Killed at Port Elgin.

Thursday last at Port Elgin a sad accident happened in the Dominion Pressed Steel Works, in which Mr. Edward Williams lost his life. While he and other helpers were moving a riveting machine the base on which it was placed became over-balanced on the rollers, and the machine being too heavy fell and struck a pinch bar, which Mr. Williams was using, which appears to have struck him on the right side and wrist, causing immediate death. Mr. Williams came here from Pittsburg as a welder.—O. S. Advertiser.

Attacked by a Bull.

While Dr. A. G. Fortune was crossing over the yard to Mr. William Miehhausen's barn on Saturday afternoon, a bull which shortly before had been turned out of the stable, suddenly rushed at him. The doctor didn't notice the animal coming until it was almost upon him, but quickly turning round he caught it by the horns, and wrestled about the field with it until Mr. Miehhausen came to his aid and drove it off with a club.—Walkerton Times.

Edward Jessop Dead.

Edward Jessop, one of the pioneer settlers of Shelburne, died at his home Main street east, Shelburne, on Saturday evening last at the age of 65 years. Deceased came here about 35 years ago and was in the employ of Messrs. E. Berwick & Co. as a clerk several years before going into insurance and real estate business on his own account. Deceased was a prominent member of the Methodist church and an ardent temperance worker during the Scott Act days. His advocacy of the temperance cause brought him opposition from all sides, yet he always stuck to his principles on that question. Early last spring he caught a severe cold and had an attack of pneumonia, which left him in a weak state all summer. Latterly he was able to go up town almost every day, but a paralytic stroke a few days ago terminated fatally on Saturday night. Deceased is survived by his widow, three sons and one daughter. The sons are, Wm. Jessop, merchant, North Bay; Ernest Jessop, druggist, Fort William, and Harvey Jessop, at home. There is one daughter, Miss Olive, at home. Mrs. Jessop, of Mt. Forest, and William Jessop, of Mono, and Humphrey Jessop, of Fergus, are brothers. The sisters are, Mrs. Beer, Arthur; Mrs. Medley, Erin; Mrs. Maud, Everton. The funeral was held on Monday afternoon to Shelburne cemetery.—Shelburne Free Press.

Rheumatism Recipe.

A well-known authority on Rheumatism, gives the following valuable, though simple and harmless prescription, which any one can easily prepare at home.—

Fluid Extract Dundelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sassa-parilla, three ounces.

Mix by shaking well in a bottle, and take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

He states that the ingredients can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy at small cost, and, being of vegetable extraction, are harmless to take.

This pleasant mixture, if taken regularly for a few days, is said to overcome almost any case of Rheumatism. The pain and swelling, if any, diminishes with each dose, and permanent results are obtained, and without injuring the stomach. While there are many so-called Rheumatism remedies, patent medicines, etc., some of which do give relief, few really give permanent results, and the above will, no doubt, be greatly appreciated by many sufferers here at this time.

Inquiry at the drug stores of this neighborhood elicits the information that these drugs are harmless and can be bought separately, or the druggists here will mix the prescription for our readers if asked to.

A Costly Jump.

During the next few weeks a young Englishman named Arthur Smith, will have to thank of the wisdom of the old saw, "Look before you leap." Smith was engaged on Sunday afternoon unloading the steamer Empress of Midland, which came in with a large cargo of grain. While the steam shovel at the grain elevator were being rigged up Smith was told to go down into the hold and get the hose. Instead of descending by means of the ladder as he ought to have done, Smith decided to save time by leaping into the hold. The distance he was standing to the surface of the grain was about fifteen feet, and had he landed on the grain as he intended, everything would have been all right. As it happened, however, in his descent his left foot came in contact with a footboard in the hold, with the result that he fractured his ankle. The unfortunate young man was taken to his boarding house where Dr. Cameron attended to his injury. Smith was to have started for his home in England in the course of a fortnight, but of course it will now be impossible for him to undertake the journey in that time as several weeks must elapse before he is able to go about again.—Owen Sound Times.

Near Death's Door.

Mi-o-na cures dyspepsia. If any of the readers of the Chronicle are suffering from stomach trouble of any kind, Macfarlane & Co. will sell you a box of Mi-o-na for 50 cents with an absolute guarantee of relief or money back.

Neil Murray of Huron Road, Goddard, Ont., says—"I suffered with indigestion for over four years and had been given up as incurable by many doctors. I had become a nervous wreck through loss of sleep and whatever I ate did not remain on my stomach for over two hours. I would suffer with vomiting spells that would almost kill me, perspiration as large as beads would break out all over my body and leave me in so weakened a condition that I would be unable to stand, not a night's rest in over six months and was so weakened and run down that my family thought I would die. My heart was greatly weakened and would flutter and a sharp pain would come through me and cut off my breath. I was reduced in weight from 150 to less than 110 pounds. Doctors would give different causes for my trouble, yet none of them gave me the slightest relief. I commenced treatment with Mi-o-na and when one-half of the first box was used I could eat my meals without suffering the dreadful vomiting spells. I used about ten boxes in all and I am entirely cured. My stomach is as strong as ever and there is not the slightest trouble with digestion. I have gained about 40 pounds in weight, am strong and healthy and like a new man. I will always speak highly of Mi-o-na, as it cured and I believe kept me from same death when all else had failed."

Spontaneous Blaze.

A curious incident of spontaneous combustion occurred at a new residence, Jackson street, being erected for Mr. Wm. Brown, carpenter contractor. The painters were at work and when they quit at night one of the gang threw his overalls on the floor alongside the pots of paints and oils. In so moving when they came to work it was found that the floor was burned through in a spot with a diameter of about eighteen inches and the joist charred below. Only a few buttons showed where the overalls had been, but investigation showed that when the garments were laid off there was laid in one of the pockets a piece of cotton waste which had been used in rubbing in some tiling and there is no doubt that it ignited spontaneously and the burned floor remained. It was fortunate that the fire was extinguished before it had time to do any damage and also that an insurance policy covered the cost of the damage.—Owen Sound Times.

Thought the Price very High.

It may be news to some of our readers to say that James Fennel of Amaranth, is the owner of a fox kennel and intends to raise foxes on scientific principles for pleasure and profit principally the latter. Two weeks ago James visited his brother at Port Elgin and while there he went to Wyoming to see a couple of kennels there and if possible make a couple of purchases to increase his own stock. The proprietor received him courteously and took him out to see the animals which are kept in cement kennels in a grove. Only four or five came out while he was there. One, a beautiful black fox took Mr. Fennel's attention and on asking the price found that it was valued at $1000. The price of a silver grey one was $250, and one each would be valued at $100 each. James thought the prices very high and came away without purchasing any.—Shelburne Free Press.

Provincial Auditor's Report.

The report of the chartered accountants employed by the Provincial Auditor to investigate the books and accounts of the township of Proton in response to a petition signed by Mr. J. McArdle and his co-petitioners before the members of the township Council at their meeting in Hopeville, on Saturday, November 21st. The report, covering many pages of closely written matter, was every-where thorough and searching work and a copy of same was sent to Mr. McArdle for the benefit of himself and his co-petitioners. Mr. Young, the auditor, assumes that the work seemingly desired to be covered by the investigation was an accounting for the funds of the township passing through the hands of the late treasurer, Mr. Geo. Watson, during his tenure of office and a verification of the collectors' rolls, and he states that after a thorough and exhaustive investigation and a year feature of the accounts from various available sources, he is of the opinion that all the monies of the township have been duly accounted for and paid out under proper authority. This clause of the report, which seems to cover the most vital part of the investigation, not only vindicates the character of Mr. Watson, both as to his ability and honesty, and effectively disposes of the rumors which have been current throughout the township that the people might be prepared for a serious shortage in the Treasurer's accounts when the books are investigated. He condemns the present system of paying out money and states that all money should be deposited in the bank and be paid out only by cheque, thereby making it easy to trace every payment made by the Township Treasurer. He also states that the keeping of a ledger by the Treasurer in a township like Proton, with numerous sinking funds and drain accounts, would greatly facilitate the correct winding up of these accounts, which under the present system becomes particularly a matter of guess work. Taken on the whole it is a comprehensive and exhaustive report containing many valuable suggestions for the future guidance of the township officials in transacting township business. The cost of the investigation will total up the snug little sum of $400 which will have to be borne, not by Mr. McArdle and his co-petitioners, but by the township as a whole.—Dundalk Herald.

Lawyer in Box

Lawyer Mickle, of Chesley, had to get into the witness box here on Monday in the lawsuit between W. Stinson and M. A. Halliday. There ought to be a law passed to compel every lawyer in the country to go into the witness box twice a year, so that he might be made to realize by actual experience, what it is to be a witness, and to be pulled by a lawyer. It would make them more considerate in dealing with witnesses in cross examination.—Walkerton Telescope.

Thirty Years Ago.

In the Guelph Mercury, "30 years ago" column, we notice the following item:—Master George Fox, the marvellous boy musician, who has been referred to as a second Mozart has created a great sensation in Detroit. He about seven years of age and he is accompanied in the piano by his father, a child of but four years of age.—Telescope.

Won First Round.

A correspondent of the Toronto News says—"The local option forces in Owen Sound have won the first round of the big fight, which ends at the election in January. In 598 appeals entered by the Anti-Barroom League, they have succeeded in 451. Out of 133 appeals entered by the "antis" 103 succeeded. Persons not entitled to vote were struck off, and 12 names added. The liquor interests were looked after by Robert Christie, and fifty-three names were added and fifty names struck off.

Boarder Ran Off With Family.

The domestic troubles of Mr. Jos. Barlow, Hill street, were aired at length in Police Court this morning. Barlow, his wife and two children have been residents of Owen Sound for a little over a year. To eke out his earnings, they had a couple of lodgers, one of whom, Thomas Radcliffe, is said to be the cause of all the trouble. He went to live with them two or three months ago. Up to that time, according to Barlow's story, everything was lovely in the Barlow home. But of late relations between him and his wife have become strained. They reached the breaking point Tuesday. When Barlow came home from work on Tuesday he found that his lodger had departed; and not only the lodger, but Mrs. Barlow and the two children, aged seven and four, had mysteriously disappeared. Mr. Barlow had expected Radcliffe's departure, as he had been talking of going to Detroit to get some money he had won in a lawsuit. He was not very sorry to see the last of him. But Mrs. Barlow and the children were another matter. He held himself to the police office. After a good deal of trouble due to Barlow's excited state, Chief McAulay got his story and telegraphed the Toronto police to hold the travellers, who, he found, had left on the 3:15 train. Radcliffe and Mrs. Barlow were arrested at Parkdale, the former on a charge of abducting the children, the latter for not going back to Barlow, that she was going home to where her friends lived, and that Radcliffe was merely helping look after the children, as he happened to be going too. It seemed, however, that Radcliffe had paid for the children, which were delivered to Mr. and Mrs. Henshaw. The runaways were brought back Wednesday, and appeared in Court yesterday, when they were remanded to give a chance if possible, to arrange terms of peace. But this morning, Mr. McAulay, who appeared for the defence, stated that there seemed to be no prospect of any settlement. Mrs. Barlow wanted to get away to England, where she could support herself and the children. Barlow apparently was not anxious to let her go, if she wished, but he wanted to keep the children, and said so, most emphatically. The hearing is still in progress as we go to press. A charge of theft laid against Radcliffe was the first taken up and is still unfinished.—Owen Sound Sun.

Dangerous Blaze Saturday Night.

Markdale citizens received a bad scare on Saturday evening about 8:30 when word flew around town that Sarah's stable, in the rear of M. J. Jones' store, was on fire. Scores of hundreds were on the spot in a few minutes, and with all the buckets and pails that could be procured, went to work with a determination to stamp out the fire which threatened to destroy the whole block. The blaze originated in one of the worst fire traps in town—the building which was burned being entirely surrounded by frame structures, which would prove an easy prey to the flames if allowed to spread. Never in our history have we seen men and women, to work with such a will and grim determination as on Saturday night. The extremely dangerous locality and the proximity of other buildings making it so apparent to everybody the great necessity for immediate and concerted action was so alarming that assistance was asked for from Owen Sound and the fire brigade of that town stood ready to come at an instant's notice. No one appears to know the name of the fire, but it seems to have originated in the hay loft, probably from an electric wire, for when first noticed the flames were shooting forth from the roof, and had gained so much headway that no attempt was made to save the building, the efforts being confined to keeping the surrounding structures from igniting. Great numbers of farmers fell all over town and a careful watch was kept to prevent the fire from breaking out in other portions of the town. A strong bucket brigade managed to keep surrounding buildings drenched with water from top to bottom, and were thus successful in saving them. Dozens of farmers from the surrounding country joined hands with the citizens in assisting to protect the property and all worked heroically. The building was worth $300 or $400, and besides this four sets of harness, half a dozen hides and a dressed beaver were destroyed. The building was partially destroyed.—Markdale Standard.

Dean Farthing Now Bishop

Montreal, November 24.—Very Rev. Dean Farthing, of Kingston, was elected Bishop of the Diocese of the eleventh ballot of the Diocesan Synod this evening. Up to the 11th ballot Dean Evans, of Montreal, had a majority of the clerical votes, but Dean Farthing had a sufficient number of the laity delegates to elect him on the twelfth ballot. The Evans' showed signs of breaking up, and on the eleventh ballot a sufficient number of the clerical delegates cast their votes to elect Dean Farthing. The decisive ballots were as follows: Dean Farthing, Kingston, 10; Dean Evans, Montreal, 10; Dean Williams, Quebec, 8; Dean Farthing, 7; Dean Evans, 6; Dean Farthing, 5; Dean Evans, 4; Dean Farthing, 3; Dean Evans, 2; Dean Farthing, 1. The election was the most dramatic in the history of the Diocese. The synod first met on the 11th, and the ballots were taken with a view to being made, Dean Evans and Farthing being the leading candidates. On the seventh ballot, Dean Farthing had a majority of the laity delegates, but he declined the honor the following day by cable, he was elected on the twelfth ballot as Archbishop of York, following. The synod adjourned until this morning, when the election was resumed, the result being the election of Dean Farthing on the fourth ballot of the day, and Dean Evans, Montreal, as Bishop of the United States in 1862, of 14 years. He was educated at McGill and Oriel College, Cambridge, and graduated in 1855 with honors.

25 MILES IN A DAY

Mr. John R. Wren, of 100, late Reeve of Mission City, B.C., is now 66 years of age and tells the following story: "Some years ago I was on the floor, and was patiently waiting for a specialist to come. In this condition I was CHINE. In this condition I was CHINE. The lungs ceased and I walked three miles before 7 o'clock. This was in 1894, just 14 years of Mission City, and on August 1st and weigh 296 pounds and do not know this new lease of life to me. No wonder Mr. Wren is grateful for the reverse. PSYCHIC CURE PROVES THIS STATEMENT FOR A TRIAL BOTTLE AT OUR EXPENSE."
