On his return trip from Scotland Mr. Ramage says he was "good and sick." The fact that he missed one meal was satisfactory evidence.

The Ritchie boys resumed work on the Clerk's office on Saturday.
The injunction restraining them having dropped with the carrying of the By-law.

In the absence of Rev. Mr.
Wright, Rev. Mr. Deller, of Varney, preached Sunday morning in the Methodist church, and in the evening there was a special song service.

Fifty new penny-in-the-slot themselves.

Rev. Father Vaughan delivered a forceful address on "Character," in Montreal on Monday night. In the course of his remarks, he denounced race suicide in strong language. The hall porter, he said told him he was the father of nineteen children, but he himself was glad to go it one better and tell him that his grandfather had twenty.

W. K. Reid, insurance man of Durham, was in town Monday.
Mr. Reid is a veteran schoolteacher of this county, but gave up the profession ten years ago and went into insurance. He has also been an expert bicyclist for many years, and as a pusher of the wheel steed would put many a younger man to shame.—Flesh-erton Advance.

Some town boys have been in the habit lately of annoying our Chinese laundryman, and ended up one evening last week by shying a couple of good sized rocks through one of the windows. This is a bad practise to indulge in, if caught, the penalty is a heavy one, and though we don't wish anyone to get into trouble, we would like to see an example made of persons guilty of this kind of lawlessness.

Mr. J. A. Brown received the sad intelligence this week of the death on Sunday last, of his only brother, Mr. J. R. Brown, in Phoenix, Arizona. Mr. Brown's death was caused by being thrown from a buggy in a runaway accident.
To the majority of our readers, the deceased was unknown, having left here in 1884, and never returning, except for a brief visit five years ago. Beyond the news of his death, no particulars have been received. We tender our sympathy to the bereaved ones.

There will be a meeting of the day, at which the rector will be portance to Trinity church.

Some time ago we received correspondence from Greenside, but the portion of the letter concerning the writer's name was mislaid.
If he will kindly write us again, we shall be pleased to add his name to our list of regular correspondents.

Labor Day was very quietly observed in Durham, the business places were all closed, and the town had a sort of Sunday appearance. Many from town took advantage of the holiday to go to the exhibition, while others put in the time at the rifle range.

A communication from Swinton Park endeavors to explain why their boys didn't show up in the recent run challenge. We don't know the particulars, but will give an opportunity to those who do know to explain. We want facts in the shortest and most intelligible form, but we do not want the discussion to be unnecessarily prolonged.

A severe wind storm passed over South Essex on Sunday last.
In Leamington, trees were blown down and broken, outbuildings blown down, and a large plate glass in the Wigle Block blown in and broken. In the townships of Gosfield and Mersea, the fruit and other crops suffered much damage, several barns were unroofed, and a number of barns burned by lightning.

A big rain storm swept the Exhibition grounds in Toronto on Saturday last. Tents were blown down, the walks were flooded and thousands of visitors on the lawns were forced to seek shelter from the storm. Tents in the Midway were blown down, and there was general disorder for a time. In the rush for shelter there was a general stampede, when a number of women and children were crushed in the jam. One woman, more scared than hurt, was taken to the Emergency Hospital. Everything was righted up in a little while, and the show went on as if nothing had happened.

Mr. David McClocklin was a disappointed man on Labor Day. He was one of the oldest, if not the oldest, masons and bricklayers, in the city of Guelph, and received a special invitation to attend the Labor Day demonstration there-but unfortunately when Monday came he did not feel equal to the task, though the Union in the Royal City, in a nicely worded letter, gave him a pressing invitation to be present, promising a special hack to take him in the procession. The best he seemed able to do in honor of the day was to don his Sunday clothes, and display a handsome badge he received from the Union three or four years ago.

The Grants in Durham are as common as the Smith's are generally. There's Grant, the merchant, Grant the lawyer, Grant the lawyer's amanuensis, Grant the bank clerk, Grant the dentist, Grant the station clerk, and a lot of other Grants, some of them little Grants, some of them big Grants, but they're all Grants.
From this, people will grant that the Grants are well represented Grant the merchant, has a grant of land that was granted him by the Government for services long since granted. In this case, Grant became the grantee, and the Government that granted the grant to Grant became the grantor.
If Grant granted a grant to another Grant, the Grant to whom the grant was granted would be the grantee, while the Grant who granted the grant would be the Grantor. Next!

being a practical machine operator, who spent much time on the typograph in years gone by, we made considerable use of him, and his brief call was not lacking in profit to us. He thinks the machine we have is a good one, and the operator a first class man.
We wouldn't for the world have this latter opinion come to the notice of our operator, as he might get so cocky we wouldn't be able to hold him.
