Anchor SHINGLE STAINS

The Best Preservative of Undressed Wood

Anchor Shingle Stains indefinitely postpone, if not absolutely prevent wet or dry rot. They show up the grain of the wood, giving delicately artistic finish, not only to the surface coated, but to the entire building.
We have used infinite pains in the selection of pigments best suited to combine with our specially treated COAL TAR CREOSOTE, and our success has been proportionate with our care.
Anchor Shingle Stains are being very largely used on the roofs, and in many instances also on the bodies, of the most attractive houses in our midst; they are also employed with excellent results from an economic standpoint on sheds and other outbuildings.

If your dealer cannot at the moment supply Anchor Shingle Stains, please write us to arrange for you.

Genoe—Turner—The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Turner, near Eugenia, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Wednesday evening April 27th, when at 5.30 o'clock their daughter Ada May, was joined in marriage with Mr. William Thomas Genoe, of Artemesia. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. E. Wellwood B. D. of Flesherton and the bride's sister played the wedding march. The bride who was unattended, was given away by her father and was very prettily attired in a gown of white muslin.
About forty guests were present and after the marriage partook of a choice wedding breakfast. The presents to the bride were numerous and valuable.
Mr. and Mrs. Genoe have settled in their new home on the 8th concession of Artemesia.

By an interesting letter from Mr.

Bank here, we learn he is enjoying Western life located at Cadogan, Cecil is in the P. O. and conducting a real estate business. He has homesteaded a half section near the town
