STORY OF THE RESOLUTIONS

Ten little resolutions all in a line—
Good man burns his thumb, then there are but nine.

BURNED HIS THUMB.

Nine little resolutions wondering at fate—
Ten dollars comes in sight, then there are but eight.

Eight little resolutions point the way to heaven—
Long comes a poker game, then there are but seven.

LONG COMES A POKER GAME.

Seven little resolutions in a sorry fix—
Pretty woman comes along, then there are but six.

Six little resolutions trying hard to thrive—
Long comes a horse race, then there are but five.

LONG COMES A HORSE RACE.

Five little resolutions, only five, no more—
Keyhole can't be found at all, then there are but four.

Four little resolutions still must pay a fee—
Wife makes some inquiry, then there are but three.

KEYHOLE CAN'T BE FOUND.

Three little resolutions looking very blue—
Some unheard of circumstance brings them down to two.

Two little resolutions pondering what's to be done—
Preacher's sermon hurts the man, then there is but one.

NEVER MIND.

One little resolution leaves a month before—
Never mind; next New Year's day you can make good more.

—Chicago Record-Herald.

THE SAD FATE OF A RESOLUTIONIST

THE New Year's resolutionist is thinking hard these days, smoking against time to get rid of his Christmas cigars and get himself as full of nicotine as possible before joining the anti-tobacco league, making memoranda of the errors of his ways during the past year and buying nice, fat, inviting journals, with 365 white pages and a cover of red leather, lettered in gold.

The New Year's resolution habit is one of those things that won't be snubbed out of fashion, as Valentine's day, New Year's calls and other ancient institutions have been. It is an instructive proceeding, this making of promises, signing of pledges and taking the vows. It shows up one's weaknesses and one's strength to all and sundry, but especially to the signer of pledges and maker of promises himself. It proves that two-thirds of the world's resolutions, like pie crust, are made to be broken, and occasionally it wakens up dormant pride and principles in some weak willed individual and sets him strenuously on his legs.

But the success attained by the man who keeps his resolution unbroken through the year is sometimes of doubtful value. It puts him up with pride, conceit and intolerance. Having accomplished his feat of strength, he has no patience with the weaker vessels who fall by the wayside—to put it Hibernianly.

One such individual resolved one New Year's day in the flower of his youth to take a cold plunge every morning.

He considered cold plunges good for health and good discipline for a lazy

HE WOULD BRAG AND HE WOULD LECTURE and sleep loving body. He lived down south when he began his early morning aquatic performances, but later he came north to live, and he kept right on plunging head first into a cold tub every morning, winter or summer.

He kept this up for years, and his vigor and bloom were splendid advertisements for the benefits of the cold plunge habit and incidentally to his strength of will in acquiring and sticking to such a habit.

But he had the weakness of his strength. He would brag, and he would lecture people who did not like cold plunges or else took them only six months of the year. As the years went by he got more and more vigorous and more and more impatient with complaining, late rising, cold catching persons who would not be converted to his ways.

"I rise every morning at 6," he used to tell every one who could be prevailed upon to listen to him. "Then I draw the tub full of cold water—the colder the better. Then I plunge in, and in ten minutes I am ready to dress after a violent rubdown with the roughest crash in the market. And do I ever have a cold? Am I ever ill? I haven't had a pain or an ache in thirty years, and I am never in bed after 6 o'clock a. m."

Perhaps it is cruel to tell, but it was a positive relief to his friends when one morning he was found dead in bed at 9:30. The coroner said he had been dead five hours. So his friends blamed it all on his not having had the cold plunge at 6. Had he lived until then and taken his usual dip, they said, he never would have died at all.

Thinking of Building a Silo? Better Build it of Concrete

THE construction of a Silo affords an excellent example of what the farmer can do with Concrete—and of the superiority of Concrete over all other material for various structural work about the farm.

The usual wooden silo, besides being expensive, is far from satisfactory. In the first place, it does not endure; and, more important still—being far from weather-proof—its contents become water-logged—producing an unsanitary condition.

A Silo built of Concrete, on the other hand, is practically everlasting—it is proof against heat, cold and moisture—and it has the merit of comparative economy.

This economy feature is further explained in our free book—"What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete,"—which tells how to mix and use Concrete for the making of silos and other buildings on the farm.

The Best Baker in Canada

A good oven is the housekeeper's delight. A poor one is the despair of her life. That's why we want to tell you about this Chancellor.

A special divided flue makes the oven a perfect baker. There is not a range in the country can beat it.

Baking day instead of being a trial and a disappointment is a pleasure, a satisfaction.

Come in the store when you're down town and let us explain to you just how this flue distributes the heat evenly over the whole oven. Bakes in front just as well as back—under crust as well as upper.

The GURNEY OXFORD STEEL TOP

means a marked saving in fuel, and better baking results. The Chancellor not only does its work better but at less cost than other ranges.

We can demonstrate to you the whole superior Chancellor principle of economy and efficiency in ten minutes.

Isn't it worth that much of your time right now?

The Chancellor is made for either coal or wood. Other Gurney-Oxford designs or every sort, for every purpose and all kinds of fuel, on display on our floor. Special demonstration now.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.
