We had a pleasant call on Friday last from Mr. Geo. Lamb of Sault Ste Marie, Michigan. He was accompanied by his brother who is a C. P. R. Conductor running out of Winnipeg. He has been with the Company over twenty years and seems as if the work agreed with him.

Mr. J. A. Sirrs, who has been engaged for the past couple of months with the Merritt Cream Separator Co., took advantage of an excursion last week to Niagara Falls and made a flying visit to see his wife and friends here, as well as the new boy who arrived about three weeks ago. He returned Monday. Mr. Broomall is Manager of the Company and is doing well.

A young man named "McLean" near Pricerville wrote his name and address on an egg recently. This particular egg with others was sold to Mr. John McArthur, and shipped in the regular way. In about three weeks young McLean received a letter from Winnipeg making certain enquiries regarding his general pedigree. We do not know whether the Winnipeg writer was a lady or gentleman, but the name was "McLean" which may have had some influence in causing him to write to a namesake who might prove to be a relative.

We want all the news. To tell the local happening is our business. We want the news we publish to be true news, not a class of light gossip that should never have occurred, and, if published will be no benefit to anybody. If you visit friends at a distance we want to know it. If your distant friends visit you we want to know it too. We'll know nothing about it unless somebody tells us. If you know something that we don't know tell us about it; if you think we don't know it, ask us and find out. If your next neighbor calls in to enquire about the price of green onions, we don't want to know anything about it. Stuff of that kind isn't worth publishing. In writing an article for the newspaper, put it in such a way that the people will believe it. We don't want to publish things that are not true. If we lie we can't retain public confidence long. We want the public to believe what we say. We can not afford to publish things that are false. The public will find us out sooner or later, and when they find us false then comes the deluge. Births, deaths and marriages are always good news items. Tell us about them, but don't give obituary poetry. We draw the line at home-made obituary poetry, it is matter how good or how bad it is. The person who writes the very poorest class of poetry, often imagines himself an poet and a probable successor to the poet laureate. A lunatic once said he was in the asylum just because of a difference of opinion. He said his opinion was that all other people were crazy but all the other people thought he was crazy, and, of course, majorities rule. A self-opinionated poetical genius may think he writes good poetry. Everybody else may think he writes poor stuff, and majorities rule. Give us news.

A few short ends of white and colored dress muslins at C. L. Grant's.

Scan goods in stock again. Long tan gloves with done fasteners, lace hse gloves in long black and white and short black. Tan hse and black openwork hse at 25c per pair.—The House of Quality, H. H. Mockler.

A LITTLE three-year-old girl daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Muir near Ceylon, had a narrow escape from drowning last week. She fell into an open cistern, through the hole from which the pump had been removed, and it was with some difficulty the little thing was rescued.

A Friday afternoon of all lovers of baseball here, when the local team, comprised of the pick of the four town teams, will measure their strength against the crack nine of Markdale. As a good line-up is presented on the local side, and Markdale has the best team in its district, a good game is to be looked forward to; one that will be exciting from start to finish. Game called at 4 o'clock sharp.

The Presbyterian Garden Party on Tuesday night was a great success. There was a large attendance, good band music, good singing, good things to eat, and a good time generally. The Manse grounds, or "Idylwild," as it is called, is an ideal spot for such gatherings. The place was well and beautifully lighted. The program consisted of songs and solos by Messrs. J. P. and J. C. Telford, Mr. McKay, of the Traders Bank, Miss M. Munro, and Miss Jean Brown. Messrs. Rolph and McIntyre delighted the audience with their banjo-mandolin and the Misses Ramandogave a well rendered piano duet. The proceeds amounted to over $100.

One of our exchanges tells of an old German who had a boy of whom he was very proud, and decided to find out the trend of his mind. He adopted a novel method by which to test him. He slipped into the boy's room one morning and placed on the table a bottle of whiskey, a Bible and a silver dollar. "Now," said he, "when dot boy comes in if he takes dot dollar dot he's going to be a beznis man; if he takes dot Bible he's going to be a preacher; if he takes dot whiskey he's no good and going to be a drunkard." Then he hid behind a door to see which his son would choose. In came the boy whistling. He ran up to the table, picked up the Bible and put it under his arm, then snatched up the bottle took two or three drinks, picked up the dollar and put it in his pocket, and went out smacking his head out from behind the door and exclaimed: "Mein Got, he is going to be a politician."

The term, printer's devil as applied to the boy who does the choring around a printing office, has a peculiar romantic history. In early days printing was styled the "black art" and printers were supposed to be in league with Satan. But it was in the time of Aldus Minutius in Venus that matters took a serious turn. This was the famous printer who first published the Greek and Roman classics. He took into his employ a negro boy who was homeless on the streets in Venice. The people supposed the boy was an imp of Satan and helped in the printing. Mobs collected about to wreck it when the boy was brought forward and exhibited and showed that he was flesh and blood, but he was still called "the printer's devil" and every boy in his position ever since has been called so.

Mr. Charter Smith is round again, recovering from a burn he received nearly a month ago. A charge of hot metal from the anpola came in contact with his foot and leg, with the result that he was confined to his bed for about three weeks.

HYMENEAL

SWALLOW—GOLD

A very pretty wedding took place Wednesday, June 24, at the residence of the bride's uncle, Benjamin Goodrum, 403 Toronto street, when his niece, Miss Beatrice Pearl Gold, of Victoria, B. C., and Nathan Earnest Swallow, of Durham, Ont., were united in the bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. A. Shaw, of the First Baptist church. The bride looked sweet and pretty and was beautifully attired in a suit of cream panama cloth, waist of all over lace, and carried a lovely bouquet of bridal roses. The bride was given away by her uncle, Benjamin Goodrum; Miss Florence Robinson, of Toronto, acted as bridesmaid, and looked charming in a very pretty dress of all over embroidery. She carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Ernest Ketcheson, of Winnipeg, supported the groom. After the ceremony the guests partook of a dainty lunch. Mrs. Benjamin Goodrum made a very charming hostess. The happy couple left amid the hearty congratulations of numerous friends for their future home, 624 Maryland street, Winnipeg.—Winnipeg Free Press.

Lost.—In Durham, on Saturday evening, between Stinson's Bakery and the Switch Line Railroad Crossing at Corktown Hill, a Persian Lamb ruff.—Reward at this office.

Mr. Joseph Walker, of Markdale will have much reason to look with sadness on the 218 anniversary of the Battle of Boyne. Just after he got off the train at Dundalk on Monday, he stepped in some way in front of a moving engine which ran over him and cut his foot off completely just at the ankle.

On Wednesday of last week, Mr. Geo. Staples cut the large tendon in the back of the heel known as the "tendo Achilles," or the strongest tendon in the body. It seems he got in front of the mower, when the horses stepped forward. Several stitches were necessary to close the wound. It will be some time before he will be able to be around.

We have just learned with regret that Mr. Thomas Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Campbell of Welbeck, was drowned in the West. That a telegram to that effect was received here on Saturday is the only intimation of the sad event here. The unfortunate young man was an occasional correspondent to this paper some years ago. We hope to get fuller particulars before next issue.

WITH THE CHURCHES.

TRINITY CHURCH.

The annual Garden Party, under the auspices of Trinity Church, Durham, was held on the rectory grounds on Thursday evening last, despite the fact that there were two other similar attractions on the same date, turned out a very successful one.

A bounteous store of refreshments as usual graced the boards, and from eight o'clock till nearly midnight, the ladies of the congregation, who acted in the capacity of waitresses were busily engaged catering to the wants of their patrons.

Daintily decorated tables and booths, which, with their contents, were ablaze in all the glory of feminine handiwork, tempted the weary to stop, look and buy, while the programme consisting of music by the 31st Regimental Band, Messrs. Rolph and McIntyre on mandolin and banjo, and Mr. James Lloyd, who was present with his gramophone, was probably the most enjoyed feature of the evening. A solo by Miss Dawkins was also much appreciated.

The proceeds at the gate and booths amounted to nearly $90.

PRICEVILLE METHODIST CHURCH.

The Durham Methodist choir journeyed last to Priceville in the programme presented by the Methodist church of that place in connection with their lawn social.

A good crowd was in attendance and after a bounteous lunch, all repaired to the church, where the programme was given.

In addition to the choir from this place, Rev. Dr. Caldwell, of Flesher-ton, delivered an address on "Courtship and Marriage" and Rev. Mr. Matheson gave a couple of excellent recitations.

The programme disposed of, lunch was again partaken of. During the evening, ice cream and fruits were served from booths on the grounds.

The social was a very successful one, and all enjoyed themselves.

MULOCK PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Quite a crowd from here accompanied the Presbyterian choir of this place to Mulock on Friday evening and took in the garden party at that place, which was held on the grounds of Mr. Fletcher.

A well rendered programme, together with ice cream and fruits served throughout the evening, tended to make the gathering a success both financially and the enjoyment derived.

The proceeds amounted to about $50.
