most alarming, and some doubts entertained as to whether or not the attack would prove fatal, the CHRONICLE is pleased to inform its readers that the doctor is now doing as well as can be expected under the circumstances, and will, in probably a month or six weeks, be sufficiently recovered to again resume his duties here.

TRAVEL BROADENS THE MIND

Ye Editor went to Arthur on Friday last and visited with Rev. and Mrs. Smith over Sunday. The Rev. Gentleman and his good lady are finishing up the fourth year of their labors amongst the people of that prosperous village, and they have evidently warmed their way into the affections of the citizens generally and the members of their own congregation in particular. Just as their home was always open here to everybody who felt disposed to walk in and spend a social hour, so is their home in their present charge, and many visitors and callers find their way to the parsonage.
 The village has a population of 1200 according to the last municipal census which has just been completed. Of the total population about thirty-seven per cent. are Roman Catholics, and the others are classed as Methodists, Presbyterians, Anglicans, Mormons and Jews, there being two of the last named religious denomination. The Roman Catholics have a fine church property, including a convent and a separate school with three teachers. The Methodist church is a magnificent stone building for a place of so small a population. It was erected a number of years ago at a cost of $14000 and is, we understand, wholly out of debt. The auditorium is beautifully finished, both as regards architecture, workmanship and the stipping and fresco work, which give it a very attractive and pleasing appearance. The choir loft is in the rear of the pulpit, and the choir consists of a number of well trained singers. The ladies of the choir appear in white waists and without any hats. This, we think, is a good feature, and if the hatless worshipper were more common in the audience it would do no great harm. They have a large enclosed shed for horses, erected at a cost of nearly $2000. The Presbyterians and Anglicans have also good church buildings, but the place in which the Mormons or Latter Days Saints assemble for worship is somewhat older in its style.
 In addition to the Separate School already referred to, there are a High School and a Public School, each having three teachers, thus the village is well provided with churches and schools, and business is said to be good.
 They have one printing office, two lawyers, two banks, a couple of dentists, one or two doctors, and we presume a sufficient number of undertakers. The electric light is furnished from Grand Valley, and is much like our own. It was out Saturday night when it was most needed. The people are quite sociable, and Ye bashful editor soon felt at home.
 Mr. and Mrs. Smith wish to be remembered kindly to everybody. They have received a number of invitations for the next three years, but will likely go to Paisley, unless otherwise directed by the Conference to be held shortly.

THE death of Toronto on Sunday last of Mr. Chas. Lindsey, removes from active life a man who for many years was Canada's greatest journalist. Mr. Lindsey was close on 90 years of age and is survived by a widow, two sons and one daughter. Mrs. Lindsey was a daughter of the noted William Lyon MacKenzie of rebellion fame.
 At a meeting of Westminster congregation, Mount Forest, held on Thursday of last week a call was extended to the Rev. Wm. Cooper, of Port Perry in the Presbytery of White. Mr. Cooper is a graduate of Knox College of class 1914 and has been settled in Port Perry for nine years. It is to be hoped that he will see his way to accept the call which is harmonious and hearty.
 WE most congratulate Mr. Wm. Reid, of Kilsyth, who joined the band of Benedicts on the 11th of March last, a little over a month ago. The groom is well known in this town and vicinity, and it will be admitted he had reached a marriageable age. The bride was Miss Mary Hawks. Thanks for renewal subscription, and coupling with our thanks we wish you may long live and enjoy your good home.

WE are informed that a Government Inspector was in town Tuesday and examined the prospective sites for the new armory. His report will be made to the Government and readers will be advised later of the result. According to the Edge deed to the town, with a street of 132 feet leading back to the market, there is no room at the market for an armory or anything without going back to the rear lot, which is nearly all boggy.

WILLIAM BRITTON, a young Englishman who owes his existence for the past seven weeks to the fact that Mrs. Chas. McArthur took him in and fed him, repaid that lady on Monday last by skipping out and taking with him a sixty dollar watch, the property of Mr. McArthur. Chief Carson located the young man's "grip" at Mount Forest, and left on the morning train to hunt for the miscreant, capturing him at the home of the English church minister, with whom he was taking dinner. His trial comes off to-day.

A MEETING of the Durham Baseball Clubs has been called for Wednesday evening next in Calder's Hall for the purpose of re-organizing for the coming summer. With the success of last season, in which the six teams of the town aroused the enthusiasm of the whole community, there should be a rousing meeting and plenty of business done. Mayor Calder has kindly let the boys have the use of the hall for the occasion free of charge, and the management cordially invites the attendance of all who are in any way interested in the sports of Durham this coming summer. With lacrosse laid on the shelf for one year at least a successful season of good baseball is anticipated. Come and show your interest in the matter.

THE sessional indemnity for members of the Legislature is to be raised from $600 to $700. Last year it was raised from $500 to $600.

THE Mount Forest Confederate man had dreams the other night and amongst the collection there appeared the following in last week's issue:—"A little bird whispers that an effort will be made to induce Reeve Hastie, will be made to enter the lists against Egremont in South Grey at the Dr. Jamieson election. From all we approaching at this end we feel sure have heard at this end we feel sure Mr. Hastie would be a very popular candidate, and would undertake the contest with excellent prospects of success. We have no inkling so far as to Mr. Hastie's own mind in the matter. The name of Mr. D. McQueen, Egremont is also mentioned as a very eligible candidate."

NEARLY a year ago a young lad named Norman Dass, a grandson of Mrs. Sutherland, of this place, had a narrow escape from drowning near McKee's dam. He and some comrade were taking their first plunge in the Saugeen, when Dass got beyond his depth, and, being unable to swim, was wholly incapable of helping himself. His struggles were becoming weaker every second, when at this juncture Charlie Harbottle pulled off his clothes, swam through the icy waters and brought the drowning boy to shore. The nearly lifeless boy was by this time black in the face, and but for the timely appearance of Baker for the time worked the water out of the boy, who would have died. The incident was brought to the attention of Constable Clark, who notified the Mayor, with the object of having the matter laid before the proper authorities and had a medal for Harbottle. The matter is now nearly forgotten, but on Friday evening a well-known citizen stopped the Chronicle man on the street and jogged his memory, saying he thought it was not right to let the matter pass so gently by. Evidently such a small matter slipped the Mayor's mind, but we would like to see him get busy and show to the town in general and Charlie Harbottle in particular, that acts of heroism are appreciated. It won't cost the town publicity.

THE worst part of the winter is now over, and though there is plenty of snow yet on some of the country roads a few more days of warm weather will put the roads in first-class condition.
 "KING HATS" are self conforming just where the hat touches the head. This feature makes them fit the head naturally. The new spring styles have arrived.—The House of Quality, H. H. Mockler.
 In all future contracts with mail-carriers, the carrier is to be prohibited from carrying intoxicating liquor. A violation of this order will result in the immediate cancellation of the contract.
 GENTLEMEN—Don't forget where to come for anything in the line of clothing. We are bound to satisfy you and are in a position to cater to the most fastidious. The largest variety of patterns in Durham to choose from.—J. A. Glass, Tailor.
 We regret to learn that Mr. Arthur Weir is somewhat run down in health and feels obliged to give up his position as teacher of S. S. No. 3, Glenelg. Arthur was a bright student while at school here, and gets the name of being a hard working teacher. We hope he will soon be all right again.
 In a speech delivered before the Legislative Assembly on Friday evening last, Hon. Mr. Hanna scored the present immigration laws, declaring that the foreign-born are fast filling Ontario's asylums and goals. Of the 1162 patients admitted to the asylums in 1907, 346 or 30 per cent. were foreign-born, while in the goals, the percentage is 38. The situation has surely reached an alarming stage, and with the present figures to work from, it is little wonder that the Canadian government is placing additional restrictions on the influx of undesirables.

WE are in receipt of a letter from Mr. Lyman Caldwell, of the North-west Mounted Police who is now stationed at Fort Churchill, Hudson's Bay. In part he says,—"The half-yearly mail came in from civilization on Feb. 14th. I got no less than fifteen Chronicles, dated all the way from last July, and I enjoyed every bit of them. It was the first news of the outside world I had since July '07." Lyman seems to be enjoying himself up in that far-off country, and is prospering. At least he sent us three dollars for this old rag of freedom saying he couldn't do without it, and that must indicate something. Thanks, Lyman, and may you be spared to send us many more of the same denomination.

ALTHOUGH this paper does not advocate the taking of the law into their own hands by residents in general, the antics of some idiots on the front streets is enough to make the ordinary individual purchase a shooting iron or two and make targets of these class of cattle. On Friday evening last about seven o'clock the Chronicle man observed a couple of diabolical trying to lead each other home from the pub, and their conduct was enough to turn even their own associates against them. These natives of Sunny Italy, who have been with us since the construction of the new railway was started, together with the Slavs, Hungarians and Austrians, and a few home-bred boys, have, as a general thing had too much of their own way, and it is time the performance was put a stop to. No molestation of ladies has as yet taken place, though we are informed that on more than one occasion these semi of the earth have made advances that are not at all to their own or town's credit. It is set in motion and if a class of this kind can't navigate our streets without whooping and howling like Commanche Indians, they should be placed where decent people won't be forced to listen to them. This is the opinion of those who viewed the show in company with the Chronicle man last Friday evening, and, needless to say, our thoughts run somewhat in the same direction. Do we hear any objections? If so, speak out, and we'll be pleased to give them publicity.
