No "Flying Start" required with this Mower

If your mower isn't a Frost & Wood, very likely you have to back it up several feet and get a "flying start" before the knives will cut. That is because it is made on the External Gear principle.

Now, with the Frost & Wood No. 8 Mower the knives commence cutting the instant the horses begin to move. That is because the No. 8 is designed on the Internal Gear principle.

Frost & Wood No. 8 Mower

We could tell you here the difference between External Gear Mowers and Internal Gear Mowers, but it would require a lot of space, and we can explain the difference more readily if you'll drop in and see us. We also want to show you the Large Bearings used in the Stay-tight Connection between Cutter Bar and Main Power Frame, as well as the Double Brace used to protect the working parts from jars and jolts—and several other features exclusive to the Frost & Wood No. 8 Mower. Call and see us at your earliest convenience.

THE MAN FROM BRODNEY'S

would be putting it more than mildly. "What shall I do—what can I do. Mr. Bowen?" he gasped, bewildered.

"Consult an attorney," advised Mr. Bowen promptly.

"I'll do it!" shouted Bobby Browne, one time halfback on his college eleven. "Break the will for me, Mr. Bowen, and I'll give!"

"I can't break it, Bobby. I'm its executor."

"Good Lord! Well, then, who is the best will breaker you know, please? Something has to be done right away."

"I'm afraid you don't grasp the situation. Now, if you were not married it would—"

"I wouldn't give up my wife for all the islands in the universe. That's settled. You don't know how happy we are. She's the!"

"Yes, yes, I know," interrupted the wily Mr. Bowen. "Don't tell me about it. Go and see Judge Garrett, over in the K. building. They say he expects to come back from the grave to break his own will."

Ten minutes later an excited young man rushed into an office in the K. building.

"You will have to fight it jointly," said Judge Garrett after extracting the wheat from the chaff of Browne's remarks. "You can't take hers away

"It's as sound as the rock of Gibraltar," from her, and she can't get yours. We must combine against the natives. Come back tomorrow at 2."

Promptly at 2 Browne appeared, eager eyed and nervous. He had left behind him at home a miserable young woman with red eyes and choking breath who remonstrated the cruel conviction that she stood between him and fortune.

"But, hang it all, dearest, I wouldn't marry that girl if I had the chance. I'd marry you all over again today if I could," he had cried out to her, but she wondered all afternoon if he really meant it. It never entered her head to wonder if Lady Deppingham was old or young, pretty or ugly, bright or dull.

Judge Garrett had a copy of the will in his hand. He looked dubious, even dismayed.

"It's as sound as the rock of Gibraltar," he announced dolefully.

"You don't mean it!" gasped poor Bobby, mopping his fine Harvard brow, his six feet of manhood shrinking perceptibly as he looked about for a chair in which to collapse. "Can't it be smashed?"

"It might be an easy matter to prove either of these old gentlemen to have been insane, but the two of them together make it out of the question."

"Darned unreasonable!"

"What do you mean, sir?" indignantly.

"I mean—oh, you know what I mean—the conditions and all that. Why, the old chumps must have been trying to prove their grandchildren insane when they made that will. Nobody but imbeciles would marry people they'd never seen. I!"

"But the will provides for a six months' courtship. Mr. Browne, I'm sorry to say. You might learn to love a person in less time and still retain your mental balance, you know, especially if she were pretty and an heiress to half your own fortune. I dare say that is what they were thinking about."

"Thinking? They weren't thinking of anything at all. They weren't capable. Why didn't they consider the possibility that things might turn out just as they have?"

"Possibly they did consider it, my boy. It looks to me as if they did not care a rap whether it went to their blood relatives or to the islanders. I fancy of the two they loved the islanders more. At any rate, they left a beautiful opening for the very complications which now conspire to give the natives their own, after all. It's necessary for both of you to be on the ground according to schedule. You must go to the island, wife or no wife, and there's not much time to be lost. Lady Deppingham won't let the grass grow under her feet if I know anything about the needs of English nobility, and I'll bet my hat she's packing her trunks now for a long stay in Japan. You have farther to go than she, but you must get over there inside of sixty days. You can't tell what may happen in the next six months."

"What do you mean?"

"Well, it's possible that you may become a widower and she a widow."

CUTS & SORES.

Apply Zam-Buk to all wounds and sores and you will be surprised how quickly it stops the smarting and brings ease. It covers the wound with a layer of protective balm, kills all poison germs already in the wound, and prevents other entering. Its rich healing herbal essences then build up from the bottom, fresh tissues and in a wonderfully short time the wound is healed!

Zam-Buk's popularity is based on merit. Itations never work cures. Be sure and get the real thing. "Zam-Buk" is printed on every packet of the genuine. Beware all others, 50c all drug stores and stores of Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

ZAM-BUK

"Good heaven, Judge Garrett! Impossible!" gasped Bobby Browne, clutching the arms of his chair.

"Nothing is impossible, my boy."

"Well, if that's what you're counting on you can count me out. I won't speculate on my wife's death."

"But, man, suppose that it did happen!" roared the judge frantically. "You should be prepared for the best—I mean the worst. Don't look like a sick dog. You go to the island at once. Take your wife along if you like. You'll find her ladyship there, and she'll need a woman to tell her troubles to. I don't think we'll have any trouble getting the British heirs to join in the suit to overthrow the will. The only point is this—the islanders must not have the advantage that your absence from Japan will give to them. Now, I'll—"

"But I don't like the suggestion that my wife will be obliged to die in order—"

"Please leave all the details to me, Mr. Browne. It may not be necessary for her to die. There are other alternatives in law. Give the lawyers a chance. All you have to do is to plant yourself on that island and stay there until we tell you to get off."

"Or the islanders push me off," muttered Bobby.

Young Mr. Browne went away at dusk, half nodding under the responsibility of existence, and eventually reached the side of the anxious young woman awaiting him. He kissed the facts and awaited the will of destiny.

"I think it will be perfectly jolly," she cried instead and kissed him rapturously.

Over the opposite side of the Atlantic the excitement in certain circles was even more intense than that produced in Boston. Lord Deppingham needed the money, but he was a whole day in grasping the fact that his wife could not have it and him at the same time. The beautiful and fashionable Lady Deppingham, once little Agnes Ruthven, came as near to having hysteria as Englishwomen ever do, but she called in a lawyer instead of a doctor. For three days she neglected her social duties and they were many, ignored her gallant admirers and they were many, and hurried back and forth between home and chambers so vigorously that his lordship was seldom closer than a day behind in anything she did.

There was a great rattling of trunks, a jangling of keys, a thousand good-bys, a castoff season, and the Deppinghams were racing a way for the island of Japat, somewhere in the far south seas.
