Hazen Jackson Acquitted.

Hazen Jackson, of Cargill, appeared before Judge Barrett here on Friday charged with threatening to murder his sister in law, Mrs. Ethel Jackson wife of Godred Jackson, and to do actual bodily harm to his father, Thos. Jackson, and the whole Jackson family. Hazen pleaded guilty to the charge, but as the threat was uttered verbally it did not constitute a criminal offence and hence all the jurisdiction the court had over Jackson was to bind him over to keep the peace. Had the threat, however. been made in writing it would have been a much more serious affair and under the statutes would have been regarded as a punishable crime. The fact also that Jackson was under the influence of liquor when the threat was made and when sober repented of his words, was a feature that made MacFarlane & Co. have so much the court lenient towards him. We have not learned the result of the race, but it looked like a draw to our reporter. Later-The runaway was captured, but not by the manager. To Mr. Baines belonged that honor.
