The Band's annual promenade concert held on the agricultural grounds on Thursday evening last was a splendid success. The evening was delightfully fine and the large crowd was highly pleased with the sports and entertainment given, which opened at six o'clock with a baseball match between the ladies clubs of Corbetton and Ceylon. It was an interesting match, but the Ceylon girls were too well up in the science of the game for the ladies from the south, and won with a score of 36 to 22 at the end of the 5th innings. After the match the lengthy musical program was entered upon, which was wholly given by the visiting bands from Dundalk, Markdale and Durham. All are splendid musical aggregations, and the program rendered by each was highly pleasing and hearty tokens of appreciation were accorded by the audience. The grounds were nicely illuminated and seats were furnished for the comfort of the promenaders. At a beautifully spread table in the hall the ladies of the village served dainty refreshments to all. After 10 o'clock the massed bands played the National Anthem and the crowd began to disperse. The proceeds were $95.00.

The second town baseball match between the North and South was played on Wednesday evening of last week and was won with a big score by the north. A game each having been won, the next match will decide who gets the cup.

Dr. Mahan, of Fillmore, Sask., formerly of this place, is, we notice, now in the political field, and referring to him the Regina Daily Standard of August 3rd says:—"Dr. Mahan, the candidate in the new district of Francis, was in town yesterday and states that his chances of return to the Legislature are exceedingly bright. He is working hard throughout the district, and has with him a large number of supporters. With the assistance of these men he is going to carry the district and add another to the Haultain majority in the Legislature." We wish the Dr. success.

Born—On August 6th, to Mr. and Mrs. Wes, Breen, a son.

Mrs. Andrew Bentham is under the doctor's care with a severe attack of bronchitis.

A number here have been visitors during the past few days to the jolly campers at Ewart's lake in Holland. A fish story which has been given to us as authentic is that of a trout captured by Dr. Murray, who landed with hook and line a speckled beauty nineteen inches in length and weighed three pounds five ounces. Your Cor. has been favored with a treat from the lake.

Among the successful students in Grey County who wrote at the recent examinations for entrance to the Normal Schools we notice is Miss A. W. Wright, daughter of Mr. John Wright, of this place. We congratulate Miss Willa upon her success.

Flesherton and Proton baseball teams played a good match at Proton Station on Monday evening. The score was a tie, 2 to 2. Mr. W. Graham was umpire.

Numerous friends here sincerely sympathize with Mrs. W. H. Thurston in her bereavement by the death of her mother, Mrs. Evas Gaudin, a very highly respected old christian lady who died on July 22nd at the home of her son, Rev. S. D. Gaudin, Methodist Missionary at Cross Lake.

As the result of a burn a year or two ago, Miss Mabel Munshaw had the finger of one hand partially closed by contraction of the muscle. On Monday she was placed under an anaesthetic and Drs. Carter and McWilliams straightened the deformed digit.

BREATHE HELP FOR CATARRH.

Druggists Here Are Having Splendid Reports From Hyomei Users.

Druggists here are having splendid reports from Hyomei users. It's the poison germs in the air you breathe that creates and feeds catarrh. Hyomei simply catches these germs on their way to work and destroys them. The first breath of Hyomei air kills all catarrhal poison.

This makes the air you are breathing inward helpful, it goes on its way through the air passages, bronchial tubes and lungs charged with germ destroying power that cannot be resisted, it soothes and heals the wounded and inflamed membrane.

That is why Hyomei is so instantly helpful for any distress of the breathing organs, colds, croup, bronchitis, asthma, or dreaded pneumonia, they are the germ life that Hyomei kills. Complete guaranteed outfit $1.00. Sold by Macfarlane & Co. Talk to them about it.

AN INSECT TRAGEDY.

The Nest the Mother Butterfly Builds For Her Young.

There is something really pathetic in the way a mother butterfly builds a nest for her children. In the first place, the little home where the eggs are deposited represents a great deal of sacrifice, for it is lined with several layers of down plucked from the mother's own soft body. The eggs having been laid carefully upon this luxurious, pretty couch, are protected by an equally pretty coverlet made of the same material.

These butterfly bedclothes are often arranged with an intricacy that is quite curious and perplexing. Sometimes a bed is made so that each separate delicate hair stands upright, thus giving the entire nest the appearance of a little bush of downy fur. Then again the eggs are laid spirally round a tiny branch, and, as the covering follows their course, the effect resembles the bushy tail of a fox, only the nest is more beautiful than the brush of the finest fox that ever roamed over country.

The building of this downy nest is the latest earthly labor of the mother butterfly, for by the time it is completed her own delicate body is denuded of its natural covering and there is nothing left for her to do but die, a sacrifice which she promptly and heroically makes in the interest of the coming butterfly generation.

Must Pension Themselves.

Domestic servants in Germany come under the law that obliges all persons below a certain income to provide for their old age. The postoffice issues cards and stamps, and one of these stamps must be dated and affixed to the card every Monday. Sometimes the employers buy the cards and stamps and show them at the postoffice each month. Sometimes they expect the servant to pay half the money required. Women who go out by the day get their stamps at the house they work in on Mondays. If a girl marries she may cease to insure and may have a sum of money toward her outfit. In that case she will receive no old age pension. But if she goes on with her insurance she will have from 15 to 20 marks ($3 to $4) a month from the state after the age of seventy.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred dollars for any case of deafness, caused by catarrh, that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

A GREWSOME SUICIDE

James Moon's Fiendish Composure In Planning Death.

HE MADE GOOD HIS BOAST.

This Singular Man Vowed He Would Make by His Remarkable Manner of Death a Name For Himself That Would Live For Years.

In all the annals of suicides the world over it is not recorded that any man prepared for death and stared the grim reaper in the face with more fiendish composure than did James Moon in planning and working month after month on the most remarkable method of ending his life, which he adopted and put into execution in the old Lahr hotel at Lafayette, Ind., many years ago.

After strapping his body securely to the floor he then chloroformed himself so that he would remain perfectly motionless until a candle, burning through a cord, would release the blade of a guillotine of his own invention to sever his head from his body.

"I will make for myself a name that will live for years and years after my death," boasted Moon when first he began to work on his plan, months before he actually carried it out. It was not an idle boast. His name is still remembered beyond the confines of Tippecanoe county, for the diabolical cunning employed in his grewsome deed insures the perpetuation of the story for years to come.

The crude but effective guillotine which Moon chopped off his head is now one of the most interesting relics in the museum of Purdue university.

The sanity of Moon had been questioned before the startling act of self destruction, for he was continuously talking of revolutionizing the world by various remarkable inventions upon which he was working. One of his hobbies was a sewing machine that he promised would far excel anything yet invented in that line, and he would spend days working on it in a little shed in the rear of his home. Moon was known throughout the county, and there were some who believed that he was really a genius and some day would succeed in the one great invention upon which his heart and mind were set. Though none of his machines was ever successful, there is no denying that his guillotine was a masterpiece of amateur mechanical art. After his death it was learned that he had spent months in perfecting the instrument which was once the terror of France.

Every detail in the construction of the death dealing device was perfect. Could one have watched the man at work in his little shop in the lonesome hours of the night he would have seen a remarkable spectacle. Moon must have stretched his body on the floor again and again, marking the distance with perfect accuracy and then springing the huge blade to see if it would descend just at the spot where his neck had been. Every calculation had to be perfect, every joint in the instrument had to work perfectly, to insure such a perfect success as was attained in the final test to which it was put.

The big blade was sharpened to the keenness of a razor's edge. Those who saw Moon's body afterward say that the neck was cut through so smoothly that not even a bone was splintered.

Bidding his family a happy farewell, Moon left his home in the section of Tippecanoe county known as the "Wea Plains" and went to the old Hotel Lahr, in Lafayette, one Saturday afternoon in June, 1876. His only baggage was a trunk, in which the pieces of his guillotine, the straps, bottle of chloroform and other materials necessary in the preparation for his suicide were stored.

The afternoon and evening Moon spent chatting with friends about the hotel, and he was the gayest of all of them. He gave no indication that the hour was near when he would carry into execution the plans he had made to make his name famous.

The hour must have been late before Moon began his work of setting up the guillotine, for the men in the adjoining room told that the light in his room was burning when they retired, but no sounds came from the silent chamber. It is presumed, however, that he employed the early part of the evening in putting the different parts of the guillotine together. The arm proper was six feet three inches long and was in three separate pieces and was constructed out of hard oak. Each part was put together with screws, so that there would be no noise necessary in erecting it.

The work of putting this arm together must have taken considerable time, as each piece was thoroughly braced to prevent play in any direction. The arm connected with a broad hinge that fastened on one side to the floor of the room and on the other to the base-board to make it secure. The broad-ax, which no doubt was the last to be attached to the guillotine, weighed sixty-four pounds and was made secure with five heavy screws. Moon made the broad-ax at one of the principal foundries of the city and to throw off suspicion said that he was making a "special kind of chopper for the chef of the Lahr hotel."

All of the parts of the guillotine in place, Moon began his painstaking arrangements for the end. At a measured distance from the hinge he fastened two straps to the floor with screws, and at the side of the window he placed a bracket, on which he put an ordinary kitchen candle. From the wall just above the candle to a point near

Mrs. Evas Gaudin Dead.

Mrs. W. H. Thurston received on Saturday evening the sad intelligence that her mother had died on July 22nd at Cross Lake mission, 460 miles north of Winnipeg—60 miles north of Norway House—at the home of her son, Rev. S. D. Gaudin, of acute Bright's disease. Mrs. Gaudin accompanied her son and his wife to their far away home from Flesherton last fall. This spring she fell, breaking her ankle, but this had healed nicely when the fatal illness took her suddenly. She was 82 years of age and was born in Ireland, coming to Quebec with her parents when 14 years of age. In 1852 she married Francis Gaudin, a native of the Isle of Jersey. In 1868 the family removed from Quebec to Et Vincent, near Thornbury, where they lived for five years. Four years after settling there Mr. Gaudin died and his widow and family in the following year removed to Kimberley. Mrs. Gaudin leaves behind her the following sorrowing children: H. V. Gaudin, on the home farm at Kimberley; Mrs. Henry Howe, Yonkers, N.Y.; Mrs. Horace Huribart, Vernon, B.C.; Rev. S. D. Gaudin, Cross Lake Mission; Mrs. W. H. Thurston, Flesherton; and Mrs. R. J. Brown, of Winnipeg. The deceased lady was a life-long member of the Methodist church. Her hospitality and warmth of heart were distinguishing traits in her character. She was a tender-hearted mother but brought up her family in the nurture and admonition of the Lord, and they can truly call her name blessed. The remains were interred at Cross Lake, beside those of Rev. S. D. Gaudin's two little children, who died a year and a year and a half ago respectively.

Let us show you how easy it is to shake the

"Hecla" Furnace

The "Hecla" has four grate bars. Each one can be shaken separately. This means that you can shake down just the part of the fire where the ashes are, without disturbing the rest of the coals. With "Hecla" Triangular Grate Bars, you can get rid of all the ashes—save coal—keep the fire bright and clean—and do away with sifting ashes, because no fresh coal or half-burnt clinkers come down in the ashpan.

We would be pleased to talk over the furnace question with you and show you, part by part, just why the "Hecla" Furnace is the best for you to buy. Come in any time.
