On Saturday last, Mr. Grant McComb had the misfortune to lose the first joint of his left hand index finger while working at a planer in the furniture factory. He'll be forced to remain idle for a week or two, but rejoices the accident was not more serious. Mr. Lauder Buchan also had the misfortune to have the four fingers of his right hand ripped across the tips by a circular saw, but was not seriously injured, though he will be off work for a few days.

An irate citizen walked into our sanctum on Monday morning and asked if it was the town council that was dead, or just their by-laws. He said that down his way cows had been running wild for over three weeks. Dogs were let run unmuzzled in all parts of the town, and still no move was made to make the offenders obey the law. He wondered what had happened to the town council, and wound up by suggesting that we get out funeral notices and bury the whole bunch. If by-laws are not enforced, they might as well be rescinded, and it's up to the council to get busy and do one thing or the other with the majority of their.

An Owen Sound despatch to the Toronto News says: "Residents of the south end of the town were thrown into a panic yesterday afternoon by a strange dog, which had every symptom of being mad. The police were telephoned for, and quiet was restored when Policeman Foster, armed with a shot gun, put an end to the animal. The dog was first seen running or staggering, as if blind or dazed and snapping at everything in sight. There was a general rush for cover among the residents and in a few minutes everybody was off the street. The incident created great excitement in that part of the town. The head of the animal will be sent to Ottawa for examination, and another dog encountered by the animal will be shot. It is supposed the mad animal came from the township of Derby." This appearance of apparent rabies so close to Durham, should be warning sufficient to local dog owners of the necessity of keeping their canines muzzled for a time yet, at least, a precaution that has of late been somewhat neglected by a considerable number.

Trinity church congregations were disappointed on Sunday last over the non-arrival of a rector to conduct the services here and at St. Paul's. Rev. Mr. Collins, of Exeter, had expressed his willingness a couple of weeks ago to occupy the pulpit, but at the last moment found that he could not fill the engagement. Rev. Mr. Hartley, of Blyth, was then telephoned, but could not come, and a student from the college failed to arrive here on Saturday evening. This condition of affairs is unfortunate, though none of the rectors or the wardens here were to blame. After June 1st, however, Rev. Mr. Hartley, the rector appointed by the Bishop to take the churches here, will be in charge, and peace and regularity will once again reign. Churches, like hotels, nowadays, have their troubles, and none seem to be exempted from an occasional outbreak.

Mr. W. F. Dunn, who has been conducting a lucrative law practice here for the past seven years, has sold out his business to Mr. A. C. Grant, late of Essex, Ont. Mr. Dunn leaves shortly for Moose Jaw, Sask., where he will enter partnership with Mr. J. E. Caldwell in that city. Mr. Grant comes highly recommended as a legal practitioner, and will commence business in the course of a few days. To wish a lawyer success might be only wishing other people to get into legal difficulties, so we must be a little guarded on this point. We may say, however, that so far as Mr. Grant's services are necessary in preserving order and goow-will in the community, we wish him all kinds of prosperity, but hope he is not the kind of man to encourage litigation which will serve no better purpose than the securing of his fees. Mr. Dunn came here as a young man, and has proved himself quite a success in the business, leaving no stones unturned to win out in the interests of his clients. He put up a hard fight in a suit against the writer two or three years ago, and though it cost us quite a sum of money, it would be rather a narrow view to blame him, as he would have fought equally hard had he been working on our side. We wish him success in everything that's right.

NEW FURNITURE FACTORY FOR DURHAM.

A more harmonious meeting could not be desired than the mass meeting in the town hall on Tuesday night to consider the proposition from the Durham Furniture Company to the effect that a new furniture factory should be erected for the manufacturing of chairs, tables, and perhaps special lines as indicated in a resolution of the company carried at a meeting of the Board on Monday night last. The following is the resolution in full as presented at the mass meeting.

"Will build and equip a substantial factory for manufacturing chairs and tables, and perhaps special lines, to cost approximately $25,000 and employ forty hands.

"Would ask a loan of $10,000, repayable $1000 a year, commencing at the expiration of the payments on the present loan, without interest. Assessment on all the business property of the company at $20,000, and exemption from all taxes except school and local improvement."

The members of the Board were not very enthusiastic over the enlargement scheme from their personal feelings, as they felt they would be better off financially to allow the business to go on just as it is. But the advancement of the town fired the matter upon their favorable consideration, and those who gave expression of opinion thought it would be a good thing to enlarge the plant.

The Board of Directors was represented by Dr. Jamieson, E. W. Limin, A. H. Jackson, J. H. Hunter and A. W. H. Lauder, all of whom would favor an extension through the broader feeling of citizenship, apart from their own personal interests as individuals.

"Push it along," was the keynote of every ratepayer outside of the Board who gave an expression of his views. Amongst those were F. Lenahan, Joe Brown, Jas. Lenahan, Peter Ramage, John Smith, R. A. Aljoe, Rev. R. W. Wright, John Latimer, W. J. Lawrence, Ben Sharp, Ed. Kress, Principal Allan, W. J. Young, Colin McDougall, W. Lawrence, Thos. Turnbull, J. A. Graham, Jas. Burt, T. R. Whelan, Chas. Ramage, W. Irwin, and a number of others. The question was finally put to a standing vote, when we believe that every qualified ratepayer present expressed himself as favorable.

Mr. Wm. Laidlaw acted as chairman, and from the first showed his approval of the extension, and Dr. Jamieson, at the close of the meeting expressed his gratitude at the feeling of confidence the citizens had in the honest way in which the company was managed. In his previous address he pointed out the foresight exercised by the company in supplying timber limits, and that now they owned three sawmills, all of which were engaged in the manufacture of lumber, and moreover that the company was in first class financial condition and though able to pay large dividends, preferred to use the funds for the thorough equipment of the plant.

A By-law will be submitted shortly, and we sincerely hope there will not be a single ballot cast against it.

On reaching his 84th birthday, Mr. Uriah Curtis, of Walkerton, was presented with a gold watch and chain, and a complimentary address.

We regret to chronicle the death of Mr. George Arthur Weir, who died Saturday last at the home of his father, Mr. William Weir, of Glenelg. The deceased was twenty-one years of age, a bright, intellectual young man, of more than ordinary ability. He held a first-class, non-professional teacher's certificate, which he obtained when about eighteen years of age. He taught school for a short time, but was forced to resign about years ago on account of tubercular trouble, and has since been in poor health. He became worse a couple of weeks ago, and sank rapidly. We extend our sincere sympathy to the sorrowing father, who has suffered sore affliction in the loss of his wife, and other severe trials.
