WORTH TAKING

One ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion; One ounce Compound Salutate; Four ounces Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla;

Mixed and taken in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime, is pronounced by a prominent physician to be the best mixture for the cure of the kidney, bladder, and all urinary troubles.

This says the doctor, is the most simple though remarkable prescription ever written to cleanse the system of impurities and waste matter. It acts as a powerful tonic to the kidneys, forcing them to filter out the acids and poisons, overcoming rheumatism, lame back, sciatica and other afflictions arising from sour, impure blood.

The ingredients can be procured at any good drug store, and being purely vegetable and entirely harmless, can easily be mixed at home.

If you have a suffering friend show this to him, as he will undoubtedly be pleased to learn of so simple and highly recommended a remedy.

GRIN.

If you're up against a bruiser and you're getting knocked about—Grin.

If you're feeling pretty groggy, and you're licked beyond a doubt—Grin.

Don't let him see you're fuming, let him know with every clout, though your face is battered to a pulp, your blooming heart is stout; Just stand upon your pins until the beggar knocks you out—And grin.

This life's a bally battle, and the same advice holds true, Of grin.

If you're up against it badly, then it's only one on you, So grin

If the future's black as thunder, don't let the people see your blue; Just cultivate a cast-iron smile of joy the whole day through; If they call you "Little Sunshine," wish that they'd no troubles too—You may—grin.

Rise up in the morning with a will that, smooth or rough,—You'll grin

Sink to sleep at midnight, and although you're feeling tough, Yet grin.

There's nothing gained by whining, and you're not that kind of stuff; You're a fighter from away back, and you won't take a rebuff; You're trouble is that you don't know when you have had enough—Don't give in.

If fate should down you, just get up and take another cuff; You may bank on it that there is no philosophy-like bluff—And grin.

—From "Songs of A Sourdough," by Robt. W. Service.

BAD STOMACH TROUBLE CURED

Having been sick for the past two years with a bad stomach trouble, a friend gave me a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They did me so much good that I bought a bottle of them and have used twelve bottles in all. To-day I am well of a bad stomach trouble.—Mrs. JOHN LOWE, Cooper, Maine. These tablets are for sale at Parker's Drug Store.

FIRE AT HOLSTEIN.

On Friday morning about nine o'clock, fire broke out in the rear of J. W. Scott's store. Orley Scott had started the fire in the millinery room stove and went to the cellar to start the furnace fire. On returning up stairs he found a furious blaze in the millinery room and ran across the street to the mill for help. The school bell was rung and in a short time quite a crowd had gathered, who, by carrying water and shoveling snow in through the windows, soon got the flames under control, but not before the millinery room and stock of millinery were destroyed. The fire did not get into the main part of the store, but the goods were damaged by smoke to a considerable extent. The loss is covered by insurance. Orley's fur-lined coat was burned full of holes, and Mr. Freeman, who just lately bought the building from the Petrie estate, was away in Toronto.—Leader.

BEAST OR ENGLISHMAN.

One of the many anecdotes related by the Duke of Argyll, former Governor General of Canada, in his new book, "Passages From the Past," tells of a baboon which escaped from a menagerie at Inverary and died by the roadside.

Two farmers found it as they wended their way homeward, after refreshing themselves at the inn.

"Deaseer me, what noo beat's yon?"

"It's no a beast—it's a man."

"A ferry hair man," said one.

The other drew near, and after an inspection from some yards away, said: "It's a man, but did ye ever see such a hairy man? It canna be a Highlander—no, no, it canna be a Highlander, do ye think it's a Lowlander, Donald?"

"Deaseer me," said the first, "I think it canna be a Highlander; I think it canna be a Lowlander. I'll tell you what we'll do. We'll just go to the Castle and see if any of the English visitors are missing since yesterday."

A PEN POINT.

The pen would not write.

"Shall I get you another, sir?" the secretary asked.

"No," said the millionaire. "I'll show you something valuable now."

And he held the pen over the lamp a moment, then dipped it in cold water, and lo—it wrote as well as when new.

"That treatment rejuvenates old pens without fail," said the millionaire. "Remember it, and it will save you money."

"Mrs. B seems as happy as a bird this afternoon. What is the news?"

"Oh, she had such a profitable day."

"Er—did she invest in the stock market or anything of the kind?"

"Oh no. You see, she rode down town without the conductor remembering to take her fare, and then found a nicker on the car floor."

SPRAYING POTATOES IS PROFITABLE

The Departmental delegates, at the annual meeting of the Farmers' Institute, held here on January 17th last, gave the farming community of this vicinity much good advice regarding the spraying of apple trees at a profit to the grower, and that this practice may be profitably conducted along other lines, the following item most conclusively proves:

"Careful potato growers can no longer doubt the advantages of spraying in blight years; but some doubt whether the practice is profitable year after year. Tests along this line have been continued for five years by the experiment station, at Geneva, N. Y., and the evidence presented. Bulletin No. 200 giving details of the fifth year's test and summaries of preceding years seems conclusive in favor of the practice. The gain each year has been profitable; and there is already much more than enough excess of gain over cost to pay for spraying five years more. Similar gains, though not quite so great, were obtained by farmers under test, carefully checked by the station and by a much larger number who sprayed independently."

HIGHWAYMEN IN HARRISTON

One night recently Joseph Foster, of Harriston, was sand bagged and robbed of a wallet containing $2,700 Mr. Foster had been in Ottawa getting the money, which was a legacy left him by a relation in England. He returned home by the evening train carrying a suit case, and when passing a lonely place he was attacked by two men and knocked down. The robbers must have in some way known that he had this large amount as they took nothing else. His watch and $12 of loose money was found in his pockets. The suit case was broken open and evidently searched.—Shelburne Economist.

The system is vitalized and strengthened and thus enabled to fight off threatened attacks. Not only does Ferrozone relieve at once—it cures rheumatism, gout and lumbago permanently. SOO' STEEL PLANT TO CLOSE

A Shortage of Pig Iron is said to be the Cause.

A despatch from Sault Ste. Marie Ont., says: In an interview with one of the officials at the offices of the steel plant on Thursday morning a newspaper correspondent was informed that the plant would be closed down at once until further notice. A shortage of pig iron is given as the cause of the shut down. It is stated that during the cessation of activities a number of repairs that are considered necessary will be made, so that, providing the plant is not closed for any length of time, little time will be lost by the men. The repairs, it is stated would soon have to be made in any event, and the closing down at the present time will be in the interests of all concerned. It is figured that the repairs contemplated will keep about 700 men employed, until the entire staff is taken on.

The blast furnaces are not affected by the shortage of pig iron and will run at their full capacity. This will assure employment for a full staff of men on the Algoma Central, as the furnaces keep the train crews busy at all times.

Everything considered, the shut down will not be a great hardship, unless the opening of the plant is prolonged further than the officials anticipate. A large percentage of men will remain at work on repairs, and the staff will be added to as circumstances warrant.

ARITHMETIC OF COLOR.

A wonderful calculating girl, Mlle. Diamandi, has just been presented to the Society of Anthropology in Paris.

In the presence of many eminent mathematicians she performed several remarkable feats, such as working out almost instantly, and by mental process only, the square of twenty-five figures, subtracting sums of twelve figures, the square root of from eight to twelve figures, and the cubic root of from six to ten figures.

Another feat of mental arithmetic she performed in less than a minute was to give the number of seconds within a period of twenty-five years.

Mlle. Diamandi, who is only twenty, and of Greek origin, says that every figure presents itself to her mind's eye in a different color. Thus, number one is always black, number two yellow, number three pink, and so on. This color vision is constant, and is entirely independent of her own volition.

DO YOU BELCH GAS?

This is a disagreeable result of food fermentation that Nerviline stops at once. Take ten drops of Nerviline in sweetened water. The stomach is warmed and soothed, digestive troubles corrected, the rising of gas ceases and you are well. When such a simple remedy does so much it's foolish to be without it. For indigestion, sour stomach, heartburn and sick headache you'll find nothing half so efficient as Polson's Nerviline. Get a 25c. bottle from your dealer to-day.

NEARLY BURNED TO DEATH.

Frankie, the one-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Fogarty in this village, had a very narrow escape from serious injury on Monday. While his mother was in another part of the house the little fellow got hold of a newspaper and stuck it in the front of a low hearth stove. The flames reached him but mother was so fortunate as to hear the first cry of pain and was there instantly. His face and arm were burned, but not deeply, and his hair was singed. It is expected he will be all right in a few days, but the parents shudder when they think of what might have happened.—Dandak Herald.

BO VRIIL OR BOVRIL.

Recently in England the mind of the public has been much exercised as to the correct pronunciation of the word "BOVRIL" the name of the well known preparation of beef. A consensus of opinion has been obtained by the proprietors of the preparation. As many as 90640 voted for "Bovril" and that seems to have been the favorite pronunciation. A Mrs. Brain of Shirehampton near Bristol secured a prize of £100, by giving the exact number of the majority of persons voting for "Bovril."

Whether pronounced "Bo-vriil" or "Bov-riil" the preparation is very acceptable at this time of year.

THEY WERE AMATEURS

On Saturday night one or more burglars of the amateur breed, broke into Mr. Bremner's store; then tried open the till but not finding any money went away without taking anything. Entrance was effected by breaking a large pane of glass in one of the rear windows. Mr. Bremner quite frequently leaves money in the till, but as luck would have it this time he had put the money in his pocket before going home; except 70 cents in coppers.—Telescope.

POOR JOHN!

A man dropped into one of the drug stores and asked for something to cure a headache. The druggist held a bottle of hartshorn to his nose, and he was nearly overpowered by its pungency. A soon as he recovered he began to rail and threatened to punch the druggist's head. "But didn't it help your headache?" asked the apothecary. "Help my headache!" gasped the man. "I haven't got any headache. It's my wife that's got the headache."

THINGS WORTH KNOWING.

Glycerine rubbed on tea stains will remove them.

Use apple sauce with roast duck, goose or turkey.

Keep a dainty white granite pan especially for saucers.

Instead of grating a pine apple run it through a meat grinder.

Do not put cold butter into a hot sauce-pan when making sauce.

To remove dust from rattan furniture, use a painter's small brush.

Corn starch, as well as any other starch, must be thoroughly cooked to be digestible.

Fish requires a slightly acid sauce; for it either lemon juice or vinegar may be used.

Curtain and portier poles allow the hangings to slip easily if rubbed with hard soap.

All meats cooked with spices will keep much longer than plain roasted or boiled meats.

Rough bottoms of heavy china dishes may be rubbed smooth with coarse sand-paper.

Orris powder sprinkled thickly on the hair at night and brushed out in the morning will remove oil and dirt.

Bags of lavender leaves placed here and there in the linen closet will give a delightful fragrance.

STOCK FOOD

It has been reported there is one opponent in business continually running down INTERNATIONAL STOCK FOOD, in order to sell what he has; and he is not satisfied with that, he has been wanting to bet with some of my customers, that I did not cure Andrew Picken two horses when they were sick. I am not in the habit of betting, but to satisfy him, if he, or any of his friends will put $250.00 in either of the editor's hands, I will put the same amount and prove that he has been telling falsehoods—the winning amount to be divided between the five churches in Durham.

"Dan Patch" 1554 the world's greatest harness horse, is fed every day on International Stock Food.

"Kelvin," who was purchased by Mr. Ambrose Wood, of Toronto for $95.00, was fed twice a day for two years on INTERNATIONAL STOCK FOOD previous to winning his first race, "The King's Plate," on May 18th, 1907, which amounted to $5,000.00. He then went to Montreal and beat all the cracker-jacks of America.

INTERNATIONAL STOCK FOOD CO., Toronto, May 20th, 1907.

DEAR SIRS,—

This is to certify that "Kelvin," winner of the King's Plate, 1907, has been fed on INTERNATIONAL STOCK FOOD twice a day for the last two years.

"Yes sir; three of the best of the plaintiff."
