Prevent Taking Cold.

Often you come home cold and shivering—feet are wet, throat is raw, chest is a little sore. A bad cold is just beginning. Put a Nerviline Porous Plaster on your chest, rub your chest with Nerviline, and take a stiff dose of Nerviline in hot water. This prevents a chill and checks a cold instantly. No remedies so useful in the home, so sure to prevent serious illness as Nerviline and Nerviline Plasters. Sold by all dealers at 25c. each, but be sure you get the genuine, and refuse any substitute.

ONE BAD MISTAKE

Is Frequently Made by the Wisest of Durham People.

It's a serious mistake to neglect backache. Backache is the first symptom of kidney ills. Fatal complications may follow. Booth's Kidney Pills act quickly to overcome kidney ills and do not delay until late, it may mean Diabetes, Brights Disease. Read what a Durham resident says.

Mrs. Hugh McLean, of Main St., Durham, Ont. says: "My son had suffered with kidney trouble for over a year. His back was very tender and weak at times and sharp pains would shoot through the kidney region. Doctors had told him his kidneys were off and he didn't seem to benefit. He would often be unable to stoop or lift anything of consequence. He procured a box of Booth's Kidney Pills at Mr. McFarlane's Drug store and found the best of results from the first of the treatment. His back was soon freed from the severe pain and he strengthened. He has enjoyed the best of health since and says he would not be without a box of Booth's Kidney Pills in the house."

Sold by dealers. Price 50 cents. The R. T. Booth Co., Ltd., Fort Erie, Ont., Sole Canadian Agents.

Why Colds are Dangerous.

Because you have contracted ordinary colds and recovered from them without treatment of any kind, do not for a moment imagine that colds are not dangerous. Everyone knows that pneumonia and chronic catarrh have their origin in common cold. Consumption is not caused by a cold but the cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the germs that would not otherwise have found lodgment. It is the same with infectious diseases, Diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles, and whooping cough, or more likely to be contracted when the child has a cold. You will see from this that more real lurks in a cold than in any other of the common ailments. The easiest and quickest way to cure a cold is to take many remarkable cures effected by this preparation have made it a staple article of trade over a large part of the world. For sale by all drug stores.

willing to give any reasonable assistance to those who are really desirous of knowing the subject. These points he advocated and illustrated in his development of his topic. Mr. Cornwall is a favorite with our teachers if the remarks heard at the close of the Convention count anything. His practical common-sense methods of dealing with his topics attract the common-sense teacher. His wise councils will not soon be forgotten.

The Convention was also favored with the presence of Inspector Burgess of Owen Sound. Mr. Burgess has often rendered valuable assistance in the past and this time was no exception. He discussed many points of vital interest to every honest teacher and incidentally demonstrated the value of a live inspector with our children, who were in some cases being neglected by careless and indifferent teachers. West Grey has reason to congratulate itself on having a live conscientious inspector who tries to see that the children in every school receive from the teacher the essentials of a thorough public education. Mr. Burgess emphasized the necessity of teaching carefully the subjects of part I of the entrance examination, which were often in danger of being neglected because no examination was required in them. Teachers sometimes forget to tell their confidential report to the inspector that the work in these subjects had been properly covered, when, as a matter of fact, very little, if any, attention had been paid to them. Inspector Campbell also confirmed the words of Inspector Burgess in this regard.

Mr. M. K. Richardson was present and addressed the Convention in a most little speech. He counselled the teachers to give the pupils sympathy and encouragement in their work and cited instances where such a course was the turning point in a life. Mr. Richardson is still the child's true friend and his words find ready response in the heart of every true teacher.

Several papers had to stand over for want of time. These will be given next year.

The following are the officers for 1908-9:

President, J. S. Rowe, Markdale; 1st vice president, Miss Mary Coppinger, Hanover; 2nd vice president, Miss Annie K. Hill, Dundalk; Secretaries, Thomas Allan, Durham; management committee, Messrs. Wm. Heath, Flesherton, J. H. McKenzie, Drumore, and M. L. Stancombe, Mount Forest, and M. Leeson, Hamper; auditors, Messrs. C. D. Farquharson and S. McNally.

Durham is to be the next place of meeting.

On Thursday evening in the township hall the usual high-class concert was given under the auspices of the Teachers' Institute. In addition to the splendid local talent which Flesherton can supply so abundantly, Miss Elsie Dixon Craig, of Toronto, elocutnist, impersonator musician, was secured, and it is safe to say that the concert was in every way worthy to be classed among the best that have been. Miss Craig was good. The little folks under the direction of Mrs. Blackburn did their parts splendidly. Mrs. Blackburn is to be congratulated upon the excellence and naturalness in which she took part either as principal or tutor. Miss Munnshaw presided at the piano with her usual grace and good taste. All through the concert we highly enjoyed and listened to with pleasure.

Much credit is due to Mr. Heath and his efficient staff for their unselfish and unremitting labors in providing for the comfort and entertainment of the teachers while attending the Convention.

showed the importance first of cultivating the emotional side of the child's nature, for through his feelings his knowledge faculties could be aroused and the will disposed to aid in the work of education. He emphasized the fact that the teacher must know the pupils before she can sympathize with them in the right spirit.

In the afternoon the Flesherton School Board, represented by Mr. Mitchell and Mr. Bellamy, attended the teachers the hearty greeting of the Board and citizens and expressed the hope that their stay in Flesherton would be pleasant and profitable. Inspector Campbell on behalf of the teachers, tendered the School Board and the village the thanks of the Convention for their hearty welcome extended so cordially.

Mr. Urquhart, the enthusiastic principal of the Dundalk public school, then took up the subject, "Tommy and the teacher." Under this suggestive title Mr. Urquhart discussed in a very serious and important manner the various relations between pupils and teachers. He did not hesitate to declare that perhaps ninety per cent. of the troubles between pupils and teachers arose because the teacher did not quite understand Tommy—the other ten per cent. was due to foolish parents. Occasionally, of course, Tommy was at fault, but such cases of inherent perversity were rare. Mr. Urquhart is all "go." He throws his whole force into whatever he undertakes and from a long experience he was able to throw much light on many intricate points. He is one of the valuable "assets" of the Convention and his enthusiasm gives swing and movement to the discussions.

Two of the younger teachers then followed with stimulating and helpful papers bearing directly on the teacher's work. Miss Beames of No. 5, Proton, discussed "Character building," and Mr. McQueen of No. 9, Egramont, the ever-present one of "Discipline." Both papers proved that all the wisdom of the world is not yet with the ancients. They were carefully prepared and set forth concisely, and with a wealth of reading, coupled with illustrations from the writers own experience. Such teachers have a bright future before them. They are not the kind that stagnate in the muddy pools of their own infulence.

Two lively discussions, one led by Mr. Heath, of Flesherton, and the other by Mr. Rowe, of Markdale, on "Ventilation in school" and "Home work" followed. Mr. Heath proved that many trustee boards were totally indifferent to the ventilation of their schools, and provided means other than the doors and windows to maintain in the air at any standard of purity. It was generally agreed that the teacher should not use the means at their disposal to the full extent of their capacity; that greater attention should be paid to the ventilation and that the process of educating the public as to the needs of public buildings, especially school houses, in paper would doubtless be carried on sedulously through the children and in every other available manner. Mr. Heath gave some excellent hints and good results will follow. Mr. Rowe discussed "Home work" in that easy style which proves familiarly with all phases of the subject. His address was a warning against the giving of home work, and the result of the discussion appeared to be that in rural sections it was wise to give home work of a suitable kind to most the classes, but in urban schools it was better to confine it to the senior classes. It was felt that the overcrowded curriculum made it absolutely necessary to give home work in order to cover the ground in any reasonable time. The only way to avoid home work was to emphasize fewer subjects on the course and leave the others largely optional.

Miss Stancombe, of No. 5, Egramont, read a most valuable paper on "The Teacher's Mission." It was replete with good things and you are regretfully regretted that there was no room to give even an outline of it. It was generally regarded as one of the best papers at the Convention. It should be printed and a copy placed in the hands of every teacher. A higher conception of the teacher's mission would doubtless be the result in some cases at least.

Another equally excellent paper from its own standpoint was read by Miss Pearl McFarlane, of No. 4, Egramont. Miss McFarlane, so your correspondent was informed, took the summer classes in art at Toronto University last summer. Her paper on "Elementary Art" was a brief, summary of the work given there so far as it applied to public school work. Her paper was illustrated by drawings from her own pupils, which were very creditable indeed. In our humble opinion this paper also should be printed and distributed among the teachers and for the information of the parents as well.

Mr. J. L. Cornwall, the energetic principal of the Meaford High School, again generously gave the Convention the benefit of his wide experience and his intensely practical teaching. By means of some of the entrance examination answers, best summer in English composition, he was able to expose the weak places in the work of many of the teachers and to bring home the necessity of more careful teaching in this important subject. He pleaded for better spelling and writing, greater care in teaching punctuation and paragraphing so as to prepare the pupils for the work of life. All of them would require to use the mother tongue and they should be taught to use it properly. His topic "Continuation of Interest" was of great interest to the continuation class teachers. After seeing his method of introducing and developing the subject one does not wonder at the success of his pupils. He is clear, patient and

Many of our citizens attended the fall fairs at Feversham and Dundalk last week.

Mrs. Thurston, Mrs. Bunt, Mrs. W. A. Armstrong, and Mrs. Tom Wilson attended the Grey County Women's Institute Convention at Chatsworth last week.

Mr. Geo. Laidlaw sold his fifty acre farm last week to Mr. Joseph Fenwick of this village, who will move out soon.

Mr. W. A. Armstrong has sold his house and lot occupied by Mrs. McKinnon to Mr. John Colgan, who will shortly move to town.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Wright and daughter, Mrs. Thea Wright, Miss Elvira, of San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Alf. Wright, of New York; Mr. Thorp Wright and Miss Emma Wright, of Toronto, visited old friends here part of last week, and all attended service in the Methodist church on Sunday morning. Forty years have passed since the visit, and Charlie and Alf. Wright under the dominie Palmer east of the village, and their visit awakened pleasant memories of by gone days. We were pleased to see that the weight of years sits so lightly upon our old school mates, who remain the practical jokers they always were.

The special services in the Methodist church are nightly growing in interest and blessing. Mr. McHardy's speaking is thoughtful and heart searching, and Mr. McCreedy's singing is sweet and effective. Mr. McHardy's sermon on Sunday night in the "Unpardonable Sin" was a well reasoned and interesting interpretation. Mr. McCreedy sang at the Presbyterian service in the afternoon, when Rev. Mr. Shepherd, of Markdale, preached a good sermon. At the Baptist church, which was profited decorated, Rev. L. F. Klop conducted an interesting harvest home service and the choir rendered appropriate music.

The annual meeting of the South Grey Teachers' Institute was held in Flesherton Public School last Thursday and Friday. The cloud laden sky and light rain showers of Wednesday evening seemed to promise nothing better than the usual teachers' "conventional" weather, but Thursday morning was dry and though somewhat cool, was pleasant. This condition continued throughout the session and added much to the enjoyment of the visiting teachers.

The teachers showed their appreciation of the good weather by turning out in large numbers than usual for the morning session of the first day. Seventy-five answered to the roll call, and they represented progressive communities from all parts of the inspectorate from Hanover to Neustadt on the west, to Dundalk and Maxwell on the east, and from Dornoch to Mount Forest, north and south. They came wearing their best gowns, their finest feathers, their smiles and their most persuasive looks. It might be called a ladies' convention as the gentlemen were so few as only to heighten by contrast the disparity between the sexes. Their presence was like sunshine in the village. And as teachers of the young this is the way they ought to be. Morose, surly, dull, sluggish, slatternly, unneighborly souls should have no place in the education of the young. It can be said of the teachers that visited our village yesterday and to-day that they were bright, youthful, spirited, enthusiastic, and, yes, good looking. The educational interests of the children ought to be safe in their hands.

After the usual preliminary items of business, the programme was begun by Miss Jay, teacher of No. 4, Glenelg. Miss Jay discussed, with the aid of few notes, in a capable and intelligent manner, the important subject, "How to make the school room attractive." The value of an attractive building, the use of plants, pictures, the flag, ornamental decorations and pictures done or drawn by the children themselves, were reviewed in turn and their place and use pointed out. But Miss Jay went deeper, she showed that the main attraction after all is a live, kindly, helpful and sympathetic teacher. Such a teacher, if neat, tidy and dressed with reasonable care, would be sure to win her pupils and secure regular attendance and good work. Some of the more experienced members of the convention confirmed Miss Jay's positions, but emphasized the fact that trustees were not always sufficiently interested in the school to do their part as well as they might.

Mr. Allan, principal of the Durham Model School, followed, discussing with his usual clearness and forcefulness the "Importance of Sympathy and Cheerfulness in School Work." He or yourself with a splitting backache. It shows there is something radically wrong. If you have repeated backaches, lame or weak back, quick pains when stooping or lifting; if you are tired and nervous, have headache, dizzy spells, rheumatic or neuralgic pain, gravel, scalding urine, too frequent passages, scanty or discolored urine, your kidneys need attention. Dr. Root's Kidney and Liver Pills will bring quick help to sick kidneys, and is a remedy that can be taken by young or old, weak or strong, and in every case with prompt benefit.

RHEUMATISM CURED—Mrs. Silas Davidson, Smith's Falls, says:—"I had rheumatism in my hips so badly I could scarcely walk. I concluded it must be caused from the kidneys, and started using the pills. I found that in two days' time I was much better, so I continued taking them. After taking the fifth box, I had no trace of rheumatism, or lame back, and I give the credit to Dr. Root's Kidney and Liver Pills."
