Artemesia township auditors for 1907 presented their report to the council on Saturday last and from it we gather the following interesting figures:—Cash on hand Jan. 1, 1907, $4025.41; taxes, $19005.86; fines, $1.00; loans, $2500; miscellaneous, $3167.72; total, $28704.99. Expenditure—Salaries, $1070.21; stationery and printing, $210.89; law costs, $35.50; roads and bridges, $1102.59; school purposes, $1004.48; charity, $7.93; county rate, $2350.76; Board of Health, $50.00; coupons and debentures, $745.58; loans, $2547.60; election expenses, $72.00; miscellaneous, $444.43; Flesherton Police Trustees, $3334.95; Priceville Police Trustees, $149.25; balance of cash on hand, $3536.82. Over $1800 more of taxes were collected than in the previous year, which appears to be due mostly to increased expenditure on roads and bridges and for school purposes. The auditors report the assets of the township to be $7847.14 and the liabilities, mostly for debentures outstanding, $13062.28. In the Police villages of Flesherton and Priceville the receipts and expenditure were as follows: Flesherton—Receipts, $3895.35; expenditure, mostly for new cement sidewalks, $3334.95; proportion of general township expenses, $273.51; balance on hand, $286.89. The Winnipeg Free Press of Jan. 31st contains the following obituary of a lady well known here and held in high esteem by her numerous friends who regret to learn of her demise. The death of Miss Alice A. Hind, of Osborne street, aunt of Miss Ella Cora Hind, commercial editor of the Free Press, occurred this morning. For the past two years Miss Hind has been an invalid, but her final illness was of less than two days duration. Miss Hind was born in Pittsburg 69 years ago, and was brought to Toronto by her parents when only a baby in arms. When quite a young woman she assumed the responsibility of taking charge of her brother's orphan children, and to them she devoted her life. They moved to a farm near Flesherton, Ontario, remaining there and in Flesherton until 1882, in which year Miss Hind came to the West accompanied by her niece, Miss Cora Hind. She was a woman of beautiful character, and while of a retiring disposition was greatly beloved by her intimate friends. She was devoted to works of quiet and unostentatious charity and for the poor and suffering she had an abundant sympathy. For many years she took a deep interest in the Woman's Home on McDermott Avenue. Miss Hind leaves to Mourn her death, her sister, Mrs. Jacques, widow of the Rev. The Methodist Ladies' Aid met with very gratifying success at their entertainment given in the town hall on Wednesday evening of last week. The feature of the very pleasing program was the exhibition of Jerusha Dow's Family Album containing the portraits of about thirty individuals here in ye olden time dress. Many of the costumes were unique frequently causing the audience to convulse with laughter which became so infectious as in some instances to cause even the portrait to develop a broad smile during its exhibition. Miss Belle Thompson, elocutionist, Toronto, cleverly conducted the program giving humorous sketches of the characters represented some of whom were as follows:—Jerusha Dow, Miss Belle Thompson; grand mother, Mrs. W.
