A. G. MacKay's Bluff Called.

Unmitigate bluff is all that the poise being put up by Mr. A. G. MacKay, the leader of the opposition with regard to the redistribution act can honestly be termed. When he chooses to characterize the equitable re-arrangement of the constituencies a gerry-mander he revives memories of the real gerry-mander of the Mowat government, in which a most deliberate carving of North Grey to get rid of a too vigorous critic, was a most notable instance. And the carving had to be done three times before the desired object was attained and the entering of Mr. MacKay into politics made possible. Even with the gerry-mander Mr. MacKay had to have the assistance of the notorious election crooks to assist him—first by the number nine St. Vincent street and afterward by the five dollar donation in envelopes—the revelations of which forever stamp Mr. MacKay as profiting by the operations of the Ross gang, which stopped at nothing to debauch the electorate. Has he changed since? It may do to talk gerry-mander and insinuate improper motives outside where the facts are not so well known, the bluff may be put up even in North Grey—but it will be called. In justification of the present re-arrangement of Ontario constituencies, Premier Whitney gave the following facts showing what the so-called Liberal governments have done in the past to gerry-mander this province:—The popular vote in the Ontario election in 1883 was Liberal 127,804, Conservative 120,941, giving a Conservative majority of 3137. This vote resulted in the election of 46 Liberals and 36 Conservatives, or a Liberal majority of 10. Then Sir Oliver Mowat redistributed the province, changing the boundaries of about 40 constituencies, and in the election of 1886 the popular vote was Liberal 153,121, Conservative 162,990, or a Conservative majority of 9869 but the standing in the Legislature in 1886 was 59 Liberals and 9 Conservatives, giving a Liberal majority of 30. Thus, in spite of the fact that the popular vote of the Conservatives had more than trebled the result of the redistribution was that the Liberal majority in the Legislature was trebled. A noisy bluff about so equitable an arrangement as that which Premier Whitney has made, will not go down in North Grey or any other place where Mr. MacKay has figured on or off a political platform.

THE BATTLE ON.

(Toronto News.) The Leader of the Opposition and the Liberal press have begun an active and spirited attack on the Whitney Government. This was to be expected and only good can come from a full discussion of Provincial affairs. But any careful examination of the Liberal programme shows a remarkable scarcity of campaign material.

Does any independent journal or any independent citizen seriously believe that the interests of the Province would be well served by the defeat of the Government? Its record may not be perfect. We do not expect perfection in human institutions. But is it not true that in the efficiency of its administration, in the honesty of its electoral methods, in the great bulk of progressive legislation which has been passed during the last three or four years the whole record constitutes the best chapter in the legislative history of the Province?

It is nothing short of ridiculous to describe the Government as the servant of corporations. If ever a Government in this country set the public interest above corporate or capitalist interests it is that which now holds office in Queen's Park. Mr. MacKay and his mouthpieces show a positive hardihood when they attack the guarantee of Canadian Northern bonds if we remember that the Opposition did not divide the Legislature on the proposal. A proposition which thus had their practical and unanimous support in the Assembly will hardly prove a profitable asset in the constituencies. The dodge is too transparent to deceive a kindergarten. The Liberal campaign at least should preserve the appearance of consistency and gravity. Besides, at worst the guarantee improves the Provincial mortgage and assures railway extensions in the northern country which are necessary to the development of its resources and which its people have a clear right to demand.

So the Government's power policy to day is exactly the policy which commanded the enthusiastic support of the Liberal press and the whole Opposition, down to the eve of the campaign. The Government undertook to supply power at a certain price at Niagara and to guarantee the bonds of the municipalities. From this policy it has not deviated in any particular. It has kept absolute faith with the municipalities. The Liberal press and the Opposition in the Legislature understood thoroughly the position of the Electrical Development Company, but when The News urged the Government to purchase the plant and control the source of supply it received not one word of aid or comfort from these Liberal agencies. When the opportunity had passed and there was a chance to make party capital, they turned on the Administration, which, on the whole question, had been consistent and straightforward, and denounced Ministers for not taking a course from which Liberal sympathy and support were determinedly and ostentatiously withheld.

It is true that expenditure has been increased. It is also true that revenues are more abundant. But the money has gone to improve the schools, to strengthen the university, to aid agriculture, to assist, refashion and humanize hospitals and public institutions, to help in developing the northern country whence so much of our revenue comes, and generally to relieve the municipalities and increase the efficiency of the public services. There has been no waste or jobbery. Hardly a single item of the appropriations is made the subject of direct attack. There has been no disposition to use public money or public works to influence bye-elections. No organized gang of corruptionists, trained at headquarters, has gone out to the ends of the Province to bribe, personate and rifle ballot boxes. The Minnie M. lies in harbor. There has been a policeman in the Attorney General's Department. The redistribution, notwithstanding the virulence with which it is attacked, in the main but redresses old wrongs and grievances, and equalizes conditions between the two parties. The whole Province believes in the integrity and public spirit of the First Minister. No one doubts that the Government has made some mistakes, both in policy and in practice. But upon the whole its work has been notably efficient and distinguished for courage and fidelity to the public interest. Its virtues so vastly outweigh its faults that it is impossible to think that the Province will refuse the renewal of confidence to which it is undubitably entitled

IN A BREATH THERE'S REST.

Breathe Hyomei and be cured of Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma.

Nature has a remedy for catarrh, epidemic colds and bronchitis that is far better than dosing the stomach with medicine and drugs.

It is the healing oils and balsams of Hyomei which medicate the air you breathe, reaching the most remote air cells in the nose, throat and lungs, killing all catarrhal germs and restoring health to the mucous membrane.

Hyomei acts like a curative internal air bath, and has the same healing and antiseptic effect as the air where the Pine and Eucalyptic forests give off their fragrant and healing balsams.

Breathe the healing Hyomei and see how quickly you will get relief from catarrh and head colds. If it does not help you there will not be a penny's expense, as MacFarlane & Co. agree to refund the money. The complete outfit costs only $1.00.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Old horseshoes find a ready market in China. One steamer alone, last November, brought 300 tons of this scrap iron from Hamburg. Chinese iron dealers buy the horseshoes and sell them to knife and tool manufacturers all over the province of Changhai. It is claimed by the Chinese that the temper of this class of iron makes it the best obtainable for knives and cutlery and also good for other tools. The reason ascribed for this is that the constant beating the shoes has received under the feet of horses has given them a peculiar temper absolutely unobtainable in any other way, and that tools made from them are superior to all others

An apparatus by which a propeller or shaft on a lake steamer may be repaired without going to drydock has been completed by the Niagara Navigation Company. It is in the form of a caisson, made of wood on a steel frame and shaped to fit with a rubber joint against the hull of the boat. The caisson is 12 feet deep by sixteen wide, and large enough for ten or twelve workmen. The method of using the caisson is to float them to the stern of the vessel, then sink them by admitting water, and draw them under the keel by chains. The water is then pumped out. The shaft and wheel of the vessel are admitted to the enclosure by an opening in the forward part of the caisson. Water is prevented from getting back in the enclosure by a rubber joint. The two caissons weigh six tons.

SUNDAY SALE OF REFRESHMENTS.

What is Lawful and What is not—Decision of the High Court of Ontario by Mr. Justice Clute.

Readers will remember that about a year ago Judge Morson, the junior of the three County Judges of York, Ontario, reversed a conviction by Magistrate Kingsford against John Devins, a restaurant keeper, for selling on Sundays candies, peanuts and other eatable articles to be carried off the premises.

It was pointed out to the public at the time that this judgment was going to result in an immense increase in Sunday business, inasmuch as it implied, if it did not declare, that any man holding a restaurant license, and doing a restaurant business, might also carry on a confectionery business, a fruit business, a grocery business, and a business in all sorts of eatable articles, and could sell freely any or all classes of these things on Sunday, over the counter, to be carried away and used as the purchaser might desire. It was evident that large numbers of shop keepers and their employees were going to be deprived of their Sunday rest and other privileges if this interpretation of the law were to remain unchallenged. The matter was therefore brought to the attention of the Attorney General of Ontario, the Hon. J. J. Foy, and, recognizing the serious import of the Judgment, he requested Magistrate Kingsford to grant a "Stated Case," and requested County Crown Attorney H. L. Drayton, K. C., to take charge of the case in its preparation, and in its argument before the High Court. The case was duly granted, and came before Mr Justice Clute of the High Court on Friday, 10th April. The case was known as "The King vs. Weatheral." Weatheral held a restaurant license and did business at Toronto Island, selling refreshments of various kinds, and among other things he sold on Sunday, 9th June, 1907, candies, popcorn, peanuts and soft drinks.

The questions submitted to the Court were as follows:

1. "Does the mere fact that Weatheral holds a license as restaurant keeper enable the said Weatheral to sell on the Lord's Day candies, popcorn, peanuts and soft drinks, notwithstanding the Statute (Lord's Day Act)."

To this question Mr. Justice Clute replied "No." Unlike some judgments, this does not lack in clearness.

2. "Can a bona fide restaurant keeper sell candies, popcorn, peanuts or other commodities not in connection with any meals served on the premises but done up so as to be taken away by the purchaser on the Lord's Day."

To this Mr. Justice Clute replied "I take this question to mean that the articles there referred to are sold not in connection with the giving of meals served on the premises, but in the ordinary way of business as a merchant, so as to be taken away by the purchaser. Taking this to be the meaning of the question, I answer again 'No.'"

There was a third question as to whether the Restaurant License that Weatheral holds from the City prohibits him making such sales on Sunday in itself apart from the Lord's Day Act. The Judge gives substantially the same answer to this question as to the other two.

This judgment makes it clear, therefore, without equivocation, and beyond peradventure, that even a bona fide restaurant keeper, who holds a license and is running an eating house under that license, is not entitled to sell on Sunday anything excepting what is purchased and consumed as a meal. Articles of food may not, therefore, be sold on Sunday under any circumstances to be carried off the premises unconsumed, but must be consumed in the restaurant at the table or lunch counter as a meal.

It is important to observe that this judgment is binding upon all Magistrates and Division or County Court Judges throughout the Province of Ontario, and for that matter will be followed by Magistrates and Trial Court Judges throughout the Dominion. It is well that this judgment be given prominence in the press everywhere so that restaurant keepers may not, unawares, during the coming season, commit violations of the Lord's Day Act and lay themselves liable to its heavy penalties. The public generally will recognize also the reasonableness of the law in this regard. It is proper that the hungry should have the right of going to a restaurant and satisfying their hunger. No one will contend however, that this necessitates or would justify general business in the sale of articles of food to be carried away, which, if it were allowed, would result in depriving large numbers of shop keepers and their employees of their Sunday rights and privileges.

Smash Up

Last Thursday morning as Robert Wells, of East Wawanosh, was leaving town, driving one horse and leading another, after having had the colt shed, while crossing the C. P. R. track the colt became playful and got its foot caught in the buggy wheel. In freeing the animal the other horse branched and the buggy striking the bridge and the shafts were broken besides other damage. It was a narrow escape. The horses belong to James Marshall, with whom Mr. Wells is employed.—Blyth Standard.
