Alex. Mann, gardener, of Orangeville, has issued a writ against the Superior Portland Cement Co. for damages to his garden, caused, as he alleges, by cement dust and smoke from the plant.

The Council have been improving the condition of some of the back streets by having them graveled. Several of the crossings have also been attended to recently, and not a moment too soon, either.

Mark the date and mark it well, Wednesday, November 4th at 9 a.m. The big closing out sale of the Alex. Russell $25,000 stock of general merchandise. You can't afford to miss this sale.

Mr. T. H. Blacklock, of the Weyburn, Sask., Herald, formerly of the Dundalk Herald, is one of the active speakers for the Conservative party in the West during the campaign.—Printer and Publisher, Toronto.

Wait for the big closing out, quit business sales of Alex. Russell, the Big Store. Stock now in the hands of the National Salvage Company, of Toronto, for immediate disposal. Sale opens Wednesday, November 4th at 9 a.m.

The cement mill is still running full blast and is turning out the finished product at the rate of over 1300 barrels per day. Barring accidents this month threatens to eclipse all former records with a total of over 40,000 barrels output.

The anniversary services of Ebenezer Methodist church, three miles west of here will be held on Sunday, November 1st, when Henry Willogby, of Elmwood, is expected to preach. On Monday evening a tea meeting will be held, to which all are invited. A good program will be provided. Admission 15 and 25 cents.

William Wesley Smith, a well-known newspaper man, of Battleford, was married last month to Miss Annie Madeline Bentham, of Dunkirk, N.Y., and on their way West. Mr. and Mrs. Smith spent a few days in Toronto.—Printer and Publisher, Toronto. Mr. Smith was a pupil at one time of the Editor of this paper.

On Friday morning last while Mr. Wm. Laidlaw was cleaning his horse in the yard outside his stable, the animal became frightened at a passing C.P.R. train and bolted. Mr. Laidlaw had tied the animal to the gate, and was, in the meantime, called to the telephone office on business. About this time the unlucky train came along, and in notifying people who might be descending the Durham hill that he was going to cross over, the driver caused the whistle of his engine to emit a series of screeches and shrieks that would have placed the hog department of the Armour packing company's stockyards in the shade. The horse couldn't stand it, and just had to get out. As his master always supplies him with the "best" in the matter of the straps, he took gate and all and started down the road at full speed. When William saw him coming he had the gate on his back and was making his way down Mill street at a gait suggestive of going for the doctor, and which proved to be too fast to allow of his turning the corner. The animal ran onto the sidewalk in front of Mockler's store, where he slipped and fell, and was captured. Mr. Laidlaw thinks he is twice lucky, first that the animal fell and didn't go through the plate glass window, and second that he came through the whole series of events unscathed. He'll not tie up to the gate any more.

Girl wanted — For general house work. Apply at once to Mrs. J. A. Brown.—2

Big discount sale of clothing at H. H. Mockler's. Now is the opportunity. 20% discount on every suit in the store to make room for our immense stock of overcoats.—The House of Quality.

We are pleased to welcome Dr. MacLaurin back to Durham. After his illness last spring he thought it advisable to take a rest and spent the summer at Port Sanfield, Muskoka. He is now much improved and able to go to work.

The month of October has, so far, behaved itself wonderfully well. Though we have had a few cold and chilly days, the weather conditions have been all that could be desired. It may change any time now, so we won't brag.

Alex. Russell, the Big Store, entire $25,000 stock of clothing and shoes for men, women and children, dry goods, hardware, crockery and groceries will be thrown on the market for what they will bring. Wait for the opening date, November 4th at 9 a.m.

To cure acute indigestion, take one cup of hot water, dissolve in it baking soda as large as a pea and a pinch of salt. Take this half an hour before breakfast. Eat a light breakfast. After dinner take the inside skin of a fowl's gizzard, and pinch up a piece the size of a pill and take it. For supper take a cup of boiled milk.

The Durham branch of the Women's Institute held their October meeting at the home of Mrs. J. McGirr. It was decided that all members pay one cent extra per month to help defray all necessary expenses. The next meeting will be held on Nov. 5th at the home of Mrs. T. Grasby, south of Durham. A report of Chatsworth Convention will be given by delegates. All are welcome.

The Dundalk Herald announced that it remained neutral during the late political campaign in East Grey, but has given considerable space to reporting the meetings of both sides. Several other local papers, especially in places where there is only one, have been similarly silent. We are not inclined to blame them for doing so. In a country such as this in which metropolitan papers may easily find their way into every home, the ordinary local newspaper has enough to do to attend to local business. In a place where there are two or more papers supposed to be on different sides of politics, the situation is quite different and the public expect them to give opinions on political questions. To unravel a lot of politics is one of the easiest ways for a local newspaper man to supply himself with copy should there be a scarcity of local news, and in the humble opinion of the writer it is not wise to keep dabbling in politics all the year round. In any event whether a local paper indulges in politics either all the time or periodically an effort should be made to stay somewhere near the truth and avoid the dry remarks and glaring untruths that are too often indulged in during an election contest. The man who deliberately and knowingly lies in print need not be surprised if he loses public confidence.

Lost—At the funeral of Mrs. Langrill, on Sunday last, a buggy knee spread. The finder will oblige Mrs. Lauder at the creamery by returning the same to her. —1-p

The Payne property on Countess street, which was recently purchased by Mrs. J. W. Irwin, is at present undergoing improvement. The house is being raised and the cellar enlarged.

Wanted—25 extra sales people for the big closing out, quit business sale of the Alex. Russell stock, now in the hands of the National Salvage Co., of Toronto. Apply Saturday morning 10 a.m., at the Hahn House. Inquire for Wm. Bahr, sales manager.

It embodies the best shrunken linen canvas, best felt, silesia and body linings, best hair cloth, wool pads and stays. It is well tacked, stayed, and tailored to fit the form, with perfect fitting collar. The most correct cut, best wearing qualities and more stylish than any other. The House of Quality. H. H. Mockler.

MRS. WM LANGRILL DEAD

One of the oldest pioneers in this vicinity passed away on Thursday night last in the person of Mrs. Wm. Langrill, who died at the home of her son Samuel at the ripe old age of eighty-one years.

The deceased lady, whose maiden name was Hannah Hutton, was born in the County of Wicklow, Ireland, on the 20th of August, 1827. In 1845, at the age of eighteen, she came to Canada with her parents and settled near Durham. She was married in 1851 to the late Thos. Lawrence, who died in 1859, leaving three sons, John, who died a few years ago, and Thomas H. and Charles, who still reside in the township of Bentinck, a short distance from Hutton Hill.

In 1861 she married Mr. Wm. Langrill, who died about 12 years ago, leaving only one son, at whose home the deceased spent the years of her second widowhood and the remaining years of her life.

MRS. WM. LANGRILL.

For about twenty-two years after the first marriage of the deceased, she was a resident of the township of Glenelg, but moved about thirty-five years ago to Lot 61, Con. 3, Bentinck, on which farm she remained till the time of her death.

In religion she was originally an Episcopalian, but for forty years or more she has been an ardent member of the Methodist church.

She was a pioneer, as above stated, and was blessed with a strong constitution, which enabled her in those early days to bear the burden and endure the hardships that are incident to pioneer life. She was an industrious and affectionate wife and mother, and though she passed the allotted time some years ago, her death is mourned by all the members of her sorrowing family. Interment took place on Sunday afternoon last, when her mortal remains were laid away in the Hutton Hill cemetery in the presence of a large number of sorrowing friends and relatives.
