Mr. Geo. Arrowsmith and family moved to town last week, and are now occupying one of the Keeler houses on Garafraza Street. We welcome the new comers, and hope they may find their lot and surroundings in every way congenial.

An effort is being made to quash the local option by-law recently passed in Dundalk. The appellant is George Copeman, porter, who claims illegality on several points. The matter will be heard at Osgoode Hall on March 30th. Hon. I. B. Lucas has been engaged by the council to defend the by-law.

The special "Empire" and "World" issue of the Amateur Photographer and Photographic News published on March 5th. is a remarkable production, and one that no amateur photographer should fail to obtain. It is full of fine pictures on art paper, useful and elementary articles for all camera users in all parts of the world. Particulars of cash prize competitions and items of interest for all who are photographers or interested in photography, both elementary and advanced, will be found in this notable number.

The three factors of the acquiring of an education are teacher, text book and student. Ever since its inception, the Walkerton Business College has secured teachers of the widest experience, and ripest scholarship. The text books used are the best published, consequently their graduates have received the best positions, and their success has been unrivalled. This school receives additional prestige by being affiliated with the Commercial Educators' Association of Canada, which comprises Canada's greatest chain of high grade modern actual business schools. The spring term openings are March 29th and April 4th.

Fine sugar making weather.

We were delighted with the success of our grand millinery opening of last week, and now our staff is kept busy preparing the orders. We will promise your order every attention if you favor us.—Miss Dick.

Mr. Anderson, of Toronto, was in town last week in the interest of the Relief Department of the society of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, and during his stay here, two candidates were secured and were piloted through the initiation mysteries at a special meeting held on Friday night last.

Rev. Wm. Kettlewell, Field Secretary of the Dominion Alliance, preached in the Presbyterian church Sunday morning, and in the Methodist church on Sunday evening. Mr. Kettlewell is an enthusiastic temperance worker and both discourses were chiefly in the interest of temperance, which he advocates, not only from a moral and social standpoint, but from a financial as well. It was Field Day in this section of Ontario, and special sermons were delivered in many churches in the adjoining district. Mr. Robinson, of Guelph, delivered very able addresses in the Baptist church along the same lines of social, moral and financial advancement.

The Band concert in the town hall on Friday evening last was the most poorly patronized concert for such a good purpose, of which we have any recollection, the total proceeds amounting to less than $20. Just why this should have happened is hard to conceive, for we believe that Durhamites, generally would stretch a point for our musical organization. No doubt the fact that there has been so much amusement here this winter, was responsible for the slim attendance. The concert was a good one all through, and deserving of a much better house, the drawing card of the evening being Eddie Piggott, of Toronto, who delighted his hearers with several humorous selections. Mrs. A. W. H. Lauder, Mr. R. C. Banks and the McClocklin Bros., were also on the program, and gave well-rendered songs and instrumental. Mrs. Newton was the accompanist and also rendered a couple of choice piano instrumentals with her usual grace and skill.

OUR CORRESPONDENTS.

A photo engraving of the man who writes the Classic City Chronicles Mr. W. J. Blakeston, appears this week. Though a little outside of our constituency, the general character of his contributions makes them exceedingly interesting. Mr. Blakeston taught for a number of years in Priceville, Dundalk, and other places in South Grey, and is well and favorably known by many of our readers. Up to the present time, his identity may have been concealed to many, but the cat is out of the bag, and now every reader is in possession of the information that Mr. Blakeston, now teaching in Stratford, is the writer from the Classic City.

Mrs. John McQueen received a telegram on Tuesday announcing the death of her brother, Edward McQueen, at Stayner, and left on Wednesday to attend the funeral.

THE HORSE FAIR.

The Horse Fair on Thursday last was well attended, a big crowd of people being present, and many horses in the market for sale. The animals offered were not up to standard and fewer purchases were made than a month ago. We are told there were fifteen buyers on hand, and that 33 horses were bought, 11 of these being purchased by Couiter Bros., of Toronto. The prices ran from $15 to $225.

While good horses are in demand the last fair day shows that almost any kind of a horse will find a purchaser at some price. There will likely be another fair in April. In the meantime, it would be well to get horses in proper shape. Mr. Black says the last fair was quite up to his expectations.

DIVISION COURT.

At the Division Court held here on Wednesday of last week, the Standard Bank monopolized a large share of the time. Their business consisted largely of claiming right of payment on disputed notes of $20 and interest each, said notes having been given by farmers in different parts of the province for shares in the now defunct Farmers' Mfg. and Supply Co. These notes were discounted at the Standard Bank, but payment was refused, hence the action of the bank in suing for the amounts, and getting judgment in each and every case.

Cases were tried as follows:

Standard Bank vs Gowing.
Standard Bank vs Michael Long.
Standard Bank vs Frank Travers.
Standard Bank vs John Travers.
Standard Bank vs Acton.
Standard Bank vs J. Johnston.
Standard Bank vs Jacob Mount.
Standard Bank vs Chas. Reeves.
Standard Bank vs Roderick McDonald.

Standard Bank vs Peter and John McEwen.
Austin vs Keeler. Judgment for plaintiff.

A.S. Hunter vs Thos. Mighton. Judgment for plaintiff.
Wm. Laidlaw vs L.C. Karstedt. Claim for rent and repairs, $31.41. Counter claim as offset, $24.00. Judgment for plaintiff for $6.41 and costs.

J. Coleridge vs J. Todd and C. McInness. Defendants sued for amount of promissory note. Judgment for plaintiff with costs.

MILLINERY OPENINGS.

MISS DICK.

The millinery opening at Miss Dick's parlors last week was the most successful during the nine years of her business experience in Durham. She had on exhibition a very large assortment of Tuscan and blacks shown in every possible variety of the millinery art. The stock is very large, and embraces all shades and shapes. The tricorne, Napoleon, and soft draped turbans are highly popular, and seem to appeal with much force to the feminine taste. Miss Dick and her staff are very busy preparing for Easter orders.

S. F. MORLOCK.

S. F. Morlock's spring millinery opening, held on Friday and Saturday, March 18th and 19th, was, as usual, a decided success. The many beautiful creations in millinery, and the artistic decorations calling forth many remarks of admiration. One of the most striking hats was of Milan straw in the new bicorne shape, with a simple trimming of jet vines at back, band of black velvet round top of rim and mount of artificial grass and flowers in front. Among the flower turbans which were much admired, was one with coronet of violets, high draped crown of mohair braid, and trimmed at left side with lily of the valley and foliage in amethyst shades. The black hats as usual, were stylish and becoming. One of these, with high turned left side, and tam crown of mohair braid, trimmed at left side front with long osprey and jet buckle, and round the crown with net, was especially smart and modish.

Hardware and Furniture

CARPENTERS' TOOLS—

This store responds to every possible hardware need and if by any chance we haven't the precise article you want in stock, it can be procured by first express. We have anticipated the growing demand for carpenter's tools of the right sort and with the cost of building materials lower than usual, there should be lively activity this spring in the building line. Anyone thinking of building will do well to call on us and get prices. We guarantee all our tools.

Now with the spring comes the need for sap buckets and spiles. We sell them at lowest prices.

We still handle the "Wilkinson Flow" repairs, all numbers in stock.

In the furniture line we have a well selected stock to choose from,—well made and well finished. Call and inspect.
