Annie Allen, of Toronto, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Jas. Allen, who is ill.

Mrs. Duncan Stewart, of Depot Harbor, is visiting her father, Mr. Geo. Best, who continues ill.

Mr. Ben Johnston, of Toronto, spent Sunday with friends at the Park House.

Top Cliff.

Died at her residence, South Line, Glenelg, on Saturday morning, the 18th inst., after several months of sickness borne with Christian patience, Catharine McDonald, relict of the late Rev. Robert McIntyre, at the age of 79 years. Mrs. McIntyre left her native Isle, Mull, Scotland, with her husband in the year 1853, coming to this place in July of the same year, settling on Lots 48 and 49 on the 3rd Con., S. D. R., when it was a solid wilderness. But being a woman of strong constitution she did her part in assisting her husband in clearing up the farm where she ended her days. Mrs. McIntyre experienced her own share of the troubles of this life, for she saw son- and daughters borne to their last resting place, the grave. Yet she murmured not, for she knew the Lord's will was best so yielded in humble submission to His afflictions. In religion Mrs. McIntyre was a true and faithful member of the Baptist denomination. In the days of her youth she often accompanied her husband to his preaching stations, not in fancy rigs but on foot down to Glenelg Centre and other places where he held services, some four, six and eight miles from her home in the latter part of the fifties and in the sixties. Mrs. McIntyre leaves three sons and five daughters to mourn her death, namely, Mrs. Rose Bruce; Mrs. Calker, Vancouver; Mrs. Charles Ferguson, Egremont; Kate and Minnie at home; and a grand daughter. The sons are Norman, at home; Donald, of Duluth; and James in some far off country. Two daughters died, Flora three years ago and Dorothy, the eldest of the family, last June, and Alexander 30 years ago. Robert died in Duluth some fifteen years ago, and the husband and father died in October of 1884. Mrs. McIntyre was a lady who took great delight, when in health and strength, in visiting the sick and needy. She did her duty as a Christian in administering to the bodily and spiritual needs of the sick and dying. Those dear daughters who stood by the bedside of a loving mother during her long illness have the comforting assurance to know they did their part to alleviate the suffering of a most beloved parent. Now that she is gone the home seems vacant, for what is a home without a mother. The remains were laid to rest beside her husband in Priceville cemetery on Monday, the 20th inst., notwithstanding the bad condition of the roads the funeral was largely attended. The Rev. Mr. Matheson, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Berry, preached the funeral sermon in the absence of her pastor, Rev. Mr. Kipp, of the Baptist church, Priceville.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE.

Wm. J. Bryan, on his last visit to New York, declined to answer one of a Washington correspondent's questions.

"I shouldn't know my business if I answered such a question as that," said Mr. Bryan smiling. "Every one must know his business; otherwise failure follows; and I'm sure you wouldn't want me to fail like the young salesman of fountain pens."

"There was, you know, a young fountain pen salesman, who, to his great joy, succeeded on his first trip in persuading a stationer to order five hundred pens. But all of a sudden the stationer's manner changed to the young man.

"I countermand that order," he barked, and hurried into his private office, slamming the door behind him.

"Later in the day his bookkeeper said to this stationer: " 'May I ask, sir, why you so suddenly countermanded your order for those fountain pens?' "

"The young salesman," the other answered, "booked my order in lead pencil."

BRIDE RIDES ON COW'S BACK.

Precipitated with other guests during wedding festivities through the floor of a barn at Noveury, France, Haute Savoie, the bride fell on to the back of a cow in the byre below. Before her husband could rescue her the animal broke its tether and stamped, with the bride on its back, for the open country.

Then began a pell-mell chase after the bride, who was ultimately discovered tramping through the field on her way back. She was more frightened than hurt, her greatest grief being that her mad career on the cow's back had resulted in her wedding dress being ruined.
