CORRESPONDENCE.

Corner Concerns.

Intended for last week.

Mrs. Elizabeth Sharpe must have had a somewhat unpleasant experience during the heavy storm of last week, being alone in the house while lightning knocked off a chimney, splintered some of the joists, broke holes in partitions and walls, and somewhat damaged the stove.

Mr. Samuel Patterson, Jr., is building a stone addition to his dwelling house. He has good material, and as Mr. Timmins, of Eborvale, and Mr. Menah, of the Crow's Nest, have the contract, he is sure of a good job. Mr. Frank Grasby has undertaken the job of wheeling stones and mortar to them.

Mrs. Haas, an esteemed old resident of this part, passed over to the great majority on Sunday, and interment will take place to-day (Tuesday). She had always been a retiring, very inoffensive woman, and leaves two sons similarly known to mourn her loss.

Mrs. Catherine Baird, who was on the sick list for the past two weeks, has so far recovered as to be considering taking a trip west with her daughter, Agnes, when she returns to her home in Winnipeg.

The fine showers of last week have put the crops in a very prosperous looking condition, and it also put many farmers in a position to carry on mixed farming, as it washed potatoes, corn, turnips, etc., into the meadow land or among the grain.

The Barbour brothers are putting a bent to their barn. Mr. Jim Eden has the contract, which insures them a good job. Crop prospects are causing many additions to be made. There was a similar addition put to Mr. Samuel Patterson's barn last week, raised on Wednesday, and this Tuesday Mr. Wm. Hunter is having a raising.

The road grader was brought into use this year in our neighborhood, and has removed all doubts about its being a paying investment for the township. The grading that would use up all the labor in a beat can be done very neatly with it, and so quick that there is plenty of time left to give it a good coat of gravel and make a finished job of it, whereas by the old way it would have to lie a mud hole until some other pathmaster was appointed who felt sufficiently interested in that particular piece to complete it.

School closes this Tuesday, and our teacher, Miss Aljoe, goes on a trip through Uncle Sam's domains to spend her holidays, and we all wish her the best of recreation after her year of faithful work. Miss Jennie Irwin, of No. 12, goes to her home near Paisley, and as she is a much valued member of our S. S. staff, it tries to the utmost the Christian fortitude of the school not to begrudge her the long midsummer holidays.

Mr. Tommy Allan is home from his teaching duties. He is now experienced in the business, and is of full age, and ready for any school in the Province.

Statute labor is about all done and the roads are in the best of condition. Automobiles go skitting along as if it was cement pavement, and the huge gravel pit we dug out to make them good is a splendid refuge for teams when one of those inanimate carriages is in sight, so you see we have some consolation for our hard work.

Mrs. J. H. Sharpe spent a day or two last week visiting the Wilson family at Swinton Park. Mrs. Wm. McFadden is also spending a few days with her daughter of the same place.

My Hutton Hill correspondent is worrying away yet over that box social. She should try to get forgiveness for that sin and get it off her conscience. We believe if she would honestly admit the wrong, and ask pardon in a right spirit, she would be acquitted immediately, and have a chance to give her full attention to doing something better, and in time have a wealth of good works to her credit, whereas, if she goes on as she is doing, in eighty years from now, though she should live to be a hundred years old, she will be up against eternity with nothing to her credit save an effort to justify herself in holding pie socials. But those Hutton Hill people seem too stiff-necked to ask for anything, even God's blessing on their table at picnics or other social affairs.

It was with feelings of sorrow that this neighborhood learned of the sudden death of Mrs. Wm. Brown, of Orchard. The social intercourse and intimacy of the family with the people of this part places her in the light of an esteemed neighbor, as well as one of the pioneers of our township. The funeral, which takes place this Tuesday, is sure to be a very large one. We voice the true sentiments of this place in extending sympathies to sorrowing friends.

Our school picnic, held in Johnston's bush on Friday, was blessed with the many good things that go to make a success of such affairs. The weather, crowd, programme, eatables, and baseball match were all good numbers. Rev. A. A. Bice was chairman, and Mr. Wm. Allan was the speaker of the occasion. Miss Clara Aljoe, teacher, with her pupils gave the major part of the programme, and her skill in training and good influence over them were both strongly in evidence. The programme consisted of singing by the school, and also by Earl Howard and Maggie Mead; recitations were given by Myrtle Allan, Bertie Pollock and Earl Mead. The baseball match between our boys and Poplar Hill resulted in a slight victory for the visitors, the score being, we think, 8-11. While our boys would be above making excuses for defeat, it is only fair to say for them that they had scarcely organized as a team yet, and had played no previous games this year. Mr. Mountain made a very impartial referee.

Mr. John Vessie has purchased a traction engine and will also buy an up to date separator to again engage in the threshing business. He has been like a fish out of water since he sold his other outfit five years ago.

Some people complain of pathmasters covering the old Garafax gravel road with clay until it will soon not be known as gravel road. The affair cost the township $40,000 a few years ago, and it is going to be an expensive funeral to have it buried so soon.

The new wire fence erected on two sides of the school grounds looks well and its various improvements on the other fences is readily noticeable all who see it. Mr. Blythe, the builder will have but little trouble securing contracts around here.

We wish to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nichol Jr. on the important step in life of Wednesday last. We can hardly say whether they really being to our division or that of the Crow, but the popularity of the happy groom extends well over both and we all wish the happy couple a long and prosperous life.

Miss Maggie Moore, of Toronto, Perm, Ontario, visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Moore, at Thistle.

Progressive Wm. Brown, down at Henry's Corners, is adding a new addition to his house and re-modeling the old one; thus making things more comfortable and lifelike.

Mr. and Mrs. McRae, of Pricerville, visited at Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Watson's on Sunday.

Councillor Weir was down this way last week and let a few good road jobs.

Miss May Aljoe, of Toronto, is at present brightening the parental home here.

Our L. O. L. No. 1192, have decided to spend the glorious 12th of July this year at Dundalk. A great vacancy will be made in its ranks owing to the illness of Mr. Wm. Ritchie, who has always been a devoted member of the lodge and since the infancy of old 1192 has always been zealous and enthusiastic in his efforts for the uplifting of the noble order. He is sadly missed at present, but it is the earnest and sincere hope of all that he will very soon be able to resume the vacant chair in his lodge room here as cheerfully and as energetically as ever.

Mr. Abraham Crutchley has been adding to the improvements of his tidily kept farm a neat wire fence along the front and up lane sides.

Mr. Samuel Patterson, at Henry's Corners, is to raise his fine new barn this week. Mr. John Weir, of Glenmont, also raised a mammoth one a week ago.

Statute labor and hocking roots is the busy farmers' task at present.

Miss Edith Watson had the pleasure of entertaining her friend, Miss Esther Tucker, from the Corners, from Saturday till Sunday.

Mr. Will Zafelt, who has spent the past couple of summers working on the dredge at the lake, left last week for Heidelberg, carrying with him the best wishes of his many young friends here.

Miss Edna Bennett, of Varney, was the welcome guest of her friend, Miss Emma Brown, from Saturday till Sunday.

Mr. Angus Hooper had the misfortune to cut his knee badly with an axe recently. He was also unfortunate in losing a horse not long ago.

Andy Watson got a tap on the leg from a horse, and was on the hobble for a few days, but is getting around a little more lively now.

On Wednesday, June 11th, the home of Mrs. Fred Hargrave was the scene of a very pretty wedding, when her eldest daughter, Miss Elizabeth, was happily wedded to the man of her choice, Mr. Peter Daly. The marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Berry, of Pricerville. The bride was ably assisted by Miss Jean Renwick, of Dromore, while Mr. Geo. Hargrave, brother of the bride, performed the duties of groomsmen. The bride looked charming as she proceeded from the house to the lawn leaning on the arm of her brother, Will. She was becomingly attired in cream lustre and carried a bouquet of maiden hair fern and roses. The bridesmaid was also suitably and becomingly attired and carried in her hand a bouquet. After the ceremony was over and congratulations extended, the large assemblage of invited guests, which, we think, numbered over two hundred, sat down to an elaborate repast which had been daintily prepared. This over the remainder of the evening was spent in music and dancing, the treatment of the hostess and her friends being kindly acknowledged by the happy gathering, which dispersed at a late hour, wishing the happy couple a safe journey and happy life in their new home in Michigan, where they will take up their abode at present.

We join with the community in extending our cordial congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Eckhardt, who joined heart and hand on Wednesday, June 17th. We expect the Business correspondent will furnish a full report.

Ritchie Bros. are at work on the handsome new house now being erected by Mr. James Hopkins.

Mr. Wm. Arnett has taken charge of the marl lifting proceedings at Hanover.
