SAYS THIS IS BEST
 A leading health journal in answering the question, "What is the best prescription to clean and purify the blood?" prints in a recent issue the following:
 Fluid Extract Dandelion one ounce;
 Compound S. latone, one ounce;
 Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, four ounces.
 Shake well and use in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime.
 A well-known physician states that these are harmless vegetable ingredients, which can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy.
 This mixture will clean the blood of all impurities. In just a few days the skin begins to clear of sores, boils and pimples. It puts vigor and energy into run-down debilitated men and women. For many years Sarsaparilla alone has been considered a good blood medicine. But while it built up and made new blood, the impurities remained within and the good accomplished was only temporary. Sarsaparilla, however, when used in combination with Compound Salatone and Extract Dandelion, works wonders. This combination puts the kidneys to work to filter and sift out the waste matter, uric acid, and other impurities that cause disease. It makes new blood and relieves rheumatism and lame back and bladder troubles.

A LITTLE HUMOR.
At The Dinner Table.
 He sat at the dinner table
 With a discolored frown;
 The potatoes and steak were underdone
 And the bread was baked too brown;
 The pie was heavy, the pudding too
 sweet,
 And the meat was much too fat;
 The soup so greasy, too, and salt,
 'Twas hardly fit for the cat.
 "I wish you could taste the bread and pie
 I've seen my mother make;
 They are something like, and 'twould
 do you good
 Just to look at a slice of her cake."
 Said the smiling wife: "I'll improve with age—
 Just now I'm but a beginner;
 But your mother has come to visit us,
 And to-day she cooked the dinner.

He Got the Job.
 He called at the house and asked if she had any carpets to beat, adding that he had been in the business for over twenty years.
 "How much to beat that parlor carpet?" she asked.
 "Four shillings."
 "Why, that's awful! There was a man here yesterday who offered to do the job for 2 shillings."
 "Exactly, madam, but how was he prepared?"
 "He had a stick in his hand."
 "I presume so. He intended to take the carpet out on a vacant piece of land, didn't he?"
 "Yes, our yard is too small, you know."
 Exactly. That is a tapestry brussels carpet. It is badly worn. He would make a great show in getting it out and in here. Out on the piece of land he would give your name to every one who asked who the carpet belonged to. Is that the way to do a job of this sort?
 "I take the carpet out through the back yard. I wheel it home. I beat it in a yard surrounded by a high board fence, and while I am returning it, all nice y rolled up and covered with a cloth, if any one asks me what I have I reply that it is a velvet carpet for 224 Blank street. If no one asks any questions I call at the houses on either side of you and ask if they have just ordered a new wilton. They watch me and see me come in here."
 He was given the job.—Pearson's.

A Busy Ten Dollar Bill.
 Mr. Brown keeps a boarding house.
 Round the table sat his wife, Mrs.
 Andrews the village milliner, Mr.
 Black, the baker; Mr. Jordan, a carpenter; and Mr. Hadley, a flour, feed and lumber merchant. Mr. Brown took ten dollars out of his pocket and handed it to Mrs. Brown with the remark that there was $10 toward the $20 he promised her. Mrs. Brown, handed the bill to Mrs. Andrews, the milliner, saying, "That pays for my new bonnet." Mrs. Andrews in turn turned passed it to Mr. Jordan, remarking it would pay for the carpenter work he had done for her. Mr.
 Jordan then handed it to Mr. Hadley, requesting his receipted bill for flour, feed and lumber. Mr. Hadley gave the bill back to Mr. Brown, saying that pays $10 on my board. Mr.
 Brown again passed it to Mrs.
 Brown, saying that he had now paid $20 he had promised. She in turn paid Mr. Black to settle her bread and pastry account. Mr. Black handed it to Mr. Hadley, asking credit for the amount on his flour bill. Mr.
 Hadley again handed it to Mr.
 Brown with the remark that it settled for the month's board, whereupon Mr. Brown put it back in his pocket, observing that he had not supposed that a few dollars would go back so far. But suppose Mrs.
 Brown had sent to a mail order house for her bonnet, then the $20 would have gone out of town and never come back. The moral: Spend your money at home.

The Office Towel
 A New York man was talking about Opie Reid the brilliant author and journalist.
 "Reid, you know," he said
 "founded the Arkansas Traveller.
 He edited that excellent paper for ten years or more, and made a great success of it."
 "They say that in the spring of 1885, a reporter for the Traveller died. He was a fine young chap. A visitor to the office, the day after the funeral, found the editor and his staff talking about his loss disconsolately.
 "It has been a sad loss friends,"
 the visitor said. "A sad loss indeed, He sighed and looked about the room.
 "And I am pleased to see," he went on, "that you commemorate the melancholy event by hanging up crape."
 "Opie Reid frowned
 "Crape?" he said. "Where do you see any crape?"
 "Over there," said the visitor pointing.
 "Crape be darned," said Reid,
 "that isn't crape. It's the office towel."

My Neighbor.
 I'd thrash my neighbor; yes I would
 Without the least compunction.
 I can't obey—nobody could—
 The scriptural injunction.
 In summer he is up at dawn,
 Like dumb and driven cattle,
 And then proceeds to mow his lawn
 And wake me with the rattle.
 In winter he will leave the snow
 Upon his sidewalk drifted
 Not once this season that I know,
 Has he a shovel lifted.
 If I adopt an injured tone,
 Of course I have some showing;
 For he maintains a gramophone.
 And nightly gets it going.
 He throws things in the alley till
 It's littered like the dickens,
 And though I've kicked like sin he will
 Not house his pesky chickens.
 He is a most unpleasant man,
 To be polite I labor,
 But I am sure I never can
 Sincerely love my neighbor.—Ex.

A Busy Family.
 "Say, bub," said the book agent as he drew up at the gate of a house in a country town on which was swinging a barefooted boy. "Is your pa around?"
 "Nope. Pa's out breakin' in a colt." Was the reply.
 "Could I see your ma?"
 "Nope. Ma's jest took a walk to break in a new pair of shoes."
 "Is your big sister at home?"
 "Nope. Pete Lawson fell, over town, an' busted his leg, an' she's gone over to break the news to his ma."
 "Maybe I could see one of your sisters?"
 "Nope. The other's gone to town to break a ten-dollar bill."
 "Well, I guess I'll have to talk to your big brother, the. Will you call him, please?"
 "Can't. He's breakin' stone up at the county jail."
 "Your folks seem to be pretty well occupied," smiled the book agent.
 "Maybe I could interest you in a big book bargain?"
 "Not me, mister," replied the boy,
 "That feller comin' over the hill called me squint-eyed yesterday, an' I'll soon be so busy breakin' his head that I won't have no time talking to you."—Judge.

Try This Once.
 Get up on the right side of the bed!
 Say good morning on the right side of your mouth!
 Go to the open window and breathe
 deeply twenty times!
 Take a tepid or cold bath, sponge,
 tub, shower or creek!
 Drink some water!
 Work a little while!
 Eat your breakfast!
 Do just the best you can until ten o'clock!
 And then do just the best you can
 the rest of the day!
 Be thankful for the good you have!
 As for the rest, forget it!

 It's "The Merry Widow" kiss,
 And "The Merry Widow" hat.
 It's "The Merry Widow" craze,
 And "The Merry Widow" dance;
 It's "The Merry Widow" plays,
 And "The Merry Widow" glance.
 It's "The Merry Widow" dinner,
 And "The Merry Widow" waltz;
 It's "The Merry Widow" sinner,
 And "The Merry Widow" faults.
 I've a "Merry Widow" auto car,
 With a "Merry Widow" toot,
 And a friend whose wife has sued him—
 'Tis a "Merry Widow" suit.
 And if I die to-morrow,
 Why, let them play real loud
 "The Merry Widow" waltz song
 For the "Merry Widow" crowd.
