My Hair is Scraggly

Do you like it? Then why be contented with it? Have to be? Oh, no! Just put on Ayer's Hair Vigor and have long, thick hair; soft, even hair. But first of all, stop your hair from coming out. Save what you have. Ayer's Hair Vigor will not disappoint you. It feeds the hair-bulbs; makes weak hair strong.

Not Afraid of Assassins.
President Benjamin Harrison used to ramble around Washington at night by himself. Colonel Dan Ransdell, a lifelong friend of the great Indian, was President Harrison's marshal of the District of Columbia and kept in very close touch with the president all through his term. Colonel Ransdell lived north of Dupont circle, quite a mile and a half from the White House. He ceased to be surprised by the unexpected and unannounced visits made to him by the president at various hours of the night after General Harrison's first few months in the White House. Once when Colonel Ransdell remonstrated with him against venturing out at night unaccompanied, admonishing him of the danger of assassination. General Harrison said: "An assassin cannot be dodged, Dan. I am as safe from harm on that score while walking from the White House to your residence after dark and alone as I am when receiving callers or going about the city in the daytime under the watchful eyes of detectives and policemen. The assassin always gets his prey when once he makes up his mind to do so. But I have no fear of assassination, least of all am I afraid of being assaulted in a dark street at night."—Washington Herald.

Ideals and Acts.
Ideals are more potent than acts. Let a millionaire give £10,000 to a hospital. The public is for the moment struck, but who save the institution itself remembers the gift next day? Let a "leader of society" start a charity bazaar. Let her gather a little court around her. Let the stall holders be visions of beauty, their coloring perhaps just a trifle "assisted," and under their spell let the buying be brisk and a great financial success be scored. The masses will read the account in their newspapers with wondering admiration, but they will find there no wholesome stimulus for themselves, since the motive of the brilliant function was rooted in display. In charity, as elsewhere, it is, I repeat, not the action, but the spirit of the agent, that permanently tells.—Montague Crackanthorpe in Fortnightly Review.

His Happy Home.
His salary was £250 a year, and he had just proposed to Miss Clare Lighthead and been accepted, and they were both exquisitely happy until she said: "And you don't know how lovely our home will be, George. It shall be a place of rest and joy and comfort! I'll ring the housekeeper up every morning and"

"The housekeeper?"
"Yes, yes, dear. Now, don't interrupt, you naughty boy. I'll tell the housekeeper to tell the cook to"

"The cook?"
"Of course, and I do hope we can get a French cook. And I'd like the parlor maid to"

"The parlor maid?"
"Yes, yes, I'd like a brisk, tidy, rosy checked girl. I don't care so much about the housemaid."

"Why, my darling, I'm afraid!"
"Now, now, you bad old boy, you must let your little girl have her own way when it comes to the house servants. You can engage the butler if you like, and of course you'll get the coachman, but when it comes to the laundress and seamstress and—why, George, what a dreadfully long face you have! I don't like it!"

It looked longer as he sat in his 10 by 12 room an hour later trying to "figure out" how the wages of the cook and housekeeper and butler and all the rest of them were to be paid on £5 per week. He hasn't calculated it yet.—London Mail.

Games Akin to Golf.
It is probable that the little boy in the street who calls a hockey stick a golf club is only speaking the truth a few centuries too late. There are many reasons to believe that the Scotch game of golf, sometimes called bandy ball in the old accounts of it, developed into hockey with a flavor of football about it when it came south, and this is borne out by an old fifteenth century print of two bandy ball players in which the stick used, called bandy because bent, resembled a hockey stick far more than a golf club. The Gentleman's Magazine in 1795 also mentions shinty as a Scotch game similar to golf, and another writer defines shinty as "an inferior kind of golf played by young people and in London called hockey."—London Standard.

An Ideal Place

in Which to Trade

We want our customers to be pleased when they make a purchase, and just as pleased with the article as long as it is in use; otherwise we are not fulfilling our ambition to make this the ideal store.

We make mistakes, of that we are well aware, but we are only mortal, and we constantly aim to avoid errors and friction. Your co-operation is desired, and any information or advice our customers can give will be appreciated. If you have anything disagree to say about us, say it to us.

Look at, and get our prices on floor oils, linoleums, before buying elsewhere.

We have a full line of the newest muslins such as delaines etc., at prices from 12½c to 45c per yard.

Bargains in dress goods. Black dress goods $1.25 for 69c. Black dress goods $1.00 for 49c per yard. Colored venetians 60c for 39c. Tweed mixtures 75c for 37½c. 12½c prints for 8c yard.

South Grey Fall Fair

Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 22nd and 23rd, 1908

Rules and Regulations.

1. The subscription of one dollar to be paid on or before the first day of September, entitles to membership. Anyone giving a special prize of two dollars or over will be entitled to Complimentary Ticket.
2. One dollar on all prizes to be retained by the Society as next year's subscription.
3. Animals or articles exhibited must be the property of the exhibitor.
4. Manufactures exhibited must have been made in 1907 and must be owned by exhibitor.
5. All produce must be the growth of the current year, excepting buckwheat and clover seed, and must have been grown by the exhibitor.
6. Evidence must be adduced of all brood animals exhibited having bred within the last twelve months.
7. Each animal must be provided with a chain or rope and be placed on the show grounds among those of its class. Evidence of pedigree of stock being thoroughbred will be required.
8. Animals must have attached to them a number by which to designate them, and those under three years must have their ages affixed to them so as to be readily seen by the judges.
9. Produce and domestic manufactures must be delivered to the persons appointed to take charge of the show rooms at or before ten o'clock a.m., on the 22nd, and placed in their respective classes under their direction.
10. While the directors will take every possible precaution under the circumstances to secure the safety of the articles sent to the exhibition, the owners themselves must take the risk of exhibiting, and should any article be accidentally injured, lost or stolen, the Directors will give all assistance in their power towards the recovery but they will not make any payment for the value thereof.
11. All stock and farm implements must be on the grounds at eleven o'clock a.m. on Wednesday, September 23rd, except poultry, which must be on the grounds by 10 o'clock a.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 22nd, be judged in the afternoon and remain on exhibition until 4.30 o'clock p.m. of the second day of the show.
12. No article exhibited shall be removed before 4.30 o'clock of the second day of the show, when exhibitors must produce their check to the constables in charge, before getting possession of their exhibits.
13. Non-residents of South Grey shall not be entitled to make more than two entries in any class, with the exception of live stock.
14. No person shall be allowed to interfere with the judges while in discharge of their duties. Exhibitors so interfering will forfeit their rights to any premium to which they might otherwise be entitled.
15. No person shall be a judge in any class in which he is an exhibitor.
16. Exhibitors will be required to bring forward their stock when called by the judges, as no animal will be judged unless so brought forward. Working horses to be shown attached to a wagon. Carriage horses must be attached to a vehicle.
17. Exhibitors or others will not be allowed to handle or interfere with articles on exhibition. When entered they must be considered in the hands of and under the entire control of the Society.
18. No more than one premium in one section of any class will be awarded to any exhibitor, or paid if awarded; except in classes of live stock and poultry.
19. Any person showing the same animal at the same show as competing for two different prizes, or defrauding or attempting to defraud the Society, shall be deprived of any premium whatever at the same show, and be expelled from the Society. (This clause will be strictly enforced.)
20. Upon the discovery of any fraud, deception or dishonest practice, either in the preparation, ownership or entry of any article or animal in the class to which it does not rightly belong, or any representation concerning any article exhibited which may affect or may have been intended to affect the decision of the judges, the Board shall have power to withhold the payment of any prize awarded, and may prohibit any such party or parties exhibiting in any class for one or more years, and may publish the name of such parties or not, as may be deemed most expedient.
21. Judges may use their own discretion as to awarding a first, second or third premium, and in all cases where they do not think the animal or article worthy they may withhold premium.
22. In all cases of doubt or difficulty that may arise before making their awards, the judges shall submit the matter to one of the Directors and the President or two or more Directors shall finally settle the same.
23. Distinguishing Badges—1st prize, red; 2nd, blue; 3rd, green.
24. All entries must be made on or before Monday, 21st September. All entries made on the days of Show will be charged 5 cts. each.
25. Judges are requested to report themselves to the Secretary on their arrival and proceed to their duties at 1 p.m. on the 22nd, and 12 o'clock on September 23rd.
26. Prizes not called for by December 31st will be regarded as forfeited to the Society.
27. The Secretary will be prepared to receive entries on or after 2nd September, by mail or otherwise, and exhibitors are requested to send lists between that date and the 21st.
28. A charge of twenty-five cents will be made to all persons, not being members, for admittance to the grounds; vehicles 25 cents extra; members will be admitted by badge; children 10 cts.
29. No person shall conduct or carry on any gambling, theatrical, circus, or mountebank performance, exhibitions or shows on or within three hundred yards of exhibition grounds. Nor shall any person, without the consent and permission of the Directors, carry on any traffic in fruit, goods, wares or merchandise on the exhibition grounds or within three hundred yards thereof.
30. The Treasurer will commence payment of premiums on Monday, October 5th, and persons having premiums awarded them may call on that day or leave written orders for the money.
Exhibitors' names not to be put on articles until judged.

WE had a most interesting session with Mr. W. Johnston S. C. R., I. O. F. organizer, County, on his return from Saturday night last. Mr. has been organizer for this of the above Society since last year ago, and in travel place to place has had opportunities to investigate the different hostilities through county. Of all the places he ed he believes the Queen Meaford, to stand first in action and strict enforcement License Law, and says that the most noticeable feature establishment is the closing at the time set by law. The appointed hour the bar closed and the liquor traffic the next opening time. Mr. is of the opinion that if a hotels complied with the James A. Morrison, proprietor Queen's Hotel at Meaford, tions for the abolishment of throughout the country unnecessary and useless, Mr. is a nephew of Mr. James of this place.
