Mrs. T. C. McGirr, Lambton St., E.
We are pleased to learn that Mrs. Hind has been improving nicely during the past week, and it now seems as though she may recover without undergoing an operation.

The McGowan Milling Co. have improved the appearance of their elevator, by having it painted and lettered. The job is the work of Alex. McComb, our local artist, who is getting quite famous in his chosen calling.

As I am leaving town shortly, all accounts owing to me must be paid at once, or they will be placed in other hands for collection.

Mr. L. C. Karstedt who has been engaged in transacting in town for the past three or four years sold his business recently to Sernall & Glass, and later sold his residence to Mrs. D. Campbell. On Monday last he left with his family for Owen Sound, where he intends to enter business in some line. Mr. Karstedt was a good citizen and a good workman who gave satisfaction to his customers, judging from the amount of business he did in town, and country.
We wish him success in his new field of labor.

Mr. Geo. Daniel, of Minnesota, visited his brother, Thomas, and family here. He intended remaining for some time, but hearing that the bush fires had reached a point within forty miles of his home, he decided to return, and left on Tuesday morning, after spending only two days in town.
What an awful thing these bush fires must be, when they cause apprehension with a space of forty miles intervening. Yet, those who know from experience, the destructive rapidity of fire under the most favorable condition, a few miles seems but a mere trifle. We regret we did not have an opportunity to see Mr. Daniel during his brief stay.

Clifford Gardiner, of Toronto, was sentenced to three months in the Central Prison for seriously assaulting his wife on Gerrard Street on Sunday night. Several months ago, she separated from her husband on account of ill-treatment. The punishment imposed might be severe to some people, but a weekly application of the lash in addition to the imprisonment would go a long way towards making such fellows feel sorry for their wrong doings. A good dose of the lash would be far more likely to hurt the feelings of such people than a three months' term in the Central, and more than that, when they went through the mill once they wouldn't care about trying it again.

The Quaker Medicine Co., to which reference was made last issue, gave a series of concerts in the town hall every night from Tuesday until Saturday night of last week. Simply to introduce their medicines, they sold a number of packages of their great remedies for less than half price, and found a goodly number of purchasers, who will have no further need for doctors. A feature of the week's performance was the baby contest, and the result of the voting showed that Mr. and Mrs.
John Bauer are the happy possessors of the most popular baby in town. Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Cowan formed a close second, but the silverware now adorns the home of Mr. and Mrs. Blauer. On Friday night, an amateur concert was given at the close, the most pleasing entertainer to be the recipient of a five-dollar bill, and a three-dollar gold-mounted fountain pen to the next best artist. The contestants were Lillian Black, in a recitation, Florabel Nichol, Scottish dancing, Tom McGrath, a bone solo, and the McClocklin Bros., a mandolin selection. The prizes based on the applause given, were handed over to the McClocklin Bros., Ist, and Florabel Nichol, 2nd.
The first prize winners are popular, and known to everybody in town and vicinity, but it was a pleasing surprise to all who witnessed the splendid way in which the little girl of seven or eight summers performed her difficult Scottish dances with such grace and precision. It seems she learned it all herself, too, and so far as we can judge, she was just as good as many of the little Scottish dancers who appeared here on different occasions from outside points.

Rev. A. A. Bice, B. A., will preach next Sunday morning and evening in Trinity church, and also at 3 p. m. in St. Paul's church, Egremont.

We have made special preparation for the Thanksgiving holiday trade. A good selection of heav-er shapes, and a large stock of trimmed hats in the leading styles.
—Miss Dick.

Mr. A. H. Jackson has been improving his property by building a concrete retaining wall along the southern boundary, and finishing the retaining wall along Gara-fraxa Street by having it plastered and blocked off.

Mr. Newell Falkingham, wiper at the Grand Trunk roundhouse here, had the misfortune to fall from the engine Monday night, and badly fracture his collar bone. He will be confined to the house for some time in consequence of his mishap.

The main pipes from the flowing well are being laid along Gara-fraxa Street, and if the flow and pressure continue as they have done for the past seven or eight years, there will be an abundant supply for all domestic purposes in Lower Town.

Mr. Miles Dorsey, a gentleman about seventy-five or eighty years of age, died suddenly at his home in Glenelg on Monday last, and was interred in St. John's cemtery Wednesday morning. The deceased was a much respected resident of the township for many years. Mrs. Malcolm Black, of the Middaugh House is a daughter.

A telegram to Mr. A. H. Jackson, dated October 15th, announces the death of Mr. Alex. Gordon, at Weyburn, Sask. Mr. Gordon was for many years engaged in the jewellery business in this town, and was always regarded as honorable and upright in all his business transactions. Five or six years ago, he went West, and shortly after, his health began to fail him, and he was forced to give up active business. Besides his sorrowing widow, he leaves a family of five sons, Roy, a medical doctor, Allister, a medical student, Harold, Athol, and Gilbert, and two daughters, Mary and Eil-ah. The deceased was about 60 years of age, and appeared strong physically before he went to the West. He was a member of the Order of Foresters. As no particulars have come to hand, we are unable to say very much.

Walter Wellman, the daring American aviator, left Atlantic city on Saturday last to cross the Atlantic ocean in his airship America.
He was accompanied by five others on the novel and perilous voyage. They were fitted out with wireless telegraphy, and for a time the good news of "All's Well" flashed from the dirigible craft to the anxious friends at home.
Then there was a break in the communication, and notwithstanding incessant calls from the wireless stations on the shore, to the wireless equipped ocean steamers no information could be given concerning the airship. On Tuesday last, about 250 miles off Cape Hatteras, the entire crew were re-cued by the inbound steamer Trans-which reaches New York to-day, Wednesday. Wellman failed. He was a fool to risk it. Had he won out, another hero would have been created, and a new theatrical tour would have been in season.

Dr. Farquharson was at Claude on Monday evening of this week, taking part in the celebrating of the sixtieth anniversary of the organizing of his former congregation. During that time, there have been seven ministers, all of whom, save Mr. Coultas, the pioneer of all, are still living. Dr.
Fraser wondered whether their longevity were due to the healthifulness of the land, or to the dryness that made them good keepers. Of the six living pastors, four were present, the other two, Rev.
R. M. Croll, of Winnipeg, and Rev.
Dr. E. A. Witcher, of San Francisco, sent messages of regret at not being able to attend. The three former pastors spoke in the order of their ministry. Rev. Dr.
Fraser, of the Sunday School Publications, came first, and was followed by Rev. S. S. Craig, of Toronto, who, in turn, was succeeded by Dr. Farquharson. Besides these, there were addresses by Rev. J. A. Matheson, of Preeceville, moderator of the Orangeville Presbytery, Rev. Mr. Dimmik, Methodist minister of Ingwood, Rev. H. Matheson, of Caledon East and Rev. J. E. Thompson, of Cheltenham. The program of music was excellent, and the report provided by the ladies could only be described as sumptuous. Rev. G.
Cheyne, the present pastor, is to be congratulated on the splendid success of the meeting, and the fine prospects that open up for the congregation.

THE FURNITURE COMPANY.

This is great weather for the Furniture Co., who are now engaged in excavating for the new factory, which, but for the scarcity of help, would progress much more rapidly.

We interviewed the manager, Mr. Catton, a day or two ago, and learned that they needed more help to get matters in proper shape before the cold weather sets in. Their intention is, if possible, to make excavations and put in the foundation so as to be able to go on with the superstructure in the early spring.

The building, when the new addition is made, will be a large concern. The one now in use is 100x125 feet, two storeys high, and the new addition to be joined on to the old one will be 30 feet wide by 175 long, extending to the north, and three storeys high. An additional storey will also be added to the present factory.

The total length of the whole factory will be 400 feet, and the width 100 feet for 125 feet back, and 30 feet for the remaining 175 feet, and all three storeys high.
The total cost of the portions added will, it is estimated, be in the neighborhood of $25,000, and the machinery necessary for its equipment will cost between $25,000 and $30,000.

But this is not all. The Company has secured options on a number of water powers on the Rocky Saugeen, and intend utilizing them to generate electric power for the running of the whole plant with a lot of extra power for sale to those who wish to purchase it. The dam alone at Ferguson's Mill will cost from $6,000 to $10,000 according to present estimates. To this the cost of building and electrical equipment will make another $15,000 outlay.
So, the total outlay for buildings, machinery and other expenses will run up in the neighborhood of $75,000, and all or most of this outlay will be made next year.

When one thinks of the enlarged factory and its various adjuncts, such as the three saw mills and the electrical plant to furnish power, it seems almost fabulous to imagine the growth of the up-pretentious factory that was put in operation only a few years ago, burned to the ground before it got into good working shape, and subsequently rebuilt, to start off with continued success.

This is an industry in which we have always felt much interest, and we believe the citizens of Durham will have just reason to congratulate themselves for voting assistance for the new extension.

PERSONAL.

and Mrs. Hartley. They are returning to Edmonton at the end of the week.

here was in town last week, for a short time. We were pleased to see him looking so well. He's just as fat and as funny as ever.

Miss Chadwick, Upper Town, had a mishap on Monday, by which she had her leg badly fractured in two places by falling from an apple tree, while picking apples.
We are pleased to know, however, that she is doing most favorably.

Mr. John Koenig, who left Normanby about twenty-eight years ago, for the land of the Stars and Stripes, is visiting old friends in Hanover, and dropped in for a few minutes on Friday at the annual meeting of the South Grey Conservative Association.

SOUTH GREY TEACHERS

HOLD 33RD CONVENTION

South Grey Teachers' convention The thirty-third annual convention of the South Grey Teachers' Institute, was held in the school house in the village of Dundalk, on Thursday and Friday of last week, October 13th and 14th.

The meeting opened at 9.30 with devotional exercises by Rev. Mr.
Lee, of Dundalk.

The minutes were read and approved, after which the auditors' report was presented, showing a balance of $178.30.

Miss Marjory Mann, the President of the Institute, read a very carefully prepared paper on 'Good Beginnings,' emphasizing the importance of stamping on the child's mind 'first impressions' that make for the development of a useful manhood or womanhood.

In this connection, and for the accomplishment of this end, the teacher should see that the rooms were clean, properly heated and well ventilated, and in his or her personality there should be certain evidences of love, cheerfulness, industry, kindness, truthfulness and honesty.

Miss Bertha Wilson's address on the 'Teacher's Responsibility,' showed it to be an imperative duty for teachers to look well after the physical as well as the mental development of the children committed to their care. Great care should be exercised over bodily development nothing should be permitted to impair the eyesight, and correct posture in sitting and walking should be strictly enforced.

Mr. Halpenny gave a paper on 'Patriotism,' which he showed to embrace a love of home and school, a knowledge of our country, its natural resources and great privilege, the greatness of the Empire of which we form a part, our great statesmen of the past and present, and the superior form of Government under which we are placed.

Miss Beamish advanced 'Some Ideas Concerning Education,' showing that it embraced the mental, physical and intellectual development of the child, and scorning the idea of a sufficiency of intellectual training to be found in a knowledge of the 'three R's.'

Miss Ford read a very valuable paper on 'Art Course in Public Schools.' In this she pointed out that drawing is a graphic method of expressing knowledge by means of pictures, and is of great use in nearly every phase of school work.
Coloring is an important part of art work and the primary colors should be taught with instructions on how to procure the various shades. Children should be allowed to gratify the delight they find in sketching plants and animals.

At this stage, Mr. Russell, the chairman of the School Board, Rev.
Mr. Lee, and a number of other citizens entered the Convention to extend a word of welcome to the teacher, and to give them the freedom of the town, and to furnish necessary accommodation to all who were not provided for.

Dr. Sileo, principal of the Stratford Normal School, gave excellent addresses on 'Adjustment by the Teacher,' 'Adjustment by the Pupil,' 'Adjustment of the Subject Matter.'

Mr. W. L. Dixon gave a short address on 'The Great West,' along the line of education. He stated that the settlers took a great interest in the establishment of schools, that they usually equipped them well, but that ventilation was to some extent neglected. The buildings were up-to-date, and good salaries were paid. He also referred to the hardships the pioneers had to endure, but with the necessary staying powers, they succeeded, as a rule.

Miss Wright took up the subject of 'Composition,' and brought out many good points in a paper which had evidently been well and carefully prepared.

Miss Swanston followed with a good paper on 'Reading.'

Mr. Rowe, principal of Markdale public school, discussed the subject of 'Examinations,' emphasizing the importance of thought and skill on the part of the candidate, as thoughtful and skillful men are always in demand. The result of an examination is not a sure measure of the child's ability and the teacher's knowledge of his educational fitness should have some weight.

Miss Hogg gave a good paper on 'Sense of Humor,' referring at the outset to the five primary senses. She added two others, common sense, and sense of humor, the latter being the leaven that lightens the daily labor in the routine of life. A teacher lacking the sense of humor is likely to be stern, pedantic and unimaginative.

Miss Leeson gave a well-prepared paper on 'Nature Study,' which, if rightly taught, develops discipline, observation, thought and reverence. Pupils should be taught to love Nature and to take a deep interest in the animal and vegetable life in their own locality.
