Some "big ones" got away last Monday.

The person who stole the horse bridle out of Geo. Pollock's stable, Varney, will save trouble by returning the same at once. He is known, and the bridle is marked so as to be easily identified.

Our stock of new summer millinery has arrived. Those who come to our millinery parlors expect to hear the last authoritative word as to good taste and style in millinery, and they are not disappointed.—Miss Dick.

Editors as a rule, are kind-hearted and liberal. An exchange tells of a subscriber who died and left fourteen years' subscription unpaid. The editor appeared as the lid of the coffin was being screwed down and put in a linen duster, a thermometer, a palm leaf fan and a recipe for making ice.

A Neustadt man drove to Mildmay last week, says an exchange, and while there purchased a bag of flour. On going to his wagon soon after, he missed the flour, and he promptly enlisted the services of a local detective to search for the missing meal. After following up several clues, they made their way back to the wagon, and found, to their surprise, that the flour had been returned in the meantime.

Last week, two thousand trout were put into the Grand River at Fergus, says the News-Record. One thousand were deposited at Wilson's dam, and one thousand at the Wash Green, below Tower St. bridge. About half of them were yearlings, and the other half two years old. In another year or two there will be good trout fishing in the Grand river, which in the early days was a fine trout stream. Besides the two thousand put into the river, Mr. James Wilson deposited ten thousand fry in the trout pond at Mrs. Black's, at Blackburn, where they will be fed for a year and then let out into the Grand river. Mr. Wilson also generously paid for one thousand of the trout put into the river, the other thousand being paid for by subscription among the members of the Good Times Fishing Club.

We have an ad. in this issue announcing that a young 12 year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wail ran away from home on Monday last and has not since been heard of. The boy did not care to go to school and his father had him engaged in seeding and spring work generally. To force the boy and the parents as well to comply with the school regulations the truant officer appeared with the result that the lad disappeared rather than return to school. Far be it from us to condemn our Educational System in its effort to force all to get a fair common education, but we pity the boy who hasn't the desire to take the advantage of the age in which he lives. What an awful thing it must be to grow up in ignorance of literary knowledge.

Though he lost his license by the passing of local option here two years ago, it doesn't seem that Mr. Val. Hahn of the Hahn House has lost any of his ideas about keeping his premises in first class shape. For the past couple of weeks painters and paper-hangers have been at work, and from cellar to garret, have added touches of improvement, that work wonders in the looks of the interior. Though in good repair at all times, Mr. Hahn now has his premises looking much better, we believe than ever before and has well lived up to his old reputation of running one of the best hostilities north of Toronto. The contract for the paperhanging is held by Mr. Bert Willis, and the quality of the work done, speaks well of his ability as a tradesman.

It's gardening time, and spades are trump.

Next Sunday Rev. Mr. Carter will preach at Durham morning and evening and at Zion in the afternoon. Mr. Wright will hold communion service at Varney and Ebenezer.

With the assistance of the millinery wholesale buyers in Toronto, we are kept in touch with the leading styles in millinery. Call and see our new models.—Miss Dick.

Rubber coats, boots, bands, surgical accessories and other rubber goods, will cost more from now on say the big rubber companies. The raise will affect everything but the rubber necks, though they will likely be on the turn later on.

The examination of eyesight is not a matter of patronage. Only those skillful in the matter of optical science should be consulted. If your eyes give trouble, your best interests will be served by consulting G. H. Wright, registered optometrist, Hillmer's jewellery store, Thursdays, May 12th.

The charges against the Middaugh House for the alleged illicit sale of liquor fell flat in the investigation last Wednesday, as the evidence was somewhat contradictory, and didn't hang together well. Mr. Ayerst, of Toronto, was here as prosecuting attorney, and A. G. MacKay championed the cause of the Middaugh House. The case was dismissed by Police Magistrate Telford.

Recently we noticed a fine photo engraving of Mrs. Robert Dass in the Winnipeg Town Topics. Mrs. Dass is a daughter of Mrs. Sutherland, of this town, and is a vocalist of much ability, being now engaged as soprano soloist in St. Stephen's church, Winnipeg, (Ralph Connor's) Mrs. Dass was formerly leader of the choir in St. Andrew's church, Stratford. Her many friends will be pleased to hear of her success.

An old-time dancing party was held at Rocky Saugeen one evening last week, when the youth and beauty of Aberdeen, Allan Park, and other places, assembled at the home of a popular young couple of that locality, to spend a few pleasant hours. But a dance without something to dance for, or with, did not appeal to them, and in order to enliven the proceedings a couple of the boys were despatched for a keg of lager, which limbered up the muscles of the dancers, and enabled them to tip the light fantastic with an energy and vehemence that would have done credit to a Sioux Indian war dance. We have been informed on good authority that it was "one of the affairs of the season."

The success of his skating rink venture has led Mr. Jos. Brown to delve deeper into the art of catering to the wants of the recreation loving public, and now he is hard at it promoting and getting everything in readiness to launch his latest venture. This time, instead of ice, however, Joe is going to use the calm and placid waters above the McGowan Milling Company's dam. A miniature Venice is his intention, and the coming summer will see him place in operation a line of skiffs, that the mariners of Durham may enjoy themselves to their heart's content, in boating and kindred amusements. Joe was down to Hamilton last week, and as a starter, left his order for a half dozen boats, which will arrive here in the course of a few days. We understand he intends putting in a wharf, building a boathouse, and otherwise putting the place in good shape. His endeavors to provide this means of recreation, will, we hope, meet with good support, and prove remunerative enough to warrant him in making still further improvements next year.

As an account of the marriage of Miss Viola Backus to Mr. John Sharp, will no doubt appear elsewhere in the paper, we refrain from saying more than to join with Hampden in wishing the young people an exceptionally happy voyage over the matrimonial sea, and may each have attained the good old age of four score years and ten before the golden shore appears on their horizon. Mr. Sharp is one of Hampden's old boys and even now is not a far away resident.

TOWN COUNCIL.

At the regular meeting of the town council on Monday night, accounts amounting to $122.24 were passed.

The Fire and Light Committee were instructed to take up the town Fire By-law and modify it to such an extent as to meet the requirements of the town.

A petition asking for a sidewalk from Mill to Lambton streets was accepted.

A motion for payment of a coal bill for coal for Mr. Sharp was lost.

Two tenders for street watering, at $140 and $150 were laid over.

A communication in reference to the Carnegie Library was read and referred to the Finance Committee.

The first and second reading of the Furniture Co. By-law was laid over for a future meeting.

Mr. Calder next enquired about the McGowan By-law securities and moved a resolution asking for all papers to be laid on the table in connection therewith before the signing of the Debitures. This motion was declared irregular by the mayor, as the debentures had been already signed by him and the clerk of the town. In this connection Mr. Calder thought the mayor and clerk had exceeded their duty in signing the debentures. Clause 4 of the By-law authorizes these officials to affix their signatures and as no money will pass over to the company till all securities are given there seems to have been very little wrong in the transaction.

OBITUARY.

MRS. WILLIAM MORRISON.

Another of Glenelg's pioneers passed to her reward on Friday last, in the person of Mrs. Wm. Morrison, sr. She had been a resident of the township for nearly sixty years, and was seventy-eight years of age at the time of her death.

Mrs. Morrison's maiden name was Elizabeth Kenny. She was born in Ireland in 1831, and came to Canada in 1847 with her parents and lived for a time at Hamilton and Guelph, where she was married to Wm. Morrison about fifty-eight years ago, coming into the wilds of Glenelg with him immediately afterwards. Mr. Morrison predeceased her about sixteen years ago. Their marriage resulted in an issue of eleven children, seven of whom are still living, as follows: William, and Thos. J., on the homestead, James, at Traverston, P. G., at Fernie, B. C. Belle, on the homestead, Mrs. Barry, at Dornoch, and Mrs. H. Simpson, of Durham. Of the four who are dead, two died in infancy, John when about thirty years of age, and Sarah Jane about thirty years ago.

Mrs. Morrison had been ill for but a couple of weeks with an attack of bronchitis, and, being, for a woman of her years, exceptionally healthy, her sudden demise was unexpected, and came as a severe blow to the family and friends.

She was a devoted member of St. John's Roman Catholic church, Pomona, where the remains were laid at rest on Monday morning last, from her late residence, Lot 35, Concession 2, Glenelg, her pastor, Rev. Father Ferguson, officiating at the services at the church and grave.

The bereaved family have the sympathy of all in their sorrow.
