MUNICIPAL NOTICE.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the Town of Durham, in the County of Grey, at the expiration of one month from the posting up of this notice, intend to take into consideration, and if no sufficient objection thereto be made, finally pass a By-law for the opening up of a Street, through Lots 20 and 21 East of Garafraxa Street, and lots numbers 20 and 21, West of Albert Street, in the Town of Durham. Dated this 10th day of August, A. D. 1908. W. B. VOLLET, Clerk, Town of Durham.

While Walter Dutton, who is at present employed at Geo. Drimmie's on the 10th concession, was returning home from Holstein on Sunday evening, and while going along the baseline he was held up at Nichol McDougall's bush by a couple of fellows, who relieved him of $3.20, which was all Walter's purse contained on that particular evening. The country is becoming infected with tramps and robbers and we think it is time the authorities are taking steps to rid the country of any who have the appearance of vagrants or robbers.—1f

YOUR SKIN IN SUMMER

When you find your skin rough, red and itchy, or dry, scaly and coarse, with sore and inflamed spots here and there, remember there is a reason. There are 2,800 pores on one square inch of that skin of yours, and these contain seventy feet of tubing, all provided to clear away harmful and waste excretions, but which get out of order when the skin is unhealthy. The value of Zam-Buk lies in the fact that its healing essences and juices can be absorbed by these miniature "Skin Mouths." Applied to a rough or inflamed patch, cut, bruise, heat sore or chafed place, Zam-Buk first lubricates, then soothes, the hot surface, and which get out of order when the skin is unhealthy. Zam-Buk first kills the disease germs which cause sup- puration and inflammation. Then it builds up fresh tissue.

In this way an eczema patch, ulcer, is removed completely by Zam-Buk, and a cut or burn healed. For insect stings, sore feet bruises, chafed places, for eczema, ulcerations, blood poison, chronic sores, and for piles Zam-Buk is without equal. Fifty cents a box at all stores and druggists, or from the Zam-Buk Co., Toronto twenty-five. Three boxes for family use.

Woman Rip Van Winkle Awakens From Nap.

Berlin, Aug. 14.—A most remarkable case of a woman who has slept steadily for thirty-two years, is reported in "Der Tag" from Oirns-Monsteras, near Stockholm.

Karoline Karisdatter was a school girl of 13 when she suddenly fell asleep over her books in the schoolroom. After fruitless efforts on the teacher's part to rouse her the girl was carried home. She slept until last week, when she awoke to find that her childhood and girlhood were long past, and that she is now a middle-aged woman of 45.

Fraulein Karisdatter is not very much worried over the matter, however. She feels as fresh and as full of energy as if she had merely enjoyed a good night's rest. Her chief concern at present is to make up for lost time and complete her education, which was so abruptly interrupted. She will join an elementary school as soon as the Autumn term begins.

Notes and Comments.

The annual cry of the west, "Harvesters Wanted," has again been heard in the East and the manner in which old Ontario responded to the call has exceeded the most sanguine expectations. On Saturday last, no less than eight trains, totalling one hundred and twenty coaches pulled out of the Union Station in Toronto, while another left West Toronto and two from Owen Sound and Teeswater and Walkerton branches left by way of Bolton Junction. The Canadian Pacific alone, say the total number of harvesters carried West by them this year will number close to 17,000, and as the Grand Trunk is running special rate excursions as well, a total of 25,000 should be a very conservative estimate.

Put the joy thermometer of the Westerner, and in fact the Dominion at large, has dropped several points in the past few days and the trouble now lies in human hands, and we refer to the C. P. R. strike. With such a bountiful harvest it seems a pity that the people to whom is entrusted the transporting of our products should deem this the most opportune time in which to adjust their grievances. From what we can learn it looks to us as if the Canadian Pacific Railway Company is in the wrong, and seeks this opportunity to tie up our transportation facilities in the hope of Government intervention and assistance. The cry of the Company that wages must be reduced or the Company go bankrupt is wholly indefensible and not in accordance with the facts. It's only a short time ago that the Company received permission to raise their rates in the West, and now it seems their desire to keep the better rates and the wages of the men too. So far the strikers have behaved themselves like gentlemen, and until they do otherwise it will be hard to believe they are directly responsible for the present trouble.

The ready response to the appeal for aid for the stricken ones in fire-swept Fernie must have been gratifying to these unfortunates, who have lost practically all they possessed in the conflagration that recently swept that portion of British Columbia. The earthquake and fire that swept San Francisco off the map bound together more closely, the United States and Canada, when the Dominion Government voted money to assist the unfortunates, and the handsome sum recently donated by the citizens of Seattle, Washington, to the people of Fernie, has shown that our thoughtfulness of three years ago has not been forgotten by the subjects of Uncle Sam. Though under different flags, and went to boast of our prowess on land and sea, the Canucks and Yankees go hand in hand in times of flood, fire and famine. And this is as it should be.

The fool that rocks the boat and the other fellow who didn't know it was loaded have had things pretty much their own way for some time past, and Christendom in general had almost forgotten about another class who travel in the same direction, though by a different route. We refer to the individual who crosses the track at a horse race just in time to get a shunt in the rear from the fast moving beasts. In Owen Sound a couple of weeks ago, it remained for a woman, a baby and a pram-bulator to dispel the illusion that this class was extinct, when she attempted to cross ahead of a horse driven by George N. Collins of that place. In the attempt to save the woman and her child from injury Mr. Collins's sulky was overturned, and he sustained injuries so serious that he has been forced to use crutches ever since. "Nellie Nicholas," driven by Mr. Read was injured, and the baby carriage badly broken up. It seems altogether too bad that grown-ups can't get a little more sense into their craniums, or if they just must do these things, why can't they do their little stunts all by themselves, and not bring innocent parties to grief by their manœuvres.

"Old Moore," the noted English calamity howler has his usual list of disasters foretold in his Almanac for 1909, and if he be any criterion to go by, we are billed for a most sensational experience during the year commencing January next. Public building disasters, money market stringencies, riots, earthquakes, railroad catastrophes, and in fact everything horrible are his prophecies for the coming year. However, it will be well for those to whom this kind of prediction appeals to bear in mind that the world has already come to an end on several occasions, by prophecy, and we are yet running around looking for the almighty dollar. We must expect a certain number of the kind of catastrophes predicted by "Old Moore," but just why the year 1909 should be more horrible than any of its predecessors, is a matter that the gentleman in question knows no more about than the most humble of us, who pay no especial attention to these pre-disaster forecasts. Undoubtedly, he will find a few who will tremble in their shoes on account of his predictions, but the days of witchcraft are over, and the majority of us will go on our way on the old principle of "never trouble trouble till trouble troubles you." When the time comes, we'll endeavor to wiggle out of it as best we can, and if the disaster proves too much for us, go the way of our forefathers.

HELPS FOR THE HOUSEKEEPERS

If your lamp wick smokes, soak it in vinegar. Turpentine will remove tar from any kind of fabric. Old ingrain and velvet carpets can be made over into rugs. Needles and pins will never rust in a cushion filled with coffee grounds. A few cloves added to coffee while roasting it will give it a good aroma. A little vinegar in the water in which an egg is poached will set the white. Scale or crust can be prevented in a teakettle by keeping a marble in the kettle. To keep mosquitoes from face and hands, rub face and hands with lavender oil. For cleansing tinware there is nothing better than dry flour applied with newspaper. A few drops of lemon juice added to scrambled eggs while cooking will improve them. To remove smoke stains from ivory immerse it in benzine and go over it with a brush. A little milk added to the water in which silver is washed will help to keep it bright. Boil six peach kernels in a quart of milk to be used for custard; it will improve the flavor. Whiting rubbed on with flannel will remove baking stains from discolored cups and dishes. Keep all the kitchen utensils in one place, and a small one at that; it will save time and steps. Pumpkin seeds are attractive to mice, and traps baited with them will soon destroy this little pest. If the top of a cake is sitted with flour before icing there is less danger of its running over the sides. By having an orange and a small onion inside the duck while roasting its flavor is said to be improved. The bent point of a sewing machine needle may be sharpened on a whetstone and need not be discarded. If bedsteads are washed with paraffin no insect will come near, and the paraffin also gives a beautiful polish. Hot boric compresses applied to inflamed parts every two or three hours will be found to relieve pain and inflammation. Put a small bag of talcum powder in a box with a cover, and keep in the workbox to rub on the fingers when they perspire. An economical and really excellent pad for cleaning and testing hot irons is made of several layers of heavy brown paper. The easiest method of cleaning piano keys and other articles made of ivory is with a soft cloth dampened in alcohol. The outside of a lemon rubbed over a dish upon which fish has been served promptly removes the disagreeable odor. Household brushes last much longer if washed regularly. Remember that they should never be allowed to rest on the bristles. If the knife and fingers are slightly buttered when seeding raisins the work will be robbed of its stickiness and discomfort. When the heel wears off your rubber shoes cut them like sandals and they will be useful to wear on damp or rainy days. To improve the flavor of sauces, stews, soups and gravies, add a little lemon after cooking. This makes a palatable combination. See that all greens are carefully washed before eating. To do otherwise is not only uncleanly, but it may be dangerous to health. A slight sprinkling of powdered cinnamon just before serving is said by some greatly to improve the flavor and aroma of a cup of cocoa. The green tips of celery or minced leaves of Brussels sprouts may be substituted for parsley when that is not obtainable for garnishing. If black stockings are washed in warm, soapy water and rinsed in clear water with a little vinegar they will keep their color till worn out. Never throw away small quantities of gravy, sauce, etc., if they are perfectly sweet. They all come in for making stews, soups or gravies. Mend your porch chairs with picture wire. It is easy to work with and strong. Lace across the seat and back to make a straight surface. Take a good-sized sewer pipe and enamel it to match the hall. Use a small granite pan as catchbasin. This makes a useful and cheap-umbrella stand. To remove an obstinate sliver too short to get hold of with the finger nails, use a pair of small tweezers. You can actually get hold of it in the dark. Iron rust, ink and mildewed spots can be removed by first wetting with cold milk, then cover with salt. Let it stand two or three hours and wash in cold water. To make cucumber salad, cut a slice from a cucumber and scoop out the inside. Cut bits of tomato in similar size and mix the two with French dressing. Return to the shell and put each cucumber on a plate by itself, on lettuce. Small, round balls of cheese are nice to serve with this.

NOTICE. When tea has been put into the teapot it should at once be filled up with boiling water. It is a great mistake to put only a little drop of water on the leaves first, filling the pot up afterwards. Protect polish on dining or library table from water dripping from flower vases by cutting pieces of table oil cloth, white or any delicate tint, the size of lunch cloth or doily and putting under the cloth. A quick drying glue can be made by putting the glue into a bottle two-thirds full and filling up with whiskey. Cork tightly and set by for three days, and it will dissolve without the application of heat and will keep for years. Iron mold can be removed by holding the stain over steam and rubbing in salts of lemon. Rinse carefully, as the acid is poisonous and it may rot the material. To quickly cream butter and sugar use the wire potato masher, and have the ingredients in a thick, round bottomed crock. If the milk is added it creams more easily.
