CLASSIC CITY CHRONICLES.

The Classic City has been favored with a visit from two somewhat distinguished lecturers recently, in the persons of Dr. Sheard of Toronto, and Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis, of New York. Dr. Sheard gave a thoroughly practical lecture on contagious diseases, dealing particularly with the subject along the line of prevention. According to the Doctor's opinions, no one is likely to take any disease if he exercises common sense in the care of his health. Disease germs can only grow in congenial soil. The best disinfectant for the prevention of disease is plenty of fresh air, pure water, wholesome food and sunshine. The Doctor gave an amusing incident in connection with his wide experience which is worth recording. He was once called to visit a very sick lady who lived in a beautiful home. He found the window closed tightly and the blinds down. He told the lady that she would have to put up the blinds and open the window, if she wished to get better. The lady lifted up her hands in horror at the suggestion, and remarked that such an action would spoil her carpet and ruin her curtains. She thought more of the furniture and furnishings than she did of her health.

The Doctor also severely condemned the practice of keeping cats in the house. There is scarcely such a thing as a healthy cat. They may be infected with diphtheria tuberculosis or typhoid fever germs, and are almost invariably with intestinal parasites. The cats' prowling habits are extremely conducive to the spread of diseases, and therefore should be strictly prohibited from entering the homes. The speaker also strongly urged the parents to give their children plenty of fresh air and sunshine. He also incidentally hit the teacher a rap for giving so much homework.

Dr. Hillis gave an able address on "Ruskin's Message to the Twentieth Century." At first, it was difficult to understand the Doctor, but he soon warmed to his subject and the stiffness departed from his voice. His lecture was a strong, brilliant, masterly and eloquent effort.

Last week, we were treated to a few days of beautiful, balmy spring weather. The snow rapidly disappeared, overcoats, fur caps and felt boots were discarded, when almost without a moment's warning, a snow storm burst upon us, and the mercury fell with an awful sudden thump to 5 degrees below zero. Result—Spring togery is again consigned to the closet, and winter wraps are in vogue. However, if the weather prophets can be relied upon, we are likely to have fine weather in April, because March is cold and stormy.

There has been quite a "ruction" over the spelling in the Collegiate Institute. The Inspector's report was very favorable in every respect, with the exception of orthography. Quite naturally, the Coll. Inst. authorities began, with one accord, to make excuses, and ultimately laid the blame on the public school pedagogues, and sent a letter to that effect to the public school Board. The public school Board rightfully resented this uncalled for action on the part of the Coll. Inst. Board and dressed them down to a finish for their unwarranted imputation.

Our local papers are at it hammer and tongs on the Reciprocity question. Whether they believe in free trade or not they are certainly practising it as far as opinions are concerned. There is free exchange of mental products, any way, and judging from the pugnacious nature of the latter one is almost afraid that there will be a free exchange of muscular products in the near future. Then, of course, it is clear as mud that a free exchange of natural products will cap the climax. Shades of Socrates!

We had the pleasure this week of a visit from Mr. Martin McLeod, of Priceville. Martin is also visiting friends in Newton, Milverton and Stratford.

BLYTH'S CORNERS.
Mr. James Baird's sale held on Tuesday last was quite a success, notwithstanding the bad state of the roads, and prices for live stock ruled high. Cows quite common in quality went up to $50 and young cattle sold like hot buns at uncommonly high prices. Horses also sold well. One aged mare in foal brought $210.00, and one filly rising two years, $229 Mr. Adam Pettigrew being the highest bidder, while Dave Gilmour, of Hampden, was a close second.

Mr. Andrew McIlvride left on Saturday last for Brandon, where he intends to stop off for a few weeks to try the climate of Manitoba in the hope of it being beneficial to his health, before returning to his home near Cayley, Alberta.

Mr. Albert Hoeflin left Wednesday last for Toronto, where he intends to remain to look after the interests of his business.

A meeting was held in Varney Hall on Tuesday evening last to complete the organization of the branch of the Grange. The roads being bad and also the sale on that day not many turned out. However, three more members were added. Hereafter the meetings will be held the first Friday after the full moon in each month. The principal subject will be "Soil Cultivation" Everybody welcome.

Truly, Mr. Editor, you must be taking the Reciprocity treaty seriously when the "web footed" tribe are trying to console you.

We are indebted to the Gander for the compliment he paid us, where he says we were one of a number on a certain occasion who drafted a resolution when "horses went immediately up in price and have remained at a high level ever since." A wonderfully effective resolution, but the truth is Mr. Editor, we believe the Gander did not know whether we were writing a resolution or asking for quotations on feathers, for on being invited to speak at that particular meeting, he turned all the colors of the rainbow in three seconds and far outdone Moses by the way he did exceedingly fear and quake. Had he attended the farmers' meeting last Tuesday night it would have quite convinced him that the prediction we made was not far out, for on trying to arrange a debate on Reciprocity only one could be induced to speak against the Agreement, although more than half of the members present were Conservatives, or rather leaned that way.

We are somewhat surprised, Mr. Editor, at the uncomplimentary remarks you made in your last issue regarding Mr. Smith's remarks at Varney as reported by us. In our humble opinion we regard Mr. Smith as being one of the best posted Editors on all subjects of any paper published in Canada, and no man is held in higher esteem by the farmers than the same Mr. Smith and no Editor has done and is doing as much for the farmers to place them in their proper class and give them a square deal. If there was anything displeasing to you, Mr. Editor, the error might possibly have been in our report, but we are sure Mr. Smith can back up anything he said.

Whipped cream, stirred lightly through a tinted ice cream, like green pistachio cream or a cream colored pink with fruit juice, while it is freezing will streak it with white, thus producing a pretty color effect.

DARKIES CORNERS.

Intended for last week. A meeting of the members of No. 9 literary and debating society was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lindsay a week ago Monday night. A large number were present and spent a very social evening.

Miss Clara Ritchie is visiting Ingersoll friends. Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Payne spent a week ago Sunday with friends in Dornoch.

Mr. Robert Aljoe, who spent a couple of months recently at the parental home here, returned to his home in Fielding, Sask., on Friday last.

Miss Kate Ritchie is suffering from an attack of la grippe. Miss Annie Aljoe is also sick with an attack of la grippe.

Mr. John Newell, who has been under the weather this past while, is again on the mend. Mr. Robt. McFadden spent Sunday with friends north of here.

Miss Etta McAnuliffe, of Glenelg, Centre, spent on Saturday till Monday the guest of Mrs. Chas. Ritchie.

A sleighload numbering about fourteen people from this part of the burg, spent a very enjoyable evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. McComb, Thursday evening of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Matthews, of town, spent Friday afternoon of last week with Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Lindsay, and attended the presentation at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Noble the same evening.

Messrs. Wilson and Picken are doing the grand these days, having shipped two car loads of stock on Monday last.

As we write these lines, we are on the verge of losing two good neighbors in the persons of Messrs. Abraham Crutchley and Wm. Noble who are both moving their effects to their new homes; the former to the Hunter farm, north of town and the latter to the Scarf farm north of Huttin Hill. We regret to lose them, but at the same time we wish them both an overflowing measure of success and prosperity in their respective homes.

On Friday night last the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Noble was the scene of a very social evening when a large number of their friends and neighbors assembled together to honor them previous to their departure to their new home in Bentinck. The chair was taken by Mr. Thomas McGirr who gave a brief address, followed by Messrs. Joseph and James Atkinson, Robert McFadden, John Bell, and George Noble in short addresses. Music, singing, games and dancing were the chief features of the evening's pleasure. A recitation by Miss Scott was much appreciated. Following is the address:--

To Mr. and Mrs. Noble.— Knowing that you are about to leave our community and make your home in a neighboring township, we, your friends and neighbors have assembled here to-night to express our regret for your departure and to extend to you our best wishes for a long, happy and prosperous life in your new home. During your sojourn amongst us we have found you not only good citizens, but kind and obliging neighbors as well. Though quiet and unassuming in disposition, you were ever ready to do the neighbor's part in the truest sense of the word. We are sorry to lose you as permanent residents, but what is our loss is others' gain, and we are glad that you are not going so far away, but that we may hope to have you as frequent visitors in our community. (We ask you to accept this couch and rocking-chair, as tokens of our esteem, and be assured that the wish of the neighborhood is that what is best in life may be yours wherever your lot may be cast.

Signed in behalf of your friends. MRS. JAMES MCGIRR MRS. CHARLES RITCHIE.
