Lesson IV.—Fourth Quarter, For Oct. 23, 1910.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES

Text of the Lesson, Comprehensive Quarterly Review - Golden Text Luke ix, 51-Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

As the reviews thus far this year have not come at or near the end of the quarter. I feel led to do with this as with the last review and give the lessons and Golden Texts and then a summary of the teaching as probably the most profitable way to handle the fourteen lessons.

Third quarter: No. 3. Peter's Confession, Matt. xvi, 13-28. G. T., Matt. xvi, 16.

No. 4. The Transfiguration, Matt. xvii, 1-8, 14-20. G. T., Matt. xvii, 5. No. 5. Forgiveness, Matt. xviii, 21-35. G. T., Matt. vi, 14.

No. 6. On to Jerusalem, Matt. xix, 1, 2, 13-26. G. T., Matt. xix, 14. No. 7. The Laborers, Matt. xx, 1-16.

G. T., Matt. xix, 30. No. 8. Nearing Jerusalem, Matt. xx, 17-34. G. T., Matt. xx, 28.

No. 9. Entering Jerusalem, Matt. xxi 1-17. G. T., Matt. xxi, 9. No. 10. Wicked Servants, Matt. xxi. 33-46. G. T., Matt. xxi, 43.

No. 11. Marriage Feast, Matt. xxii, 1-14. G. T., Matt. xxii, 14. No. 12. Three Questions, Matt. xxii, 15-46. G. T., Matt. xxii, 21. No. 13. Temperance, Gal. v, 15-26. G. T., Gal. v. 25. Fourth quarter:

No. 1. Wise and Foolish, Matt. xxv, 1-13. G. T., Luke xii, 40. No. 2. The Talents, Matt. xxv, 14-30.

G. T., Matt. xxv, 21. No. 3. Judgment of Nations, Matt. xxv. 31-46. G. T., Matt. xxv, 40.

We must keep before us in all these studies in Matthew that we are considering Jesus as the King of the Jews. As such He was born, and as such He was crucified (li, 2; xxvii, 37). He is mentioned in chapter i, 1, as "Son of David, son of Abraham," and we need to remember the unconditional promises to both, all of which shall be fulfilled in due time. There are many who see in Jesus only a Saviour by whom they may reach heaven when they have to die, but such is not the revelation of Him in the Scriptures. He is the King of kings and Lord of lords, the prince of the king of the earth, before whom all kings shall fall down and whom all nations shall serve (I Tim. vi, 15; Rev. xvii, 14; xix, 16; i, 5; Ps. ixxii, 11). The kingdom, which is to include all nations, with Israel as a righteous nation at the center. was plainly and fully revealed in the Old Testament and was preached by John and Jesus and the twelve and the seventy as at hand. That the Messiah of Israel should suffer before He should reign was also plainly stated and typified in the lives of Joseph, Moses, David and others, but that a long period, an age, should intervene between the sufferings and the glory since the world began which was specially revealed to Paul (Rom. zvi, 25, 26; Eph. iii. 1-11; Col. i, 26, 27).

When Peter, by the Spirit of God, confessed Jesus as the Christ, the Son of God, then Jesus for the first time Peter, not understanding the Scriptures nor the purpose of God. rebelled Then our Lord taught that all disciples must be willing to suffer with Him, but that there would surely be a reward and that, though He and His followers were for a time to be content to suffer, the kingdom would surely come as shadowed forth in the great event of the transfiguration. With such a kingdom before us, made sure to us by a risen and glorified Christ, and having been made partakers of it by His great sufferings for us, by which we have the forgiveness of sins, we should walk worthy of such a kingdom, freely forgiving every one and by fasting and prayer overcoming the devil. As He steadfastly set His face toward Jerusalem, knowing all that awaited Him there, so we, His followers, must be steadfast, unmovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord (I Cor. xv, 58). We must let His love constrain us to accept any manner of service gladly, not for reward, but in real gratitude to Him, quite certain that the Judge of all the earth will always do right. We should be inspired by the assurance that as truly as all the Scriptures concerning His humiliation were literally fulfilled, even to His riding upon an ass' colt, so literally will all that is written concerning His glory be fulfilled also. Therefore we should rely upon Him to keep these temples of our bodies wholly for Himself, cleansed by His word and Spirit, that He may bear through us the fruit He desires to His glory.

All that we may have to bear for His sake from ungrateful, unreasonable and even cruel people should be accepted as the necessary pruning of the branches in order to the bearing of more and better fruit unto Him. The flesh is to be reckoned dead, and we are to live in the Spirit, walk in the Spirit and be led by the Spirit, and thus show forth His praises. Being made ready for His call either to be absent from the body or to be caught up in the body at His coming for His saints by His righteousness freely given to us, may the Spirit so fill us that our light may so shine before men that they may giorify our Father.

The PILLAR OF LIGHT

of the cook, Jackson, when they had washed the dishes and discovered the whereabouts of the "tea-things," they suddenly determined that it was much nicer aloft in the sky parlor than in these dim little rooms.

"I don't see why they don't have decent windows," said Enid. course it blows hard here in a gale, but just look at that tiny ventilator, no bigger than a ship's port-hole, with a double storm-shutter to secure it if you please, for all the world as if the self. sea rose so high!"

Constance took thought for a while. "I suppose the sea never does reach this height," she said.

Enid, in order to look out, had to thrust her head and shoulders through an aperture two feet square and three feet in depth. They were in the living-room at that moment-full seventy feet above the spring tide high-water mark. Sixty feet higher, the cornice of the gallery was given its graceful outer slope to shoot the climbing wave-crests of an Atlantic gale away from the lantern. The girls could not realize this stupendous fact. Brand had never told them,. He wished them to sleep peacefully on stormy nights when he was away from home. They laughed now at the fanciful notion that the sea could ever so much as toss its spray at the window of the living-room.

They passed into the narrow stairway. Their voices and footsteps sounded hollow. It was to the floor beneath that Bates had fallen.

"I don't think I like living in a lighthouse," cried Enid. "It gives one the creeps." "Surely, there are neither ghosts nor ghouls here," said Constance. is modern, scientific, utilitarian every atom of its solid granite." But Enid was silent as they climbed the steep stairs. Once she stopped

"Something seems to have amused you," he said. "I have heard weird peals ascending from the depths." "Connie is going to splice the admiral," explained Enid.

"What admiral?" "Any old admiral."

"Indeed, I will not take an old admiral," protested the elder. "Then you had better take him when he is a lieutenant," said Brand.

Obedient to instructions, they searched the Land's End and the wide reach of Mount's Bay beyond Carn du. Save a scudding sail or two beating in from the Lizard and a couple of big steamers hurrying from the East-one a Transatlantic Transport liner from London-there was nothing visible. the far distance the sea looked smooth enough, though they needed no explanation of the reality when they saw the irregular white patches glistening against the hull of a Penzance fishing-

Durham is a bealthy The sea was heavier, the noise louder, now that they listened to it, than when they arrived in the Daisy, little more J. P TELFORD, than an hour earlier. Some giant force seemed to be wrestling there, raging against its bonds, striving feverishly to tear, rend, utterly destroy an unusually impetuous surge, a dark shape, trailing witch-tresses of weed shape, trailing witch-tresses of weed, showed for an instant in the pit of the cauldron. Then a mad whirl of water would pounce on it with a fearsome spring and the fang of rock would be smothered ten feet deep. For some reason they did not talk They were fascinated by the power, the grandeur, the untamed energy of the spectacle. The voice of the reet held them spellbound. They listened

"Therefore I decided that it would best serve the interests of the Board if I sent Bates and Jackson to Penzance in the boat in which my daughter-" he paused an instant and added an "s" to the word-"fortunately happened to visit me. As I would be alone on the rock, and the two girls might be helpful until the relief came, I retained them.' He glanced at the weather-glass in
