 Mr. Wilfrid Habert, of Markdale, succumbed to typhoid fever last week. He had been married only two weeks.
 Joseph Lewis, a negro, was fined $20 and costs at Owen Sound for shooting at Henry Gregg. He got off easy.

For a Sprained Ankle.

A sprained ankle may be cured in about one-third the time usually required, by applying Chamberlain's Liniment freely, and giving it absolute rest. For sale by all Drug stores.
 A few days ago a young, gentleman-looking guest came to the Seldon House. He called himself Robert Blarney—and his actions did not belie his name. He stayed about a week, made friends with several of those about the house, from one of whom he borrowed a small sum of money. Wednesday morning he arose early and departed, taking with him $10 of the house's money, besides what he had borrowed, and leaving behind an unpaid board bill. A warrant was at once issued, and before long word was notified that Mr. Blarney had been arrested at Meaford. P. C. Hargrave set out to bring the captive back. But when he went with Meaford's chief to the look-up a "beggarly array of empty bottles" and a broken door met their view. The bird had flown, and the chances are he is flying yet, for he hasn't been heard of since.

The Girl That is Pale.

She is in danger, her system is run Ferruzone. The delicate maid is enervated richer blood. More than all else she needs Ferruzone, needs it because it brings back the nerve energy which rapid growth and study have exhausted. The old time vigor, happy Ferruzone. The delicate maid is enervated, strengthened and rebuilt. Isn't it worth while using Ferruzone when it surely does so much. At all dealers in 50 cent boxes.

An alarm was sent in on Monday afternoon for a fire in the shaving room at the Seaman-Kent factory. Luckily for town and the Seaman-Kent Co. it did not last long for neither party could afford to have another conflagration within so short a space of time. The fire happened at the right moment to be caught before it gained much headway and it was put out with very little trouble. The shaving room is surrounded by four stout brick walls which gave the fire no chance to spread. The firemen were soon on the spot with two or three streams of water and soon ended any cause for alarm. As usual Mr. W. C. Wilson brought the Meaford Manufacturing Co's hose into play and greatly assisted in keeping the element within bounds.—Meaford Express.

The arrival of the Government str. Vigilant in port last week caused a considerable flurry amongst some of the local Grits. There was a small amount of patronage to dispense in the way of supplies, and all of them were after it. George Fair armed himself with a letter from the president and also one from the department, and felt confident of the coveted outlay. Guilford Bros, however objected, and thought that they should have a share of the spoils. In the meantime M. Brophy, one of the T. Long & Bro, Limited, got the busy and secured a letter from the local vice-president, and was swift enough to secure the order. When there were "wigs on the green." A hasty call was made for an emergency meeting of the executive and they met in Solicitor Birnie's office on Thursday evening. Mike Brophy told them very plainly not only that he had never received a share of the Government's business, that he had secured this order and intended to keep it, but that in future he also expected a fair division. An attempt was made to show that Mike was only an employe of the firm, but it failed, and the Vigilant's order stood. The amount involved was only about $100, and yet the time of the leaders of the party for a whole evening was wasted over the dispute.—Collingwood Enterprise-Messenger.

A Travelling Man's Experience

"I must tell you my experience on an East-bound C. P. & N. R. train from Pendleton to Le Grande, Ore., writes Sam A. Garber, a well-known traveling man. "I was in the smoking department with some other traveling men when one of them went out onto the coach and came back and said, 'There is a woman sick unto death in the car. I at once got up and went out, found her very ill with cramp colic; her hands and arms were drawn up so you could not straighten them, and with a deathlike look on her face. Two or three ladies were working with her and giving her whiskey. I went to my suitcase and got my bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy (I never travel without it), ran to the water tank, put a double dose of the medicine in the glass, poured some water into it and stirred it with a pencil; then I had quite a time to get the ladies to let me give it to her, but I succeeded. I could at once see the effect and I worked with her until she was able to get up. By this time we were almost into Le Grande, where I was to leave the train. I gave the bottle to the husband to be used in case another dose should be needed, but by the time the train ran into Le Grande she was all right, and I received the thanks of every passenger in the car." For sale at all Drug Stores.

An attempt was made a few days ago to hold up the mail stage running from Everett to Mansfield. Ed Anderson, the driver, was making his way between the 7th line of Mulmur and the Mulmur-Tossoronto town line, when two tramps suddenly sprang out of the bushes at the roadside and ordered him to stop. The young fellow pulled out his whip and started the horses on a gallop with the hold-up men running behind shouting vengeance if he did not stop.—Shelburne Free Press.

William Dickson, Mount Forest's well known liverman, finished his earthly career Wednesday morning when he passed away in death after ill health of two years' duration, which took a fatal turn last week. On Monday he sank to sleep and never awoke again in this life but his heart did not cease beating until as stated. The deceased, while not born here, spent practically all his life in Mt. Forest, coming to this place with his father, the late Peter Dickson, 50 years ago. Twenty-six years ago, on May 25th, he was married to Mary McIntyre, at Moorefield, by the Rev. Mr. Edmison, of Rothsay, now of Toronto. Mrs. Dickson survives to mourn the loss of a loving husband, and one son, Wm. Lorne, also survives to remember a kind father; another son died young. We join with their many friends in extending sympathy. One brother, George, of Howell, Mich., and one sister, Mrs. Patterson, of Toronto, are also living. The eldest brother, the late Peter Dickson, it will be remembered, died in June of this year.—Representative.

Two youthful bicyclists received a bad scare Wednesday evening of last week and one of them narrowly escaped serious accident. With a degree of recklessness, not at all praiseworthy, these two youngsters went scorching up Wellington street apparently never thinking of the possibility of their meeting someone, and just as they reached the corner of Wellington and Queen, the bus driven by Mr. Hicks confronted them. One managed to steer his machine in an opposite direction but the other, evidently undecided which course to take, lost control of the bicycle, which brought up between the horses, the rider being thrown clear of the road into the ditch. Beyond a few scratches and a shaking up the young speeder escaped injury, but the bicycle, which, by the way, happened to be someone else's, was badly damaged, the bus horses trampling it in a way suggestive of what would have happened had the boy not been thrown beyond reach of their hoofs.—Mt. Forest Representative.

Two or three accidents have taken place recently owing to horses being frightened at meeting Mr. J. A. Halsted's automobile. Mr. Wm. Neville was thrown from his rig near town owing to his horse shying and the wheels of the buggy going into a ditch to which they were close. Mr. Neville's hand was slightly hurt. Mr. Sam Taylor was somewhat similarly upset on the outskirts of the town. The auto was stopped at the time and run to the other side of the road to make some necessary adjustment to the machinery. The horse broke away from the buggy and some parts of the harness were broken. On Friday last Mr. W. T. Dane, driving a spirited horse belonging to Chas. Keais, was about to meet the auto near Mr. Bradley's O. S. R. South, and turned round and drove in at Mr. Bradley's gate. Just after the auto had passed the horse became unmanageable, and ran away up the lane. The wheels struck a large stone and Mr. Dane was thrown out, his leg being injured. The shafts, side, and two wheels of the buggy were broken.—Mt. Forest Confed.

The Brussels Post reports the following:—Friday afternoon a pretty young lady, and well dressed, who said she came from Appin, arrived in Glenoe with her hand bandaged up. She went around asking for help stating that she had been engaged in the printing business at Appin and had had her hand crushed while she was working the press. The story that she had her hand injured on a printing press at Appin at once gave rise to suspicions, as there is no printing establishment at that town. She was taken by a constable to the office of the reeve and requested to unbandage her hand. She demurred to this saying that there was no one there to bandage it up again. She was thereupon taken to the office of Dr. Walker where her hand was found to be quite uninjured. She was somewhat confused about it and stated that it was the first time she had ever tried such a trick, and it would be the last. She was allowed to go.

A bold attempt was made to hold up two Stratfordites on Tuesday night. A man sprang out from the bushes near the Little Lakes and seized the horse by the bridle, but urged by the whip of the driver, the horse shook him off. The bridle broke and the horse ran away. The occupants of the rig were thrown out, but were not seriously injured. In its flight the run-away horse frightened another which also ran away, and on reaching the city the second rig ran into and smashed another buggy and the occupants of both were landed on the road.—Wyoming Enterprise.
