Monday Night, Please

We are again compelled to ask our advertisers to submit their copy for change of advertisement for the current week not later than Monday Night. Personally, it matters not to us, but, as our readers in nearby post offices, where a thrice-a-week mail service is in force, are desirous of getting their papers on Wednesday night instead of Friday, it necessitates our going to press early Wednesday morning. The advertiser should benefit by this change, as well, and appreciate the effort we are putting forth in placing advert'sements before the pub-I'c on Wednesday afternoon, in ample time for the Saturday trade. It's not asking much, and we hope we will not be again forced to remind our advertisers that we cannot guarantee to change copy left with us later than Monday evening.
