WILL BAR AUTOMOBILES. Charlottetown, P. E. I., March 26 —A resolution calling for legislation to prohibit the running of automo- biles in this province was unani- mously passed in the Legislature. Members on both sides spoke on the question, the majority favoring ab- solute prohibition, others suggesting prohibition for a limited period or running under restrictions. The res- olution was moved by John Agnew, seconded by D. P. Irving, both Lib- erals. The Premier and the Opposi- tion leader spoke in favor of the measure. The action of the Legis- lature is in response to public opinion expressed by resolutions passed at many meetings in different parts of the island. There are nine automo- biles owned here.

WHICH LINIMENT IS BEST?

For muscular pains and aches a thick oily preparation can't penetrate—that's why Nerviline beats them all—it sinks right in. "I wouldn't live without Nerviline in my house," writes J. B. Cottam, of Mastown, N. S. "If you have rheumatism or soreness in the muscles or in fact any need of an honest liniment, Ner- viline fills the bill. I can recommend it highly because I have proved that in one application of Polson's Ner- viline there is more virtue than in a whole bottle of ordinary liniment." Try one of the large 25c. bottles.

WHOLE TOWN WIPED OUT, QUAKE STARTS HOLOCAUST. Chilapa, Mexico, Destroyed, But Loss of Life Unknown.

Associated Press Despatch. Mexico City March 27th.—Chilapa, a town of 15,000 inhabitants in the State of Guerrero, has been shaken by an earthquake and burned.

The shocks, two in number, oc- curred early last evening and were followed by fires, which originating in a dozen places, among the tum- bling buildings, joined in a conflagra- tion that swept the town. Only meagre facts of the disaster are known here and what has been learn- ed has dribbled in from a half dozen sources more or less authentic.

The loss of life, if any, as well as the monetary extent of the property damage is problematical, and con- tinued efforts to gauge the catastrophe had been futile to night. Telegram communication with Chilapa was severed and the town is two days by horseback from the nearest railway station. Couriers have been des- patched to Chilapa from Chilpancingo some 45 miles distant, as it is pre- sumed that messengers for relief were sent from the burned city early to day and possibly immediately fol- lowing the earthquake last night. The reports that have reached here agree that the town was destroyed by the shocks and fire and that the people fled from the place terror- stricken.

Eastern roofs are generally flat for comfort during the summer season. The roofs of houses in the east are often used as outdoor gardens. The Greeks gave the roof a slight eleva- tion in the middle. The Romans increased it to one-fifth of the span. The high pointed roofs of modern times are of German origin.

Heavy Earrings. The wearing of earrings was so general in Rome and the jewels were so heavy that there were profes- sionals known as ear healers, who tended the ears of ladies who had torn or injured the lobes with the weight of the pendants.

Hands and Feet. There is considerable difference be- tween the size of the hands and feet, and curiously enough, on opposite sides. Thus, while the right hand is generally larger, it is the left foot which is the bigger and stronger of the two. This is probably due to the fact that we stand habitually on the left foot.

Round Farthings. Round farthings were not coined until the year 1210. Before then pennies broken into four pieces made farthings.

A LITTLE HUMOR.

Years ago Mark Twain used to be fond of telling this story: At the dinner table one day there was a party of guests for whom Mark was doing his best in the way of en- tertainment. A lady turned to the daughter of the humorist, then a little girl, and said, "Your father is a very funny man."

"Yes," responded the child, "when we have company."

Time She Began. It was on a Sixth avenue surface car. A woman sat with her little daughter, who to all appearances was seven or eight years old. The con- ductor came for the fares, and the woman gave him a five cent piece.

"Is the little girl with you, mad- am?" asked the conductor. "Yes," assented the woman. "Her fare, please," said the man. "But I never have paid for her," began the woman.

"And does that prove that you're never going to?" asked the conductor, taking the fare reluctantly tendered.

Genius Defined. Professor of Polite Literature and High Art—Now, young gentlemen, can any of you give me a good defini- tion of genius? Beloved Disciple—Genius, sir, is an unlimited capacity for taking—er—what belongs to oth- ers.—Sydney (N. S. W.) Bulletin.

Ambiguous. Lady (to nurse)—Have you had any children of your own? Nurse—None to speak of, madam. "The most elegant speech I ever heard contained only four words," said Sociologist Snodgrass. "Ginger Magonnigle had brought his best gavel to the Grand Civic Ball of East Side Gentlemen's Sons of Terpsichorean Coteries, ticket admitting lady and gent, including hat check, fifty cents. The gowl, fascinated by a better waltzer, abandoned her escort and danced three times with the stranger. As they were beginning their fourth waltz they were stopped by the hand of Ginger Magonnigle, which clutched the arm of the gowl. Gazing deep into her eyes, and with a voice in which were mingled sur- prise, self pity, reproach, resentment and menace, he exclaimed: "Sa-a-y, who brung yer?"

It was Washington's birthday, and the minister was making a patriotic speech to the children of the second- ary grade. "Now, children," he said, "when I arose this morning the flags were waving and the houses were draped with bunting. What was that done for?" "Washington's birthday," answered a youngster.

"Yes," said the minister, "but last month I, too, had a birthday, but no flags were flying that day, and you did not even know I had a birthday. Why was that?" "Because," said an urchin, "Wash- ington never told a lie."

The late Lord Coleridge was once addressing an audience of Varsity men at Oxford, and in the course of his remarks said: "We must remember not merely the beauty of the individual colleges, but the beauty of Oxford as a whole. And what a whole it is!" "Hear, hear!" yelled the audience; "yes, yes, what a hole!—what a beastly hole!"

Then it struck Lord Coleridge that this was a thing he would much rather have expressed differently.

The Spendthrift Version. "You know that old saying," be- gan Kwoter, "Take care of the pen- nies and"— "And," interrupted Gailey, "the dollars will take care of your heirs."

An Agreement. Parishioner (a little the worse for liquor)—I hearth you preach las' night. New Mini-ter—You didn't hear much, I fancy. Parishioner—Thaz what—hic—I thought myself.—Leslie's Weekly.

One to Three at Whist. The late Senator Hoar was ex- tremely fond of whist, which he played with remarkable skill. A friend says that the only time he ever knew the usually placid and genial man from Massachusetts to be absolutely impatient was when on one occasion at whist the senator had an unusually stupid partner. Not- withstanding this handicap, the pair were winning right along even against good players.

In the middle of one game some one panned behind the senator's chair and asked, "Well, senator, how are you getting on?" "Very well, indeed," was the reply. "in view of the fact that I have three adversaries."

"Ladies and gentlemen" is the phrase In years of three hundred and sixty five days, But nineteen hundred and eight is when The ladies are after the gentlemen.

Spring Fever.

The catalogues are coming in, With lovely lists of flowers and seeds And pictured squashes, beets and peas, But not one word about the weeds. They look so brilliant and so gay That scores of disappointed men Make up their minds, when spring arrives, To go to gardening again.

How strange it is, when fall has come And everything has turned out wrong, The gardener feels so much inclined To sell his garden for a song. Bot when springtime comes, and all The catalogues appear, why then The man who always failed decides To go to gardening again.

—Somerville Journal.

EUREKA! Yes, I Have Found it at Last. Found what? Why that Chamber- lain's Salve cures eczema and all manner of itching of the skin. I have been afflicted for many years with skin disease. I had to get up three or four times every night and wash with cold water to allay the terrible itching, but since using this salve in December, 1905, the itching has stopped and has not troubled me. —ELDER JOHN T. ONGLEY, Rootville, Pa. For sale at Parker's Drug Store.

How He Liked Married Life. Governor Vardaman, of Mississippi, tells of a colored citizen of that state who gave a justice of the peace a big fat possum as a wedding fee. A year after the justice on meeting the darky asked: "Joe, how do you like married life?" "Well, sah," answered Joe rueful- ly, "all I kin say is I wish I had eat that possum."

Wanted Sport. Some years ago Jude's was a noted concert hall in Dublin, and late in the evening the fun was generally fast and furious. A young Englishman bent on see- ing life went there one evening, but expressed himself disappointed with the slowness of the place to a Hibernian friend he met there. "Would you really like to see a row?" said Pat. "Yes," said the Englishman.

Pat filled a tumbler with cold water and threw it across the table into the face, saying "Now, hit the man next to you, and we'll have some grand sport."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Burglary in the Future. "Curse me luck!" nissed the burg- lar and fled into the night. Bear in mind, if you please, that all crime was now disease merely, and all disease the work of germs. The burglar perceived in the cellar window where he tried to enter one of the latest electric automatic spray- ing devices and endeavored to avoid it. But fortune was against him. A click in the dark, and almost be- fore he knew it he was drenched with germicide and cured of his malady.—Detroit Journal.

Bully for Harold. We are delighted to see by the Norwood Register that "Mr. Harold Howson has returned from Toronto after completing a course in under- taking in all its branches." We presume from this that the people of Norwood bury their dead in trees, after Indian fashion. It would be a stiff examination that Harold passed, anyway, and he is to be congratulated on his esprit de corpse. The Eye- Opener predicts a bright future for Harold.—Calgary Eye Opener.

Two men were talking about a friend and his motor-car. "He seems to be very well satisfied with it," remarked one. "Hasn't paid a coppr in repairs all the nine months he's had it, he tells me." "Yes," replied the other. "I heard the same story from the fellow who's done all the repair."—T. B. Bits, Lon- don

A young woman in Philadelphia but recently married was enjoying the delightful novelty of marketing one morning shortly after the termi- nation of the honeymoon. "I wish to get some butter, please," said she to the dealer. "Roll butter, mum," asked the man. "No," promptly replied his cus- tomer; "we wish to eat it on toast, My husband doesn't care for rolls."

Something on the Way. The McJones family were moving to another town. Mr. McJones had gone ahead to get the new home in order, and Mrs. McJones was to fol- low with the family's goods and chattels. When she was ready to start Mrs. McJones, remembering her Scriptures, wired her husband as follows: "Lares and penates on board boat Will arrive to-morrow morning." But when the telegram got to her husband it was in these terms: "Lard and peanuts on board boat. Will arrive to-morrow morning."—Success Magazine.

HOME-MADE MEDICINE

Said to Relieve Kidney Trouble and Rheumatism

One ounce Fluid Extract Dan- lion; One ounce Compound Salato- ne; Four ounces Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla; Mixed and taken in teaspoonful doses after meals and at bedtime, is stated by a prominent physician to give most excellent results in kidney or urinary affilitions, and also in rheumatism and sciatica. The mixture opens the clogged pores of the kidneys, thus assisting them in their work of filtering all waste and poison- ous matter from the blood, and expels these in the urine. To allow this poisonous matter to remain means that it will settle in the muscular tissues or joints, and cause the untold misery known as rheumatism. The mixture is composed of harm- less vegetable ingredients which can be purchased at any good drug store, and mixed at home. Anyone suffering from any of these affilitions will no doubt be pleased to learn of so simple and highly recom- mended remedy.
