S. SCOTT

A few minutes delay in treating some cases of croup, even the length of time it takes to go for a doctor often proves dangerous. The safest way is to keep Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house, and at the first indication of croup give the child a dose. Pleasant to take and always cures. Sold by all dealers.

HIS COURTSHIP.

excited, her eyes moving from one to another of her listeners with an anxiety amounting to distress. "Look at her. You won't speak nothin' to Eunice, will you, about this here? Us we always kep' it from her. It would be ugly to tell her her pop murdered her mom in the first degree."
"And," thought Kinross, "that her father left a sum of money for her support."
"Doesn't she ever ask questions about herself?" inquired Daisy. "If I were she it wouldn't take me long to get aboard."
"There fur awhile she did," Mrs. Morningstar said. "But us we put her off with just tellin' her her parents left her here a while."
"If the whole neighborhood knew of it I don't see how you've kept it from her," remarked Georgiana. "Surely some one would be apt to tell her."
"We never let her go much. We kep' her close at home, just so's she wouldn't hear nothin'. We thought it would be so upsettin'."
"To learn how she's been living for her living which probably had been paid for," thought Kinross.
"I don't know what's made me speak all this here to you," Mrs. Morningstar continued, with increasing anxiety in her face and voice. "I don't often come over here. I don't like to. But I was took back so with Doc's—Pete's—astin' fur the dare to sleep in that there room that the whole thing come out before I knowed right I was tellin' it. And now mebbe yous will tell Eunice."
Kinross, who was watching the woman attentively, was sure that, judging from her habitual treatment of Eunice, her present intense apprehension was certainly not due to the cause to which she attributed it—tender compassion for the girl. She was evidently holding back something which if known would compromise her. What could it be? He was pretty sure that in spite of their greed neither Mr. nor Mrs. Morningstar would be deliberately dishonest. The Pennsylvania German, however "close," usually has integrity if for no other reason than because of his fear of hell. "Perhaps," he reflected, "Eunice herself—contradictory and unaccountable as she is in so many respects—knows more about herself than any one suspects."
His lukewarm desire to investigate the haunted room had increased, with his knowledge of its history, to a keen eagerness to get at it, and he determined that that very night should find him in the shut off quarter of the house.
Mrs. Morningstar was now summoned from the room by Ollie's calling to her to "come lay over the dough."
"Gracious," cried Daisy, making a note in her book as the landlady departed reluctantly, "she's going to 'lay over the dough'! No more bread for mine!"

A BIT OF ADVICE

First—Don't Delay. Second—Don't Experiment
If you suffer from headache, dizziness or dizzy spells, if you rest poorly and are languid in the morning; if the kidney secretions are irregular and unnatural in appearance, do not delay. The kidneys are calling for help. Slight symptoms of kidney troubles are but forerunners of more serious complaints. They should be given attention before it is too late.

Booth's Kidney Pills cure kidney trouble. They are recommended by thousands. Can Durham residents desire more convincing proof than the statement of a Durham citizen?

Mrs. Jane Gibson, of Main St., Durham, Ont., says: "Mr. Gibson speaks very highly of Booth's Kidney Pills, which he procured at Macfarlane's drug store, and has found more actual benefit in the one box of them than in all the other remedies he had previously tried. He would suffer with sharp pains shooting through the small of his back and in the region of the kidneys. He would leave his bed several times with the frequent and irregular secretions of the kidneys. The urine was highly colored and contained a quantity of sediment. This had been noticeable for over three years and becoming worse each day. Booth's Kidney Pills quickly relieved him, acting directly on the kidneys and bladder. His back strengthened, the urine cleared, and the kidney secretions were reduced to normal."
Sold by all dealers. Price 50c. The R.T. Booth Co., Limited, Fort Erie, Ont., Sole Canadian agents.

Priceville

Thos. Fisher moved to his brother Robert's for the winter.

A number of horses were sold lately in this locality at good prices.

Born.—To Mr. and Mrs. Alex. McEachern, south line, a couple of weeks ago a son.

Councillor John McMillan, of Glenelg, is at present attending to his annual calling at the Parliament buildings, Toronto.

Misses Minnie McIntyre and Christena McDonald, south Glenelg, left for Toronto a week ago, where they intend to stay for some time.

Mr. Angus McEachern, of Cleveland, is spending some time at the home of his father, Roger McEachern, south line, Glenelg.

Some of our elderly people are asked to a wedding somewhere between Priceville and Durham on Wednesday of this week.

The Baptists have secured the services of a young man by the name of Mr. Laughlin, as their pastor in this place.

In spite of the deep snow and bad roads in general, a large quantity of logs of all kinds were delivered at the sawmill and at the C.P.R. station this winter.

Mr. Hector Lamont, who spent a month of so visiting friends in this part, returned last week to his home in Alberta, near the city of Calgary.

All signs of a thaw generally fail, but we expect a genuine one very soon. The roads are in bad shape some places, and make teaming disagreeable.

Rev. Mr. Berry preached in the Presbyterian church here on Sunday night last, and Rev. Mr. Matheson took Mr. Berry's pulpit at Salem, Proton, same evening.

The Presbyterian church reports in this place are out, and show that the congregation is in good standing, with a balance on the right side of the leaf.

Mr. Jos. Aussum suffers excruciating pain from the effects of decaying toes, caused by gangrene or something of that nature. Mrs. Aussum is also laid up for some time.

We notice some deep cuts on the C.P.R. track, where the snow piled in heaps, and it's unsafe to walk on the track where these cuts are as there is no way of escape, should a train be coming along when there.

Mrs. McCormick, who was attending to her daughter, Mrs. H. McPhail, south line, left for her home at Aberdeen a few days ago. The occasion of her visit was caused by the arrival of a young daughter. All doing well.

Our debating society in this town on Friday evening, is getting to be very attractive, and some of the young people are getting to be very fluent in their manner of delivery, and come up to the old saying, "nothing like practising while young."

Dr. Dixon is always kept on the move attending to his patients, while Dr. McArthur is also kept busy in his line of business, attending to the preservation of the teeth, and, when necessary, making an oldish looking person appear young, by putting a nice set of teeth in his mouth.

We notice that the law is not complied with yet as to muzzling or tying up dogs, and this act when in force will suit those of us whose business makes them come in contact with the savage brutes in many instances. So it will be well to look out this week, and avoid the danger of being fined from $25 to $200 by neglecting to act accordingly.

The Scotch concert held by the Gibson family one evening last week in Watson's Hall, in this town, was a failure, on account of the inclemency of the weather. Those that attended were highly delighted with the program, as the Gibson family are hard to beat as singers, but perhaps they will be called upon later on, and risk the weather another evening in the near future.

Died.—At 114 Dovecourt Road, Toronto, on Feb. 7th, Mary McArthur, after a lingering illness. Miss McArthur was a sister of Mr. Donald Graham's first wife, an aunt of Mr. John Graham, Durham, and a cousin of the McDonalds, near Priceville. Her remains were placed in the vault till spring, when she will be taken to the family burying ground near Woodbridge, on the 7th concession of Vaughan.

Mr. Thos. McKeown had a narrow escape from being caught at Smellie's crossing one day last week, as the horses' front feet were almost on the track when the train came puffing along, and he had barely time to back up. The escape was a narrow one. These trainmen are sometimes too well up to their business, and forget to give the warning signal loud enough to be properly heard. Just sometimes they give a "toot" when near a crossing.

On the move soon.—Malcolm McInnes will be moving to his own place, and John McMeeken, the tenant, will be moving to the Stonehouse farm at sideroad 40, and the Stonehouse family will be moving across the road. Sandy Stonehouse will move to McDermid's house, now occupied by Malcolm McInnes. So there will be quite an airing of furniture, and probably Colin McLean may move to the old homestead in Artemesia, south of this place. His brother, Donald, is talking of going West, and letting Colin run the farm, so there is lots of the West fever at present.

Novelist and Priest Miners.
The wide publicity attained by properties bought in former sales of the Gillies' Limit brought together a most interesting group of buyers at the last auction, says The Cobalt Nugget. The W. A. Fraser, who is associated with S. Ogilvie in the purchase of three lots for the aggregate price of $2,330, is the Canadian writer whose stories of outdoor life have delighted many readers. He had the distinction of obtaining the most coveted lots. Then, there is Rev. John Deville, the Catholic priest, who gave his name to the Deville property on Peterson Lake, and is now the moving spirit with S. D. Madelin in the development of the St. Anthony's.
