THE following account of the death of Mr. John H. Hughes, of Normanby, we clip from the Hanover Post. Mr. Hughes was a cousin of the Hughes family of this place. Many were shocked to hear on Monday of the much lamented death of John H. Hughes, of Normanby. It was known that he had not been well for a month, but owing to his prime of life and correct habits, the best hopes were entertained of his recovery. But on Saturday his condition turned suddenly for the worst, and did not rally, but on Sunday night became unconscious and passed peacefully away Monday morning at eight o'clock. The cause of his death was paralysis, and came upon him and his family with every sense of surprise and sorrow. Mr. Hughes was of the very best type of Canadian manhood and citizenship. He attended to his business on the farm with that intelligence and industry which insured success. He was a model farmer and an excellent neighbor. His character and his position were such that few were held in higher esteem or made more lasting friends. Though of quiet and humble nature, yet he won his way because of his pure and honest heart. None were more regularly at church, or support-d more gladly every good cause, and when he passed away he belonged to the session of St. Andrew's church of town, and last year held in addition the Chairmanship of the Managing Board. Four years ago he was married to Miss Hattie Wingham, who survives him with two little children. By a former marriage one little girl about ten years old also remains. These, together with the very large number of relatives and friends, have the deepest sympathy from the community."

THE road scraper was out on Monday last and our front streets present a much more respectable appearance than formerly. Someone is mean enough to insinuate that the three worst mud-holes were in front of Alex McLachlin's, Pascoe Saunders' and the CHRONICLE office, and that the "Armory Clay" found in front of these hives of industry nearly stalled the machine.

AN Irish M. P. was denouncing the measure taken by an opponent in a proposal that was before the House of Lords. Argument waxed keen, and the Irishman, in his earnestness and anxiety to carry his point, convulsed the House with this hopelessly mixed metaphor. "My lord," he said, addressing the chair: "I smell a rat. I see it floating in the air; but, Mr. Speaker, I'll nip it in the bud."

MESSRS. Lenahan and McIntosh have started the addition to their store on Garafraza street, which will add another forty feet to their already spacious place of business. On the lot south of the CHRONICLE office will also be erected a modern residence of at least two storeys by the same firm. Excavating and preparation for the foundation and brickwork has already begun, and the work is to be put through as quickly as possible.

THE Mail and Empire, Toronto, with its usual characteristic energy and progressive enterprise, is prepared to meet the extraordinary demand for political information that the Election Campaign for a new Ontario Legislature will develop between now and June 8th, and will send the daily edition direct by mail to any address in Canada, the United States and Great Britain from now until June 13th, 1908, for 25 cents, or five such subscriptions for $1.00. This is an offer which will enable anyone to keep in touch with every phase and feature of the contest during its progress to the end, so all desirous of so doing are requested to leave their order with this office of this paper, and they will receive The Mail and Empire during the above period direct by mail to their own post office.

On Saturday evening last, Mr. Norman Walpole, Liveryman, had quite a thrilling experience when returning from Owen Sound. He was driving his splendid team of blacks, and, as there was a brisk southerly wind, was making use of his umbrella in keeping off the cold rain that was then falling. This latter article, in a measure, prevented his seeing altogether what was taking place, and when a pole bolt came out he did not notice the occurrence until the doubletrees dropped on the horses' heels. The sudden jerk by the team broke the other bolt and they started to run, hauling Mr. Walpole and the umbrella over the dashboard into the mud. The lines slipped from his grasp and the team ran off, but were afterwards captured a couple of miles from the scene of the accident. Norman is none the worse for his experience, but the team was slightly injured, though beyond a couple of minutes' excitement and the inconvenience in getting home, no serious damage was done.

MR. MORREN, Harry Burnett's new tailor and cutter, has a "John J. Mitchell" diploma from the New York Cutters' Association. This is a guarantee of excellence in the tailoring line which you should not overlook when ordering your next suit.

A LETTER received from Port Arthur Hospital to Mrs. Redford announces her brother, William Lynn, who is in attendance there, to be in a very critical condition. It was first thought his trouble was appendicitis, but investigation reveals some other form of ailment.

On Tuesday evening, May 12th, Mr. J. M. Kearns, President of the Canadian Lacrosse Association, will deliver a lecture entitled "Around the World with a Lacrosse Stick" in the Methodist church, under the auspices of the Epworth League. A good program is also being provided. Admission 10c and 15c.

HONEST competition we admire. What does a gentleman admire most—a good fitting garment. Where can you go to find out if you don't know? Go to the man who has a thoroughly practical experience. Where is that?—Why! Mr. Glass! He has cut in the leading cities in the Dominion and can make anything you want in the art of tailoring, whether for ladies or gentlemen. You will be treated right by J. A. Glass, Tailor and Draper.

It is rumored around town that Durham is to have another bank. The Toronto World of Saturday says:—"A deputation from Durham yesterday waited on the Traders' Bank directors for the purpose of having that bank establish a branch in Durham to take the place of the defunct Sovereign Bank. The deputation also put in a strong plea to have J. C. Telford, late manager of the Sovereign Bank in Durham, appointed manager of the new branch. While no definite answer was obtained, it is likely Mr. Telford will be appointed."

MARKED PROGRESS.

The Annual Vestry Meeting of Trinity Church, Durham, showed progress in every department of the church's work. The financial part of the work was most gratifying, showing a large increase in each account. The general account, in the general subscriptions were one hundred and seventy-five dollars in advance of last year, and much more than that even over the year ending at Easter '06. The W. A. M. A. has had a remarkable year and from present indications the year ending in December '08 will greatly exceed the past year. Much more has been given to objects outside of the parish than ever in the history of the church, the amount being something over $275. The Mite Society too in its quiet way is doing good work, the funds of which are used for any work around the church that the members deem necessary. This year the Society put cocoa matting all through the church, which cost $26.00.

The Vestry Meeting of St. Paul's Church, Egremont was very satisfactory to the members, considering the large amount of money that was met in the building of the new church. The church is paid for and there is a balance in the Treasury. The ladies with the autograph quilt surpassed the highest expectations that the most liberal minded person could have. The proceeds of which will amount close to the $200 mark.

OBITUARY.

MRS. ANDREW MCLIVRIDE. After an illness lasting only a little over a week, Mrs. Andrew McIlvrive passed peacefully away at the home of her son, Mr. Donald McIlvrive, on the old homestead in Normanby.

The deceased lady was one of Normanby's oldest and best known settlers, and the news of her death was received with many expressions of regret by her friends in this vicinity. Known far and near for her many acts of kindness and her cheerful disposition, she had endeared herself to old and young alike, and when the news was passed that she was no more, a cloud of sorrow hung over more than one home who knew her as an acquaintance only.

Born in Paisley Block, Ontario, nearly seventy-five years ago, she lived her girlhood days at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dunn, and at the age of twenty-two was joined in marriage to Mr. Andrew McIlvrive, who predeceased her some seven years ago. In the year 1855, shortly after their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. McIlvrive came up to these parts and settled in Normanby township, which was then practically unsettled. By virtue of their economy and a strict attention to business, they accumulated a fair share of this world's goods, and though their younger years were passed in the midst of great privation and hardships their declining years were happily spent in the knowledge that their early thrift had left them with a competence sufficient to supply their every need.

To the union, twelve children were born, one of whom died at the age of eight, and the other in his teens. Of the remaining ten, six sons as follows: James, of Egremont; William and Andrew, Alberta; Alexander, of Victoria, B. C.; Peter, of Rapid City, Man., and Donald, on the homestead, and four daughters, Flora (Mrs. Ross), of Kinloss; Margaret (Mrs. Charles Gray), of Wapella, Sask.; Grace (Mrs. Noble), of Guelph; and Jessie, (Mrs. Lane), of Brandon, Manitoba, survive.

Mrs. McIlvrive was in her usual health up till two weeks ago last Saturday, when she came to town. On her return home she was taken ill, and had to take to her bed, gradually sinking, till death relieved her on Thursday last.

To the surviving friends and relatives the CHRONICLE extends the sympathy of the community.

CEMENT NEWS.

The switch from the main line of the C. P. R. into the cement works is now completed and it is expected delivery of the finished products will soon be made over that line. Mr. Oborn, Superintendent of the Middle Division is expected to be in town this week to make arrangements for hauling the output.

This week may see the utilizing of the marl from the recently acquired lake at Hanover, as the switch is completed, and, so far as the cement company is concerned, everything is in readiness, for its use.
