Parks of Australian Cities.

Australians, with a fine climate, believe in enjoying themselves, and there are plenty of facilities. Thus in Sydney there are parks and squares and public gardens with a total area of 4,325 acres. Sixteen miles from the city—a shilling excursion train fare—is the picturesque national park, containing 36,810 acres preserved in their natural state. A similar reserve called Kurin-gal Chase, comprising 35,300 acres of land, chiefly of densely wooded hills skirting for many miles around numerous tidal arms of Broken bay, is also held for the enjoyment of the public forever. Melbourne has no fewer than 5,400 acres of recreation grounds in or near the city. Adelaide is surrounded by a belt of park lands and has about 2,200 acres set apart for the public benefit. Nor are Perth and Hobart and Brisbane and some of the fine inland towns less well provided for.—Westminster Gazette.

Malay Race Not Dying Out.

There is a very common idea that the Malay is a race that is dying out, killed in its own country by the enterprise of Chinese, Tamils, Javanese (who, however, are kinsmen of the Malays) and Europeans. To those who come out east expecting to find a few miserable remains of a once powerful race, whose probable fate is that of the Australian aborigines, it comes as a revelation to find a sturdy, independent and courteous race, whose language runs from Suez to Australia and who, so far from dying out, are yearly becoming more numerous.—Java Times.

A Bad Start.

"Ever try this keep a-smiling proposition?" "Tried it once, but with poor success. Unfortunately I started the experiment on a day that the boss felt grouchy."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

What Made Him Sick.

Teacher—Your little brother was all right when he left the house with you, and yet you say he's sick and won't be in school. The Kid—Sure! Didn't I give him the seegar wid me own hands?—Puck.

NEWS AROUND TOWN

We have to thank our Varney correspondent for a generous jar of maple syrup. Next!

Bills are out announcing the spring stallion show, to be held here on the 15th of April.

Miss Dick was in Toronto Tuesday, and brought home a number of very stylish shapes in black, tuscany and white hats.

The weather keeps very dry and warm; the grass is growing nicely, and the farmers are busy with their spring work.

Miss Dick was in Toronto Tuesday, and returned with a number of new styles in trimmings, ribbon, flowers, and wheat and grass sprays.

Going out of the tailoring business. Big snap to the public. Suits sold at wholesale price, or will sell en bloc, so much on the dollar.—J. A. Glass.

Educational services in the Methodist church next Sunday. The pastor will preach in the morning on "Young men and the Ministry," and in the evening on "What is education."

Mrs. W. F. Dunn, and little son, George, returned on Monday from an Easter visit with Toronto friends. Mr. Dunn, who accompanied them, is at present confined in Toronto General Hospital, suffering from an inflammation in his eyes.

Since speaking of moving the weigh scale to a down town position, and naming the C. P. R. property on George Street, we find some who consider the proposition very favorably. The land can be secured at a very low rental for 99 years.

The gasoline engine, purchased some time ago to furnish power to pump the organ in the Presbyterian church, will soon be in position, and the human, or inhuman efforts of the choir leader, that is, the man who does the pumping, will be done with the expenditure of a smaller flow of perspiration. We hope the change will prove a success.

We are pleased to know that Mr. David Smith, who has been ill for the past three years, and confined to his room for the greater portion of the time, is showing signs of improvement, and is able to go out for a drive occasionally. He has been a patient sufferer, and we sincerely hope he may soon be in the enjoyment of perfect health and strength.

On Saturday morning last, Mr. Kelly started out for Toronto in his auto, accompanied by his son, Eric, and Mr. A. W. H. Lauder. Things went well till he got down near Fergus, when he twisted an axle on the machine, and he decided to turn back to the annoyance of the party. Mr. Kelly made some good runs last year, and a trip to Toronto was not too much to expect. One never can tell how soon an auto thinks it auto balk.

The Carey Bros. appeared here on Monday night for the third time, and were greeted with a well packed hall. The entertainment consisted of a number of entertaining and instructive moving pictures, as well as several finely rendered illustrated songs. These young men are highly esteemed in Durham, and their style of entertainment is such as to warrant a good attendance, should they repeat their visit again next year. The moving pictures to illustrate the "wandering boy," accompanied by suitable song selections at different stages of its presentation, was a very fine number, and conveyed a very helpful moral to all who were willing to be benefited.

Live hogs have gone down in price. Last week they were sold here at $9.75, but since then they went down to $9.25.

The Traverston correspondent has sciatica, and another man has lumbago, both resulting from over-eating at a wedding.

Mr. A. A. Catton, manager of the furniture factory, is now the happy possessor of a new Ford automobile, which came to hand this week.

The Grand Trunk arrived here on time four times in succession this week. No reason has been given. It hasn't even been suggested that Halley's comet had anything to do with it.

The I. O. O. F. urgently request the presence of all members at the regular meeting on Monday night next, when some special business is to be transacted. Lodge opens at eight o'clock. Let all who can come come.

Tenders for watering the streets for 1910 are asked for. All applications must be in the hands of the town clerk by Saturday night, when a special meeting of the council will likely appoint the lucky applicant.

On Thursday last, Chief Constable Carson was in his usual health. During the night, he became ill, and on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, his case was regarded as serious, and two of the town doctors were in attendance Monday morning he was reported considerably better, and is still on the mend. His ailment, we have been informed, is liver trouble.

The first load of marl was delivered at the cement mill Tuesday night, and burning operations commenced on Wednesday. With an early start, and a good season's output, with present prices, the company should be able to make a little money this year. Last year the prices realized did not in some cases pay the cost of manufacturing. The result was felt in the absence of a dividend to the shareholders.

The annual meeting of the Canadian Press Association will be held in Toronto on Tuesday and Wednesday, the 17th and 18th of May. At the conclusion of the Convention, the Association will become the guests of the Grand Trunk and T. & N. O. Railway for a three days' trip to Cobalt, Cochran, and intermediate points, the trip including, it is expected, a fifty mile run through the celebrated clay belt on the National Transcontinental Railway.

This is the house-cleaning season, the time that men enjoy, and the time that women generally are out of sorts. Everything round the place must be disturbed, as a matter of course. The carpets must be taken up and whacked in the back yard, and the mad rush goes on. Microbes are scattered to the four winds of heaven. Bed bugs are aroused from their winter slumbers, and go on their way with increased carnivorous activity. The lawns, and verandahs, and porches and halls, are piled up with a heterogeneous heap of all kind of furnishings. There's confusion on every side. No place to sit or rest, and a place to sleep is entirely out of the question. To hang on a hook in the closet might be considered a luxury, but even this would be denied. In a few days, however, the misery will be all over, and life will seem worth living in the new surroundings. The men do the grumbling as a rule, but the women's lot is not to be envied for the next few weeks.

OUR CORRESPONDENTS.

We were unable last issue to give a photo engraving of a correspondent, as the photos did not reach us in time to have engravings made. We are again prepared to continue in the good work, and hope our readers will appreciate our efforts to bring them face to face with the "shadows" of our able contributors. We have pleasure this week in giving a picture of Miss Hutton, whose untiring efforts to get the news from her locality met with the approval of many of our readers. Her absence in Buffalo for several months past is the reason for so few of the local happenings being given from that locality. Miss Hutton is the first of our lady correspondents to favor us with a photo for reproduction. For this kindness, we thank her heartily, and hope the other ladies on the staff will hasten to follow her example. There are still a number who have not favored us with their photos. We ask them again to be kind enough to do so.

The Women's Auxilliary, of Trinity church, will meet at the home of Mrs. Thos. McNulty, Elgin Street, on Friday afternoon, at 2.30 sharp.

We congratulate Mr. Ernest B. Young, and Miss Eva Banks, who were last week married in Toronto. Mr. and Mrs. Young spent a few days with friends here, and left on Thursday afternoon for their home in Winnipeg.

Mr. David McClocklin, to whom we referred last week, as having celebrated his seventy-ninth birthday, looks upon our remarks as a sort of taffy, and says a little taffy while a man lives is better than a lot of epitaphy after he's dead. The snap-shot we give of him this week, was intended to accompany our last week's article, but for some reason we are unable to explain, it did not come back from the engraver in time to be used. We still hope to give a few interesting items pertaining to the life of Mr. McClocklin.

The regular monthly meeting of the Public Library was held on Friday night last in the library building. The Board of Directors was well represented, and in addition to the regular routine of business, the question of getting into communication with the Carnegie Committee was discussed more seriously than usual. It was decided to interview the town council to ascertain what they would do in the matter of meeting the Carnegie requirements. Mr. W. J. Young gave a report of a recent public library meeting he attended in Orangeville.

On Wednesday night of last week, the boarders at the Hahn House presented Mr. and Mrs. L. McKenzie with a pair of handsome chairs as a token of esteem for kind and courteous treatment. Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie have conducted the business in a manner that was very satisfactory to their regular boarders and private guests during the past year, and many regret their departure from town. Mr. McKenzie left on the 1st of this month, undecided as to what line of business he will engage in. We wish Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie an abundance of success.

A deputation from the Public Library interviewed the council to seek co-operation in securing a grant from the Carnegie Committee. The matter was referred to the Finance Committee, to be reintroduced at the next meeting of the council.

On motion, the council adjourned, to meet in special session on Saturday evening, April 9th.
