Notice.—L.O.L. No. 632 has changed its regular night of meeting to Wednesday on or before full moon moon in each month. The first meeting this month will be on the 19th, when a number of de-grees will be conferred. All brethren requested to be present.

A great many logs of all kinds are being delivered daily at the furniture company's millyard, and converting them into lumber will furnish employment to many during the spring and summer months. The company has timber limits and a mill at Rockvale, where, we un-derstand the logs are being rushed in rapidly.

A Normanby man tells us that farmers from the southern part of the township came to Durham with oats during the past few weeks, the drawing card being the high prices paid here. Our market this year is known far and wide. The writer heard it referred to in Eu-phrasia township lately. Good prices for produce will be sure to bring trade.

Citizens and others are advised of a change made in the early-closing by-law during the months of January, February and March, when the stores will be closed at seven o'clock every evening except Saturday. The by-law was so a-mended at the request of a large majority of the business men, who felt that an open night in the mid-dle of the week was not necessary.

The town council held its first meeting for the year on Monday night last. All members present. Mayor Laidlaw, in his introductory remarks, congratulated the reeve, and all the members on their suc-cess in being elected to positions at the council board. He hoped that everything during the year would be done amicably and in a business like manner. At the close of his remarks he asked the coun-cil and audience to stand up while Mr. Newton opened the session with prayer, after which regular business was entered. The min-utes of the last regular meeting were read, and accounts amount-ing to over $100 were examined by the Finance committee and order-ed to be paid. Ten copies of the Municipal World were ordered for the use of the members, and $10 was voted to the Sick Children's Hospital. Mr. Ramage, the secre-tary of the Public Library, address-ed the council in reference to a communication he had in regard to the establishing of a Carnegie Library, but action was deferred in this as well as the applications from the two banks for the hand-ling of the town moneys. The Mc-Gowan by-law was not read the third time, as sufficient time had not elapsed since it was declared carried by the returning officer.

Mr. W. Black sold his fine driv-ing horse this week for a hand-some figure to Dalgetty Bros., to be shipped to Glasgow, Scotland. Mr. Black says there is no trouble in getting a high price for the right kind of horseflesh, and if the farmers paid a little more at-tention to breeding in the right strain, they would be amply repaid.

The Durham Furniture Company are to be congratulated on the success of the concern. The preference stockholders get a dividend of seven per cent. annually, and now the holders of common stock are to receive a five per cent. dividend in the course of a few days. Six per cent. dividends were paid previously. The year's busi-ness was good, and much.

In the action brought by Neil McLean, of Priceville against Wm. McGowan for extras on carpenter work on the oatmeal mill, tried in Owen Sound on Friday last, before Judge Hatton, judgment was awarded the plaintiff for $39 with-out costs. Suit was entered for $168. Defendant's counterclaim for $330, alleging that work was im-properly done, was dismissed. W. F. Dunn for plaintiff, I. B. Lucas for defendant.

We got into the bad graces of a reader recently because a state-ment was sent him after he was three years in arrears. He paid up and "stopped the paper," but we are still getting out a regular weekly issue. "We don't like to offend people, but we want our money, and we can scarcely do less than send delinquents a bill and ask them to "please remit." On Monday last we received a re-fusal card from the postoffice at Bedford Station, Man., and on Tuesday a similar missive came from Rossland, B.C. Both were in arrears since the middle of 1901. It isn't likely we'll ever get a cent of the money, but our hope is that the consciences of the delinquents may be troubled night and day till they each send us the amount of their indebtedness.

DURHAM LOSES TO WALKERTON

About ninety of the local hockey fans took advantage of the ex-cursion on Friday evening last and witnessed the league game between Walkerton and Durham at the former place. Owing to the train being behind time in reach-ing Durham, the Walkerton spec-tators were compelled to wait for over an hour from the appointed time for the game to start. But they were well repaid for their trouble when the puck was faced, and probably one of the hardest fought games the Bruce County Capital ever saw was started.

It was 9.13 when referee Fred Ryan, of Paisley, dropped the puck between the two centre men's sticks and started the teams off on their chase after the Northern League cup. From the face-off, the general consensus of opinion was that there was going to be a battle royal, and Durhmites and Walkertonians together joined hands and sat up and took notice. Walkerton drew first blood in seven minutes, and half the crowd roared; Durham scored in one minute more, and the other half almost lifted the roof, while several of the local fans did a jig dance and had balancing exhibition along the sides of the rink. When the locals succeeded in passing an-other counter in nine minutes, it created another spasm that was only surpassed four minutes later when Billy Cameron slipped an-other one past the Walkerton goal tender giving the locals a lead of two goals. But this was too good to last, and the next two minutes saw Walkerton score two goals, and the half ended with each team having three goals to their credit.

The second half saw Walkerton score in two minutes, and Lavelle, for Durham in six minutes of play, while the home team netted another in two more. This ended the scoring for the game, Walkerton 5, Durham 4, as officially decided by the referee, though Durham scored two goals which he disal-lowed, claiming that the puck passed through a hole in the side of the net, (While the locals do not claim positively that they were entitled to both goals, still one of them was bona fide, and should have been counted, but as they are no kickers, they accepted their defeat with good grace, satisfied they had outpointed their oppo-nents in the class of hockey played.

As for the referee, the least said the better, but we would just like to remark that he is not fast nor competent enough to superintend the playing of any game of hock-ey. While not claiming he de-liberately and intentionally favored the home team, his eyesight was remarkably poor, and he was unable to see the rankest kind of a trip on the part of the Walkerton team until the locals got wise and played them silly at their own game. Then he suddenly woke up and, to do him justice, benched them two at a time. Had he done this at the commencement, the big crowd would certainly have seen better hockey, and possibly a dif-ferent score.

The poor condition of the Wal-kerton rink, too, militated against the Durhams, for being minus the regulation hockey boards, quite a lot of time was wasted in fishing the puck out from amongst the spectators and facing off again. But, be that as it may, we lost the game, and will endeavor to have a kindly feeling for everybody concerned.

From observations, we believe the local line-up is stronger this year than last, especially on the forward line, while the defense has lost nothing in the addition of McLachlan at point, who is always on the job and at Walkerton play-ed a whirlwind game from start to finish. Another point that ap-peals to the fans here is the fact that the team is composed alto-gether of home brews, six of whom were born and raised here. With a little more practise, and the experience they will derive, it will take a mighty good septette to tally the big end of the scoring, either at home or abroad.

This Wednesday evening, Janu-ary 12th, the fast Hanover puck-chasers meet the Durhams in the rink here at 7.45 sharp. The rival-ry existing between these two teams last year, has lost none of its intensity with the long sum-mer's rest, and with the additions the Hanoverians have made to their team this winter, they are in a position to show the best of them a few things and make them go some to win out. But the locals are to be reckoned with, and the game will be a hustler from the first tingle of the referee's bell. In addition to a more than ordinarily good hockey game, the usual privileges will be allowed after the game, and the skating rink band will be in attendance. Admission 25c., ladies and child-ren 15c.

And, in reporting the hockey game, it would be uncharitable not to mention the cordial reception extended to the excursionists by the citizens of Walkerton, who met them at the station and escorted them to the rink. The 32nd Regi-mental band was also on the scene and rendered several choice selec-tions at the station.

The Walkerton and Durham School teams met on the Durham rink last Thursday evening, when the local team succeeded in wrest-ling a victory from their oppo-nents by the score of 5 to 3.

The second half saw the visitors score three, while the Durhams went them one better and tallied four. The feature of the evening was the playing of Fred Laidlaw, who saved his team from defeat on more than one occasion by his good work in goal.

Durham and Mt. Forest Juniors play on the rink here on Friday night. The admission fee is 15c., and the game promises to be a good one.
