No Honing—
No Grinding

You know from daily experience, at home or in the barber shop, that the question is—"Why doesn't a razor hold its edge uniformly from heel to head without honing and grinding?" Whether it is a safety, with the certain tax of new blades, or the ordinary open-bladed razor does not alter the question. You want the comfort and satisfaction of a clean, smooth shave every morning with the confident knowledge that your razor will be ready for instant use the next time needed.

The Carbo Magnetic razor is the only razor unconditionally guaranteed to do this.
Thirty years of study on the razor situation has perfected a new secret process of ELECTRIC TEMPERING that positively merges every particle of carbon (the life of steel) into the metal—giving a diamond-like hardness uniformly throughout the blade—something absolutely impossible with fire tempered steel—used in making all other razors.

But test this razor in your own home—or if you prefer, have your barber use it on you.
Give us your name.
Call and see the "Carbo Magnetic" razor, and we will state our proposition for testing these razors without obligation on your part to purchase, together with our free booklet "Hints on Shaving." This book illustrates the correct razor position for shaving every part of the face.

Criticizes Escape of Private Moir.

The Hamilton Spectator has the following:

"Moir, the London murderer, is still at large, and if he is as smart as the Barron murder, or any one of perhaps half a dozen other life takers who have operated in Ontario during the past dozen years, chances are he will remain at large.

"It is not to the credit of either the provincial detective force or the county constabulary of this province that such things should be. It does the province no good.

"If the London murderer is not caught there should be a prompt shaking up among the dry bones in police department generally, and among the ranks of the county constabulary in particular. There can be no legitimate excuse offered either for the escape of Moir or for failure to capture him after he once got away. It is high time someone was called to account.

"Time was when the police organization of Ontario, from the provincial department down the line to the back township policeman, had a fame for daring and successful law enforcement. It is not so to-day, and the duty rests with the attorney-general's department primarily to find out why and apply the necessary remedy."

Help is Scarce.

The following, from the London Free Press will be of interest to many in denial of the many recent reports regarding the scarcity of labor:—"A great deal of hay is being sold on the local market this week, although the price has fallen a little of late, first-class hay now selling for $12 50 to $13 50 per ton.

Although seeding is now in progress, and it is a busy time for the farmers, they are anxious to sell their remaining supply of hay and make room in their barns for the approaching harvest.

The cold weather is keeping the crops behind a little, but despite this the farmers predict a good crop.
They are, however, handicapped by lack of labor. Almost all the farmers are after a competent man. They are able to employ English immigrants, but while these will be of use later in the year, many of them know little or nothing about ploughing and are of little use at present.
High wages are being offered by the farmers for experienced men, but even so they are unable to obtain the help they desire. This is causing some anxiety, as last year considerable quantities of hay were spoiled by being allowed to lie in the field too long through lack of help to bring it in"

TO DISCIPLINE METHODISTS.

The dancing problem continues to give the Methodist church a heap of trouble. Says the Toronto Globe of Tuesday:—"The first part of the entertainment given recently in Massey Hall under the auspices of the Methodist Social Union is going to come before the Toronto Methodist Conference at its next meeting, according to the statements of some of those who were present at the entertainment in question. The piece which gave rise to so much comment was a dance by a number of young girls.
The evident intention was to represent spring, and the lilies danced in good style, even to some small extent doing kicking. This part of the program was not called dancing, but it was dancing, and of a refined character, showing that the girls had been trained with a great deal of care, and that the rehearsals must have been frequent to secure the rhythm and the exactitude of motion such a dance required. It should be said that there was not the slightest vulgarity or anything which those who love refined or artistic dancing could raise the slightest objection to, but in view of the debates at recent Conferences of the church and of the rule in the Methodist Church relative to dancing, there will no doubt be a much more definite declaration on the subject at the coming Conference, and it is also likely that the officers of the Social Union will themselves take steps to make a declaration on the subject. Many of the Methodist ministers say they did not see the affair, and it is understood that a layman will raise the question and will move that either such performances be cut out of entertainments given under the auspices of any department of Church work or that the law forbidding dancing be struck out of the Methodist Discipline book.

There is probably no medicine made that is relied upon with more implicit confidence than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. During the third of a century in which it has been in use, people have learned that it is the one remedy that never fails. When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take. For sale at Park-

Intended for last week.

Miss Elsie Petty, who is studying for a First Class Certificate, returned to Owen Sound Saturday, the 25th inst., after spending the Easter holidays at home and with friends in the vicinity.

Miss L. Hopkins, teacher, Muskoka, arrived home on Good Friday and returned Saturday after spending the holidays with her parents and visiting friends in Durham and Vickers. We are sorry Miss L. is absent now.

Mr. Robt. Webber, Sr., is ventering his residence with brick and making it look very cosy.

The Sunday School, which has been closed during the winter months, reopens the 10th of May at the usual hour, 3 p.m.

While Miss A. Lawrence, teacher in Blyth school, was home in the Easter holidays, she entertained a number of friends one evening.
Among those present was Miss H.
Lawrence, teacher, Muskoka. Miss A. has also purchased a new bicycle.

Miss M. Effie Hutton, High School student, Durham, Mrs. Sutherland, Stratford, Miss M. J. Hutton, Toronto, and Miss E. Chadwick, Durham, were the guests of Miss C. H. Hutton recently.

We are glad to be able to report that Mr. Campbell Milligan is improving. Hope to see him home again soon and as well as ever.

Our burg is pleased to have Miss S.
Noble home.

The people of this vicinity are delighted to have one married gentleman that is willing to help in the church work. Not long ago he was collecting missionary money. The person we refer to is Mr. John Cuff.

The Misses B. and M. Petty spent Sunday with Mrs. E. Vollett, Varney.

Mr. B. Owns, Edge Hill, is engaged with Mr. John Picken.

Mr. and Mrs. John Medcalf, Lam-lash, visited with the latter's parent, Mr. George Cuff, lately.

Mrs. Chas. Lawrence spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Noble, Durham.

WHY SERMONS ARE SLEEPY.

This well-known explanation that the stiffness of the atmosphere in a church is the cause of sleepiness in members of the congregation is, according to the Revue Scientifique (Paris), "insufficient" If this hypothesis were tenable, argues our authority, it is manifest that the congregation, or those members of it who react readily to a soporific agent, would go to sleep before the sermon began. Now it is notorious that the sleeping is done during the sermon.
The true explanation is that the auditor unconsciously hypnotizes himself or herself by concentrating the gaze for a long period on a single object, whether the countenance of the preacher or the pulpit or what not.
The more desperate the effort to heed the sermon the surer the effect of self-hypnotization. Those who sleep during the sermon are consequently the very members of a congregation who are entitled to the highest praise for their conscientious effort to follow the words of the preacher.

During the preliminary portion of the church services, the point of attention constantly changes. It is the sermon alone that, with the head and body remaining in one position and with the eye self-hypnotized by resting on the bright space of a window or the preacher's lighted face or some other source of illumination in the pulpit or the body of the church, drowsiness creeps over the devout.
The character of the discourse, or even the murmurous sound of the preacher's voice in delivering it does not seem to effect the result in the slightest degree.

The only cure for this difficulty is inattention. The eye should wander from time to time during the sermon over the church, taking in the forms and faces of other persons in the congregation. The wisest clergyman, of course, is he who bids his hearers relax from time to time the attention with which they follow his words. That will keep the congregation awake, if anything can.

Elbert Hubbard says he was nearing the end of a lecture before one thousand attentive inmates of a state insane asylum, when an old woman came screaming down the aisle:

"My, I can't stand this nonsense any longer."

"That," said the superintendent to Mr. Hubbard, "is the first sign she has shown of returning sanity."—
