ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

Reuben Switzer, a young hired farm hand, of East Luther township, was committed to gaol in Orangeville on Saturday last, charged with attempted suicide while temporarily insane. Switzer who is an unmarried man, aged about 25, gashed his throat and forehead with a razor. He will recover.—Shelburne Free Press.

PREACHER VS HORSE DEALER.

The Rev. Wm. Williamson, of Corbetton had some experience lately in horse dealing in Toronto. The case came up three times in the Toronto police court. John McPherson sold the man from Corbetton a brown gelding for $65, and guaranteed the horse sound in wind and limb, and only eight years old. It was soon discovered that the equine was about 25 years old and had no teeth. Mr. Williamson sued McPherson for the money paid, and got it, also his expenses to Toronto. Magistrate Denison would have sent McPherson to gaol for a term, had not Mr. Williamson pleaded for him to be let go. So he was remanded till called on for sentence.—Shelburne Free Press.

FOUND HIS WAD.

Last fall, while plowing on his farm on the 6th concession, Raleigh township, T.J. Montgomery lost a roll of money containing $32. He never expected to see it again, as it was plowed under, and he had no idea which furrow he lost it in. Recently while Mr. Montgomery was plowing the same field, his eye was caught by a peculiar bunch of paper that fell off the moulding board of the plow. He picked it up and examined it, hardly able to believe his eyes, for it was none other than the wad of money containing the $32 he had lost the year before. The bills were a little stiff from the dampness, but were not discolored or otherwise damaged. The roll contained three ten-dollar Standard Bank notes and two one-dollar bills.—Teeswater News.

COMMITTED FOR SHOOTING.

John Bannerman, of Osprey Twp. was up before J.A. Kernahan, Justice of the Peace, on Wednesday, Sept. 16, charged with shooting a steer belonging to Malcolm P. McLean, a neighbor. The alleged offence occurred on Sunday, Aug. 20th. The parties concerned live near Rob Roy.

George Bristow, who lives on an adjoining farm, swore he saw the accused driving McLean's cattle out of his grain, and shortly afterwards, when the cattle were under some trees, he heard two shots and saw the smoke.

Bannerman's own son, under the cross-examination of Lawyer Bruce of Collingwood, who acted for the prosecution, gave damaging evidence. His father owned several guns. He saw his father drive the cattle towards the bush, and then heard the shots fired. Bannerman was sent to Owen Sound for trial. Constable Perigo conducting him to Castle Miller on Thursday last. It is said that Bannerman has a rather unsavory reputation in the neighborhood in which he lives.—Flesherton Advance.

RUN OVER BY RACE HORSE.

The Walkerton race track, which has furnished the world with one fatal tragedy in the past, came near adding another horror to the supply on Friday afternoon, when Aileen McCool, the ten-year-old daughter of Inspector McCool, was knocked down by a race-horse while attempting to cross the track at the Fair here, while one of the races was in progress. The youngster got by the neck-horse, but was struck and knocked down by the second one. The horse, which followed behind, narrowly escaped tramping over her child, the sulky passing in fact, so narrowly was the escape, that many spectators turned their heads from what seemed a tragedy, and looking around again, saw the child walking off. The girl's mother, who was near the track, and witnessed the accident, fainted at the sight. It was near this spot, some twenty years ago, that a Mrs. Salter, from Eden Grove, was killed while attempting to cross the track with a baby in her arms. The fortunate escape on Friday last was the most spectacular happening at the Fair.—Walkerton Times.

YOU TAKE NO RISK.

Our Reputation and Money are Back of This Offer.

We pay for all the medicine used during the trial if our remedy fails to completely relieve you of constipation. We take all the risk. You are not obligated to us in any way whatever, if you accept our offer. Could anything be more fair for you? Is there any reason why you should hesitate to put our claims to a practical test?

The most scientific, common-sense treatment is Rexall Orderlies which are eaten like candy. They are very pronounced, gentle and pleasant in action, and particularly agreeable in every way. They do not cause diarrhoea, nausea, flatulence, griping, or any inconvenience whatever. Rexall Orderlies are particularly good for children, aged and delicate persons.

We urge you to try Rexall Orderlies at our risk. Two sizes, 10c, and 25c. Remember, you can get Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store.—The Rexall Store, Macfarlane & Co.

PLANS FOR BIG INDUSTRY.

The Imperial Cordage Co., which is the successor of the Walkerton Binder Twine Co., here is preparing plans for the erection of a self-fibre plant here that will occupy three times the building space of their present cordage factory. Machinery costing in the neighborhood of $150,000 is being unloaded off the cars here and stored away in the exhibition grounds palace until such time as the new premises are ready for its reception. In its completed and entire state, the Imperial Cordage Factory here will, it is expected, employ about 350 hands, made up of men, women and boys. The firm claim to be able to market all the goods they can manufacture, and the value of such an industry to the town can hardly be over-rated.—Times.

COOK CAME DOWN ON TOPP.

Wm. Topp, of Meaford, has for the past three months been driving around the concessions and sidelines of this county disposing of goods for cash and kind without having interviewed the County Treasurer and securing the legal document from that gentleman entitling him to do so. Constable R. Cook, of Ceylon, has for a long time been an expert in gunning for that sort of game, and a short time ago struck Topp's hot trail out near Eugenia and persistently followed it until he landed his game. On Tuesday evening of last week Mr. Topp appeared before James McMullen, J.P., and was assessed $20 and $6.35 costs for ignoring the county regulations.—Flesherton Advance.

CRYSTAL WEDDING.

On Tuesday evening, 13th inst., Mr. and Mrs. John D. Main, north of the town, celebrated their crystal wedding, in the presence of about fifty invited guests, composed of brothers and sisters, and their families and their near neighbors, Mr. James N. Main, of Hagersville, the only surviving member of the family, being present. Rev. Mr. Marshall, their pastor, and the two school teachers, were also present. Tea was served at 6 o'clock, about forty guests sitting down to the first table. The bridesmaid, Mrs. R.H. Caulfield, was present, and also the groom's man, Mr. David Allan, jr. Toasts were given, and good wishes for long life and prosperity. Mr. and Mrs. Main were the recipients of many useful and beautiful presents as a token of good will and happy remembrances. The evening was spent in games, instrumental music, singing and social chat.—Holstein Leader.

ENGLAND'S ROYAL TRAIN.

The King of England is taken very good care of when he travels by rail. In addition to the ordinary communication cord, an electrical appliance connects every coach, including the guard's van, with the driver. Moreover, the ordinary vacuum brake is supplemented by a Westinghouse brake so that if one should fail, the other is ready for use. In the last coach travels one of the company's officers, and also the carriage superintendent. These have at their command a full complement of workmen of all sorts, ready to meet any emergency which may happen. The King always travels to the north by night, and the train, which is made up at the point of departure, travels over the various companies' lines unbroken to its destination. At the contact of two systems, engines and guards are changed, but never the passengers. So there is, after all, some advantage in being a King.

THE OLDEST WOMAN.

The claim of Frau Dutkiewitz, of Posen, born on February 21st, 1755 to be the oldest woman in the world, is now contested by Mrs. Baba Valsika, who was born in May, 1784, in the little Bavarian village of Bavelsko, where she has lived ever since. The record of her birth is preserved in a neighboring monastery of the Orthodox Greek faith. Baba Valsika is the daughter of a peasant, and worked herself as a peasant up to a comparatively recent date. For more than a hundred years she regularly worked in the fields, according to the custom of her country, where women are employed in all sorts of manual labor. When she was born, Bulgaria was merely a province in the Turkish Empire, and under the entire population groaned under the tyranny of their Turkish rulers. She has seen innumerable wars and rebellions, massacres and atrocities, political crimes, and political tragedies. She recollects with perfect distinctness events that happened at the end of the eighteenth century and the beginning of the nineteenth century; in fact the time when she attained the age of eighty, are far more distinctly impressed on her mind than the happenings of the last forty-six years. Baba Valsika lived through all the crises of her nation, and now rejoices to know that Bulgaria is an independent kingdom.

Her son, Todor, following the family tradition, has also worked in the fields as a peasant nearly all his life, but he has also taken part in various wars and rebellions in the Balkan Peninsula. He is not quite so fresh and vigorous as his mother, although he is still capable of doing a good day's work. The 'oldest woman in the world' is said to enjoy fairly good eyesight, and good hearing, and she is able to walk without support. She lives on a pension paid her by many of her numerous descend-
