THE DURHAM CHRONICLE

W. IRWIN, Editor and Proprietor.

DURHAM, APRIL 28, 1910.

Seven hotel licenses will be cut off in each of the cities of Peterborough and Brantford on the first of May. The Globe in speaking editorially on the question says:—"The abolition of licenses is effected partly by the passage of local option by-laws, but partly also by voluntary reductions made by municipal councils in the number of licenses issued within their respective jurisdictions. This is one of the most satisfactory methods of procedure, for there is no danger of a municipal council outrunning for any length of time local public opinion."

The license commissioners of Brantford are determined to make the hotel keepers in that city keep hotel and have decided that a single conviction of a bar-tender or proprietor during prohibited hours will cancel the license. This is only making the licensees do what their licenses give them the privilege of doing and the right to do. It has long been our contention that the hotel business would have fared much better if the hotel proprietors and officials would live up to their license contracts. The man who insists on getting liquor during prohibited hours or in prohibited districts, is not a whit better than the man who furnishes the liquor, and should be placed on an equal footing of guilt.

CANADA OUR HERITAGE

In a telegram from Sir Ernest Shackleton to the Toronto News, he says: "I have travelled the whole world over, but never have I seen such a land of opportunity, such promise for the future, such activity as in the present day, and Canadians have the right to be proud of their country."

Sentiment such as this should inspire every true Canadian to an intense feeling of loyalty to the land of his birth or the land of his adoption. Even the air of Canada, says this great Antarctic explorer, has something in it which makes one wish to be up and doing. The great waterways of Canada, the St. Lawrence and the Ottawa, did not escape his notice in providing the cheapest and most efficient form of travel, and the enormous waterpowers that can be harnessed for the use of man is unsurpassed.

"Well can I understand," he says, "the pride of country shown by men when they have such a heritage." Another inspiration was forced upon the mind of the explorer as he viewed the wonderful mileage of railways representing the organizing power and faith of the strong men who have helped to build up this country.

Things have changed very materially during the past quarter of a century. Then the flood of population was drifting towards the United States, and Canadians who had faith in the possibilities of their own country looked with alarm upon the emigration southward. Now the tide has turned, and our great western heritage is being rapidly filled by the sturdiest and best of the American people. Only the disloyal and grovelling pessimist of to-day is heard to find fault with "This Canada of Ours," the greatest land under the shining sun. We have reason to feel proud of Canada, and with a true spirit of patriotic loyalty we might use the words of the poet

Breathes there a man with soul so dead,
Who never to himself hath said
"This is my own, my native land."

AS SEEN IN CHURCH.

Some of the church choirs in town are having trouble regarding the removal of the ladies' hats while the service is in progress, and the matter doesn't seem to be very satisfactorily settled yet. Most of the ladies are willing to remove their hats, while others are not and herein lies the trouble. Without delving into the matter too far, we would just like to say that in our opinion if all the ladies of the congregations in town would remove their head pieces, they would confer a great favor on the suffering male population who attend the services and have to play peek-a-boo with the preacher around a two-foot roof garden. We'll venture to say a man will let loose of more profanity in an hour and a quarter's dodging of this kind than all the churches in Grey County can cure in a day and a half. We think women should either cut down the size of their flower beds, or sit all on the same side of the church, where they themselves will be the uninterrupted victims of their own nuisances. To which all males will loudly answer "Amen."

A Case of Poisoning.

Not infrequently caused by cheap acid corn salve. Be safe and use Putnam's Corn Extractor. Purely vegetable, harmless, and always cures. Insist on "Putnam's."

Muzzling Order Stands.

Two more patients came under the care of the provincial officials for inoculation against rabies. The patients are the wife and daughter of a Middlesex farmer, who were recently discharged after a course of Pasteur treatment. The three were all bitten at the same time, but the man's case was reported upon by the provincial authorities, while the wife and daughter had to wait, as their case had been sent to Ottawa to be reported upon. Fifty cases have now been treated by the provincial authorities.

Dr. Hodgetts, of the Provincial Board of Health, in discussing the rabies situation this morning said it would be some time before the dog-muzzling order would be rescinded.

"A great deal depends upon the municipalities themselves," said the doctor. "Some are not enforcing the regulations as they should. It would be unwise to withdraw the order yet."

Strength and vitality are combined in the invigorating tonic Ferrovin, which consists of fresh lean beef, Citrate of Iron, and pure old Spanish Sherry Wine. Nothing could be more beneficial for anemic women and children, elderly people whose strength is failing, and all persons run-down and debilitated. $1.00 bottles.

Mrs. Murdock, and daughter, Elizabeth, have returned from Buffalo.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Lavelle, and Miss Marian Currie spent Sunday with Owen Sound friends.

Mrs. Jacob Kress left Tuesday for Toronto, where she intends to remain for some time with her daughter, Maud, who is under treatment in the Sick Children's Hospital.

Wounded by Air Gun.

That the air gun, so much in demand by small boys, is a dangerous weapon, and not always a harmless toy, was exemplified by an accident which befel Willie Hyde, the nine-year-old son of Mr. J.C. Hyde of Ingersoll.

Through the accidental discharge of an air gun in the hands of a companion, the boy was seriously wounded and had an extremely narrow escape from having the sight of his right eye destroyed.

The pellet struck the lad on the nasal side of the right eye, and penetrated to a depth of three quarters of an inch. He received prompt medical attention, but before the wound could be probed it was necessary to place him under an anaesthetic. The bullet was successfully removed, and the lad is doing as well as could be expected.

An impossible thing to find a plaster equalled to the "D.&L." Menthol, and it is being imitated. Get the genuine. For side aches, back aches, stitches, nothing equals it. Made by Davis & Lawrence Co.

Lay Down on the Track.

Jim Hartley, an employee of the Imperial Wire and Nail Works, Collingwood, had an experience that no doubt he will remember for some time to come. It seems that Jim got intoxicated and went to the office of the company to draw his pay, but owing to his condition he failed to get what he was after. He started for town, and when about half way, apparently got tired, and decided to have a rest by the side of the track. He lay down with his head about a foot from the rails. No doubt he enjoyed his sleep, but when he awoke he found that he came as close as possible to death as the 12 o'clock train from Meaford was just passing, and the engineer did not notice the sleeping man until he was nearly upon him, but when he did see him he applied the brakes and stopped the train about a hundred yards past Hartley. The conductor ordered the engineer to back up the train, and the conductor and brakeman found on coming up that Jim was just asleep. He awoke and proceeded homewards, none the worse of his little sleep.

We have to thank the Japanese for Menthol, which when applied in Davis' Menthol Salve is unequalled to soothe and heal insect bites and stings, sunburn, etc. 25c. per tin.

Newspaper as a Business.

It is surprising how utterly diverse are the ways in which different people look upon a newspaper. Some seem to imagine that if they pay $1.00 a year for a paper the paper should boost their particular interests to such a degree that the service rendered by the paper is worth hundreds of dollars to them. For instance, men who are interested in a particular locality expect that because they subscribe for a paper that paper is in duty bound to boost their locality.

All the good news, they imagine, should be published and painted a rosy tint, while anything that shows up the difficulties of utilizing that locality should be suppressed. All this should be done for that dollar subscription.

On the other hand, another class of subscriber which buys the paper because it is supposed to be an information bureau, expects that a paper will spend money to guide them to invest their money so as to bring in big interest. These people expect that for $1.00 the paper ought to give them as much information as a mining expert would charge $100 for.

Another class of people expects a paper to publish all the police court news giving the name of every man who gets a glass too much while another class of people expects a paper to suppress their names if they come within the clutches of the law. In each case, for these desired ends is paid $1.00 a year and yet the newspaper cannot in any one case satisfy one side without displeasing the other.

Temperance people expect a paper to fight a local option campaign, and the hotel people expect it to oppose the local optionists, and each side gets hot if the paper does not just carry out its wishes.

All seem to forget that a newspaper is a business, and that it must be sustained on business principles. John D. Rockefeller and the big railways recognize this part of the business and support the papers which fight their battles, but the local paper gets none. —Bradford Witness.

MOST REMARKABLE CURES EVER MADE BY ANY REMEDY.

Are Daily Credited to the Wonderful Powers of "Fruit-a-tives."

Bancroft Man Thinks This Fruit Medicine Will Work Miracles.

It is the old chronic case, the stubborn case, the case that will not yield to the ordinary remedies of the physician, that "Fruit-a-tives" never fails to cure. Many of the cures made by "Fruit-a-tives" are the wonder and admiration of the doctors who cannot understand how "Fruit-a-tives" can do what they cannot.

Bancroft, Ont., October 17th. "I have been troubled for years with Indigestion—have tried every kind of medicine, and found only temporary relief. Then I used "Fruit-a-tives" and now I am no longer troubled with Indigestion. I think it is a splendid remedy."

Tramps Very Plentiful

Tramps, tramps, and still more tramps. The city of Chatham is filled with them, and country too. Ragged? Yes! Not the ragged hero that fiction feeds on, but a creature of ignominious cast of character that begs for food and clothing from door to door. Reports from different parts of the country tell of tramps visiting barns at night, when they enter into peaceful slumber. One farmer states that one of these individuals entered his barn, and going into the haystack, made it his headquarters over night. "There is danger by fire," he added. "What do some of these fellows care? Some of them would think no more of firing a barn than stealing a night's lodging. An effort should be made to exterminate this pest by enforcing the law rigidly."
