OTTO KNAPP TAKES CHARGE.

This morning the Algoma Hotel, which for the past six years has been conducted by Con. Knapp, changed hands, the management falling into the hands of his son, Otto, who is in every way qualified to take charge. Mr. Knapp, who retires from the business with regret, has been forced to do so owing to the illness of his son, Harry, who lost his speech as the result of an illness about a year ago. Mr. Knapp desired that his afflicted son, who is about 11 years old should enter an advanced school for the deaf in the Michigan Soo. To have his son enter this institution it is necessary that Mr. Knapp reside on the Michigan side, according to the American law. While reluctant to sever his connections at the present time with the Algoma, Mr. Knapp feels that family ties are of more importance than a success in business, and has turned the management over to his son. Mr. Knapp will for some time reside in the Michigan Soo and will have opportunity to visit his friends on the Canadian side frequently.

A telegram was received here on Wednesday of last week conveying the sad news of the death of Mr. William Strain, who that day passed away at his home at Great Falls, Montana. Many were sorry to learn of the death of an old friend so highly esteemed as was the deceased, who for many years resided here and filled a large place in the life of this village. He took a deep interest in the welfare of the village and of the entire community. He was enterprising in business, and did considerable in the way of building. The Strain block and several residences now stand to his memory. His strict integrity won for him the utmost confidence of the public, and his social nature made him a host of friends. He was kind and generous beyond his means and was ever ready to lend a helping hand to any in need. The deceased, who was 75 years of age on December 18th last, was born in County Meath, Ireland. At about 21 years of age he came with his parents to Canada, and for a short time lived at Markham before settling in Artemesia on the Toronto line. About 45 years ago Mr. Strain was married to Miss Eliza Jane Bell, of Holland, who, with a very highly respected family of six sons and four daughters, survive him. He is also survived by two brothers and two sisters. In religion, Mr. Strain was a life long Methodist. For a number of years he was a member of the Masonic lodge here, and up to the time of his death retained membership in B. T. of T. and A. O. U. W. societies.

Mrs. Thomas Bell, an old resident of Artemesia, passed away on Sunday, August 23rd, at her late home in West Toronto. The deceased, who was in her 55th year, was a daughter of the late Mr. George McKenzie, of the Toronto line, Artemesia. In 1880 she was married to Mr. Thos. Bell, and up till five years ago resided in Owen Sound, where the remains were taken for burial on Tuesday of last week. She was a consistent member of the Presbyterian church. Mr. Roderick McKenzie and sisters Emily and Mary, Toronto line, Mr. T. R. McKenzie, deputy reeve of Artemesia, Mrs. D. Taylor, Owen Sound, and Mrs. G. Littlejohns, Markdale, are the surviving brothers and sisters of the deceased. The brothers and sister Emily attended the funeral.

When the fire, which is a mystery, was discovered by a neighbor nothing could be done to extinguish it. We have not learned the amount, but understand there is some insurance on the building. The loss, however, will be heavy.

Rev. Dr. Caldwell and Rev. G. Waugh, of Horning's Mills, exchanged pulpits on Sunday in the interests of the educational fund of the church. Mr. Waugh preached excellent sermons, which were highly appreciated. The Baptist pulpit was supplied by Mr. L. M. Wilkes, who assisted the pastor last summer, but who is now engaged in Y. M. C. A. work at Belleville.

The hard work of bread-making should be done in the flour mill—not in the kitchen.

When it is necessary for you to make bread by main strength you can rest assured that the miller hasn't done his part. His flour is not fine enough.

THE ZARZA ROOT.

The druggist served his warm and thirsty patrons with icy sarsaparilla—called 'sasp'arella' in the vernacular. "Did you ever stop to think where this delicious stuff comes from?" he asked. "Sassafras, isn't it?" they hazarded. Sassafras nothing," said the druggist. "Sarsaparilla is made from zarza roots, and zarza roots come from the Amazonas swamps of Brazil. Fearful swamps they are. Smelly black mud—mosquitoes in millions—snakes and crabs—heat, poison, orchids, fever. And here the natives camp for weeks at a time, gathering zarza root for the summer sarsaparilla trade. The vine runs along the ground, the roots are located and half of them are taken; the remaining half is carefully covered with soil again, so that they will sprout for next year. It is because sarsaparilla, like quinine, grows in fever soil, that it is good for fever."—Los Angeles Times.

THINGS WORTH KNOWING.

If you dip the wick of lamps strong, hot vinegar, then dry the it will do away with most of the disagreeable odor.
The cheapest scourer for great sticky or blakened pans and the most effective too, is common white sand a jar of which it is well to keep the kitchen sink.
Waxed paper bags are a new idea for holding coffee, fruits, confection etc. They are also useful for packing furs and woollens away from moth the paraffine coating rendering the both air and water tight.
A white or colored dress usually comes creased and crumpled long before it is soiled sufficiently to warrant its despatch to the laundry. Little thin starch, made with cold water will, however, be found excellent as a means of stiffening the skirt where it has been limp, a sponge dipped in the starch being used which to dampen the material. The garment should then be spread over an ironing board and pressed all over by degrees.
When cleaning boards scrub the waxy of the grain of the wood; plenty of warm water. Wash a dry one small piece at a time. Do not put more water on the board than is necessary to make them clean as they will take very long to dry made too wet. When the boards have been well scrubbed, they must be rubbed with a clean cloth, wrung of clean, warm water; then with dry cloth, the way of the grain. The boards are not well rubbed and dried, they will not be of good color even after a good scrubbing.

A LUCKY EDITOR.

The editor of this paper desires thus publicly to thank the person who stole his cucumbers the other night, not for the stealing particular, but for what the said person left behind. The purse found among the vines the next morning, which contained three dollar bills, a silver dollar, a half and two quarters, very fully paid for the cucumbers. It was also a source of some satisfaction to find the name of said person in a small memorandum book dropped at the same time. Thanks Call again. More cucumbers have set on.—Pomeroy (O.) Tribune-Telegraph.

"Hecla" Furnace

Means Perfect Heating without Gas, Dust or Smoke.

The "Hecla" Furnace is the only Furnace with Fused Joints.

These Joints are made by fusing the steel and cast iron parts together at white heat making an indestructible joint. Fused Joints are permanently airtight. Even after 20 years' use they will not work loose or leak. They insure absolute freedom from dust, smoke and gas.

The Steel-Ribbed Fire Pot used on the "Hecla" Furnace has three times as much radiating surface as any other style of fire pot. It will save fuel for you and give you more heat. It extracts from the fire, heat that would otherwise go up the chimney.

Let us show you the 1908 "Hecla" and explain all the latest improvements in detail.

Made by the makers of "Fearless Peniculator" Ranges.
