

THE DURHAM CHRONICLE

W. IRWIN, Editor and Proprietor. DURHAM, SEPTEMBER 15, 1910

On Friday evening, at Parkdale, might be seen a casket covered with flowers, ready to be taken by the C. P. R. to Durham. It contained the remains of a young man, Archibald Kennedy, whose home was three or four miles from Durham. A few days before he had been a stalwart, healthy young man of twenty years of age and was a motorman on the Toronto Street Railway. He had not been feeling well for a few days, and on Wednesday morning, after working two hours, had been obliged to go to his boarding place with a severe pain in the lower part of his back which gradually extended up his spinal column. On Thursday morning paralysis set in, first of the lower limbs, then of the arms and finally of the muscles of respiration, so that he could not breathe and he died about nine o'clock on Thursday evening. An elder brother happened to come to the city a day or two before and was with him to the end. The case was diagnosed as Marsh's paralysis and seems to be the same as that reported in the press from Hamilton, where 50 persons are said to have been attacked by it. It is generally fatal and when the patient lives often leaves a permanent paralysis. It most frequently attacks persons between 20 and 30 years of age. It is supposed to be a germ disease and seems to be beyond the reach of any known medical treatment.—Mount Forest Confederate.

Chief Constable McAulay and P. C. Foster had a lively few minutes at the Str. Caribou on Friday afternoon, when they arrested one of the crew, who showed every symptom of violent insanity. The man who gave his name as George Appleton, shipped at Sault Ste. Marie. On the trip down he acted strangely, hunting imaginary rats, with which he claimed the boat was infested, but the crew thought little of his actions, believing them to be the results of a mild touch of delirium tremens, as he appeared to have been drinking heavily. On Friday, however, after the boat had landed here, he got worse. His first exploit was to get hold of several cans of paint, and proceed to daub his face and hands with varied tints until he was a most ludicrous spectacle. When some of his mates laughed at him, he suddenly broke into a frenzy and charged about the deck roaring at the top of his voice and trying to smash everything that came in his way. Captain Batten and Chief McAtney, and while they were away getting the necessary warrant, Appleton quieted down, washed off most of the paint, and ducked into the hold, where he was when the Chief and P.C. Foster came to arrest him. He could not be persuaded to come out, seeming to fear that he would be clubbed, and when the constable came near him he showed signs of becoming violent again. Not wishing to over-excite the man, they slipped out of sight, while the cook persuaded him to come up and get something to eat. But the ruse failed, for the moment he heard Captain Batten moving to close the hatch, Appleton was back and down again like a flash. In a few minutes he looked out, and seeing no one, he made a dash for the upper deck. But P.C. Foster was on hand like a flash, and it was only a few seconds before the Chief had him securely handcuffed. He was taken in a cab to the goal, fighting and begging the constables not to lock him up and beat him. When brought to the Police Court on Saturday morning he was quiet, but broke out occasionally expressing in a loud voice his fear that they would club him. His Worship remanded him for a week and ordered a medical examination to ascertain his mental condition.—Owen Sound Sun.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS.

Two adults are reported to have died in Toronto in about a week from what is known as infantile paralysis. Mr. Archibald Kennedy, 57 Sullivan St., a street-car motorman, was the first victim, and he lived only 31 hours after his case was regarded as serious. Mr. R. W. Milliken was in his office only a few days ago, and died on Wednesday. He was 29 years of age, and left a widow and one child. Dr. J. T. Fotheringham was called in just as Mr. Kennedy died. He also saw Mr. Milliken, who was attended by Dr. Charles R. Sneath. Dr. Fotheringham has no doubt both deaths were due to infantile paralysis. He says the disease is not infectious. He says its contributing causes are exposure to heat or over-exertion. Dr. Sheard, City Medical Health Officer, says no medical authority has yet definitely stated that the disease is infectious. He is satisfied that there is no danger of an epidemic in Toronto.

SIE WILFALL'S LOVE STORY.

"When Laurier was a young lawyer in Antanasca," says M. O. Hammond, writing in September Canada Monthly, formerly Canada West, "where, by the way, may still be seen his former office lady bearing his shingle, although he has not handled a brief for many years, his lungs were at one time thought to be seriously affected, and in this connection, a pretty story is told of the romance of the Premier's life. While attending law school in Montreal, Laurier became deeply attached to a young lady in the house in which he boarded, who had some years before come up from a farm near Arthabasca. The attachment grew to love and promise of marriage. Unfortunately, at this stage, Laurier's health gave way, and the Montreal doctors thought he could not live long. Under these circumstances, the engagement was broken and Laurier went to Arthabasca in wretched health, and, as most people thought, with but a short time to live. Soon after his arrival he consulted a local doctor, who told him he was not seriously ill, and that with care he might live a long time. "Will you give me a certificate to that effect?" asked young Laurier, eagerly. "Certainly," the doctor replied. The certificate was given to Laurier, who headed for Montreal to show it to his former lady love. In the meantime, the lady had met other friendships which might have proved lasting, but the return of Wilfrid with the assurance of probable good health, and long life, brought the lovers together again. That woman is now Lady Laurier.

THE FURNITURE COMPANY

We are pleased to learn that the Durham Furniture Co., intends to commence operations shortly in the extension of the new factory. The foundations, which are to be of concrete, will be put in this fall, and the work of completing the building will begin as early in spring as weather will permit. It is their intention to put a third story on the present factory and the new building will be an extension to the north of 60 feet by 200 three storeys high. The probability is that electric power will be used, as options have been obtained on certain powers on the Saugeen, and these are likely to be taken up. With the installation of electric motive power, the boiler now used will be continued, but only for heating purposes, and drying of lumber in the kilns. The chances are there will be a surplus of power, and electric power and zens or to other industries wishing to locate here. The shipping facilities will be increased by having a switch run in from the C. P. R. to the shipping department. The Grand Truck is already connected with the factory by a switch extension from their line. Plenty of raw material for years to come, three saw mills, owned and operated by themselves, and the very best shipping facilities should place the Durham Furniture Co. in a position to make a little money, if money is to be made in the furniture business.

The addition of a hundred extra hands, regularly employed, will mean a large increase to the population of the town, and next season will likely be a busy one in the building line. We learn on the best authority, that the Directors of the Company were not very anxious for the extension, as they could make more money personally out of the stock held under the present condition, but to our mind, the extension will be a great benefit to the town as a whole, and considerable wisdom was shown in voting for the By-laws.

THE LATE THOS. WHITMORE.

The funeral of Thos. Whitmore took place yesterday afternoon at Oakville. Being attended by a very large number of friends and acquaintances. The church was crowded to the doors and the cortege was one of the longest ever seen in this part of the province. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Lofthouse in St. Luke's church, interment taking place in Oakville cemetery.

The late Thos. Whitmore was born near Smith's Falls, Ont., 23 years ago. He was twice married, his first wife being Miss Mary Edges. One daughter, now Mrs. W. Gillies, of Robt. Ont., was born of this union. The second wife was Miss Annie Davis, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Davis, of Glenelg, Ont. The second family consisted of the late George Whitmore; Mrs. T.H. Smith, Portage Plains; Mrs. O.J. Burns, Portage la Prairie; Mrs. McArthur, Durham; Thos. R. of Wabigoon; Benjamin and J. D. Whitmore, of Oakville; the late Capt. J.E. Whitmore of Seattle; and the late Mrs. W.V. Anderson, of Oakville, and Miss Adelaide, at home.

Among the mourners at the funeral were Miss Annie Durston and Thos. Durston, to whom Mr. and Mrs. Whitmore had been foster-parents since infancy. The late Mr. Whitmore had thirteen grand-children. He was a life-long member of the Church of England and a strong Conservative. He was an enthusiastic member of the Orange order for more than sixty years. The members of the Orange order turned out in a body to the funeral of their deceased brother and comrade, who was buried with the colors of the society.—Portage la Prairie Review of August 15th.

FROM 85c TO OPULENCE

We had a very pleasant call a few days ago from Mr. Wm. Hopkins, of Saskatoon. Mr. Hopkins is Mayor of the city, and had been in Toronto as delegate to the Union of Canadian Municipalities. At the close of the convention he made a flying trip to Durham to see his father-in-law, Mr. James Carson, and other friends in Durham, Bentinck and Hanover. Mr. Hopkins is a son of the late James Hopkins, who, for many years was reeve of the township of Bentinck. Twenty-eight years ago, Mr. Hopkins went West, a young man of about seventeen or eighteen years of age, having to borrow $30 before starting, from Mr. Simon Young, who now lives in Hanover. Out of this money, he paid $25 for a ticket, and when he landed at Portage la Prairie had 50c left. This was his whole stock-in-trade, and he had to take off his coat and go to work.

How he spent the first few years we have not learned, but he was engaged for a long time in general business and farming. Now he gives his attention to hardware and farming. He has the largest hardware store in Saskatoon, and another large one at Tessier, 43 miles out on Goose Lake line. We said hardware and farming, and our readers will form some conception of the farming end of his business, when we say that he is the owner of 2000 acres. This year he has 700 acres under crop, runs four binders in harvest time, and will have a grain return of more than 15,000 bushels. Next year, he will have double the acreage under cultivation.

Mr. Hopkins is a very enthusiastic Westerner, and like nearly all Westerners, he is exceedingly loyal to his own town and locality. Only six years ago, Saskatoon was a mere hamlet on the South Saskatchewan. To-day, it is a rapidly rising city of 15,000 inhabitants, with beautiful schools, banks, churches and hotels, as well as all kinds of business. The city is now on both sides of the river, which from pictures we have seen of it, is a fine, broad stream of water, spanned by magnificent passenger and railway bridges. Mr. Hopkins tells us that Saskatoon, in proportion to population, is growing much more rapidly than any other city in the West, and gives every evidence of becoming a second Winnipeg.

On venturing a suggestion to Mr. Hopkins that he is worth more than 85c, a very significant smile showed an inward satisfaction which led us to feel that he is firmly established on Easy Street, and doesn't need to take off his coat any more, unless he does so for the mere pleasure he finds in it. The young man who isn't afraid to take off his coat and work, and who has sense enough to take care of his money, need never have any fear of starving in this good old Canada. A man needs pluck as well as luck, and we may venture the assertion that the former is the preferable essential to success. We hope that the success of Mr. Hopkins, who grew from a financial standing of 85c, at 17 to a position of opulence at 45 may be an inspiration to our young readers; but they must remember, that inspiration without perspiration will seldom bring success. Inspiration and luck, without the perspiration and pluck are poor tools to depend upon.

THE SAFETY OF "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

May Be Taken For Years

The Ideal Remedy For Young and Old

Nature's gifts do us good, if used judiciously. We eat bread from babyhood to old age without ever tiring of it. We drink water, year in and year out, with the greatest benefit to our health. So too, we eat fruit in season and are better for the change of diet. This is true, because such things are the natural foods and drink of mankind. It is for this reason that "Fruit-a-tives" may be used for years in correcting some ill of the body. As is well known, "Fruit-a-tives" is made of the juices of apples, oranges, figs and prunes.

Just as fresh fruit may be eaten at every meal, so "Fruit-a-tives" may be taken every night for 20 years or more with the greatest benefit. The absolute safety of "Fruit-a-tives" has been a great factor in its success. Those who suffered with chronic troubles such as Constipation, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, etc., naturally took a number of boxes of "Fruit-a-tives". As they became better, they found that instead of being compelled to increase the dose as in most medicines, they were decreasing it, and gradually taking fewer doses.

At dealers, or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa. 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial box, 25c.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until he last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years it was considered that a local disease and prescribers had remedies, and by constantly filling to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by E. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: E. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists 75c. Take Hal's Family Pills for constipation.

SMALL-POX SCARE IS OVER.

Since it first became known that there was a case of small-pox in town our citizens were naturally much alarmed that a general outbreak of the dread disease might follow. The sad termination of the one case by the death of the patient, Dr. Sawdon, increased the alarm to some extent until all danger of contracting the disease was past. Fortunately that period has been reached without any other case developed, and Listowel citizens can now breathe freely and congratulate themselves upon their escape from a threatened outbreak. The greatest possible precaution was taken to prevent the disease from spreading, and it is very satisfactory to all concerned that the steps taken have resulted in confining the disease to one case and that it is now completely eradicated. The community has certainly had a providential escape, for which there is abundant cause for thankfulness.—Listowel Standard.
