startled about 6.30 Sunday morning by the cry of "fire" and it was soon found that Mitchell Bros.' large saw mill was in flames. It was thought at first that nothing could be saved, the heat being terrible and everything o dry that it went up like paper. The office and filing room were soon stripped of their contents. By this time the roof had fallen. The 100 acres, Glenelg, Frame Dwelling, Bank heat decreased and a heroic and successful attempt was made to seve the buildings and lumber piles that stood close to the mill.
