A number of our regular advertisers were late this week in getting in their copy for change of ad. We run part of our paper off on Monday night, and changes not in before six o'clock are liable to be left over. We have given this notice repeatedly, but there are still some who neglect it. We want our paper out on time every week.

A quiet wedding was solemnized on Wednesday evening, Dec. 7th, at six o'clock, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Swigger, of Bentons, when their daughter, Flossie May, was united in marriage to Mr. Herbert J. Vollet, of Normandy. The nuptial knot was well and securely tied by the Rev. H.P. Deller, of Varney, and after the usual congratulations, and a sumptuous wedding dinner, the happy young couple left that evening to begin their duties at the groom's home. We wish them an abundance of happiness.

The calendar season is here, and the calendar friends are on the war path again. We are not going to say much about it this time, but we do think the indiscriminate handing out of valuable calendars to every boy or girl, who has the cheek to ask for them must be a great nuisance on the business man who bought them for his own customers. They cost the merchant money, and he shouldn't be lusted to death by the boys and girls who want them for nothing, and in nine cases out of ten, don't know how to appreciate them.

A very alarming message was received here on Friday last by Mr. and Mrs. Farquharson, whose son, Charles, we reported a couple of weeks ago, as being in Port Arthur hospital, suffering from typhoid. He was recovering nicely when on Friday took a severe pain, which the doctors thought might be the result of a perforation of the bowel, and having advised Dr. Farquharson, here, lost no time in performing an operation, which showed the internal organs in excellent condition, with the exception of the appendix, which they promptly removed. Mr. Farquharson left on Saturday, but could not be able to arrive at Port Arthur until about twelve o'clock Sunday night. On Monday afternoon, however, a very encouraging message was received here, assuring Mrs. Farquharson that the patient was doing well as the doctors and nurses would reasonably expect. Much sympathy is felt for the distressed family, and the whole community will be glad to hear of the young man's speedy recovery.
