HOW THEY DO IN MAINE

Professor J. C. McClennan tells the following story about a fellow professor at the University of Toronto who spent some days last summer in the City of Portland, Maine. The weather was hot and dry, and the professor and his friends were afflicted with a grievous thirst. A suggestion was made that a mint julep would be decidedly refreshing. Now it was an easy matter to get the mint, but the julep, in the shape of whiskey, was quite a different matter, as Maine is a prohibition state. However, the professor undertook to procure some. He accordingly went into a drug store near the hotel at which he was staying, and asked the druggist on the side if he couldn't sell him some whiskey. The druggist having a righteous fear of the law, shook his head. "Absolutely impossible," said he. "We don't handle it at all." The professor was about to leave the store when the druggist, who evidently liked his appearance, added, "wait a minute, I have a friend who may possibly be able to do something for you. Just give me your address."

Not long after the professor was called to the telephone at his hotel. A voice said, "You'll find that parcel of yours at the steamboat landing to-morrow morning," and rang off. For a moment the professor could not understand, and then he recalled the druggist's words. He went to the dock in the morning, asked for a parcel and received a small package, which on opening at the hotel, he found to contain the desired liquid. Before leaving Portland, he went back to the drug store and asked how much he owed. "We have no account against you," said the druggist. "But surely I must owe you something," said the professor. "There's nothing on our books against you," persisted the druggist. When he got back to Toronto the professor put a two dollar bill in a letter and sent it to Portland. "Place this to my credit," he wrote. Shortly after he received back an envelope containing 75c.—nothing more. And so the transaction ended without a vestige of tangible evidence that the druggist had violated the law of the state.

TOWN CLEANED BY WOMEN.

Cleaning day in Montrose. Cal was an unusual success this year because the women organized themselves into a brigade of over-seers and they saw to it that the city alleys and back yards were not overlooked. The day had been set apart by proclamation of the Mayor as the annual clean-up day, and early in the morning a large force of men and teams was put to work, and by night hundreds of loads of refuse had been raked up and hauled away. The women were divided into squads and each squad had supervision over a certain section of the town. The refuse was devoted to filling up a large depression in a block of ground which the women are converting into a public park and playground.

HI EV HANDLED HOLLAND

On Saturday night a young man, who gave his name as Joseph Holland, forced his way into the residence of Mrs. T. Hiley, corner of William and Town Line streets, and proceeded to make himself at home. He was ordered out, but refused to go, and Mrs. Hiley succeeded in getting him to retreat with the aid of an iron poker. The fellow returned but in the meantime Chief Erwin had been summoned and arrested the disturber and placed him in the lock-up. Mrs. Holland was later placed in jail. He appeared before J. M. Pennington on Monday and will come up again next Monday.—Orangeville Sun.

SEED-TIME AND HARVEST.

The school children of Toronto had at their credit on the 10th of March last in the Penny Savings Bank $164,384.85; of which amount it is said one boy deposited the tidy sum of $500. This splendidly illustrates the advantage of a convenient means of depositing small amounts. But what is of greater importance to our young people, and to older people also, is that they should have some plan of investment for their savings that may be of permanent advantage to them, a plan that, when old age arrives and when their earning days are over, will furnish an income that will enable them to live in comfort, happiness and dignity for the remainder of their lives. Such a plan is provided by the Canadian Government by its Annuities Act. If, for example, the lad referred to, who we will assume for purpose of illustration is 16 years of age, will avail himself of this plan, and will deposit with the Government one-half of the amount which he has already saved, or $250, he will receive at 60 an Annuity of $154.85; and if he will add to his $250, $20 a year from 16 to 60, he will receive a further sum of $245.70, or a total income of $400.55 a year for life, payable in quarterly instalments. If he should die before 60, all his payments made up to that time, plus interest, will be returned to him, and if he should die after 60, his annuity will continue to his widow, or to his children, or to any person whom he may designate. If the pennies of the children had not been deposited in the savings Bank, there is little doubt that in the majority of cases they would have been spent on trifles; but while the custodian of their savings is the Savings Bank, the temptation to withdraw will constantly recur. If deposited with the Government, they cannot be withdrawn, for if they could be the object aimed at would probably be in 99 cases out of 100 never be attained. The advice of Sir Walter Raleigh: "Use thy youth so that thou mayst have comfort to remember it when it hath forsaken thee, and not sigh and grieve at the account; then, though it be a springtime which soon departeth, and wherein thou oughtest to plant and sow all provisions for a long and happy life," is good advice still, though given over three hundred years ago; and you can now plant and sow where the harvest will be sure and abundant. The Annuities plan is positively the only plan open to you that will enable you to spend your principal and interest without your income becoming smaller no matter how long you live.

In youth, life seems limitless and boundless, but before middle age is reached the shortening process becomes daily more real. There is no time to sow "wild oats." Statistics show that at 45, ninety-seven per cent of men meet with reversions; that at 50, ninety-five per cent are dependent upon their daily earnings; and that of those who fail at 45 only two per cent ever recover their financial standing. The advantages, therefore, which the Annuities system presents as a means of making provision for old age should be apparent to everyone. In an interview a few days ago with an old lady of ninety, who is an inmate of a poor-house, she said she frequently cries for hours at a time at the thought of having to end her days in such a place. But no one who has purchased a Canadian Government Annuity need ever be afraid of ending his or her life there, as no process of law can deprive him or her of it. The wolf will never enter their door. Anyone of the age of five or over who is domiciled in Canada may begin, and may receive the Annuity at 55 or any age thereafter; and any person over the age of 55 or over may purchase an immediate Annuity. For a small addition to the ordinary rate an Annuity may be continued for a certain number of years though death occurs before the number of years expires. Literature explaining all about this most convenient system may be obtained at the post office or on application to S. T. Bastedo, Superintendent of Annuities, Ottawa, to whom letters go free of postage. He will be glad to give you all information if you will write to him.

THE LATE THOS SULLIVAN

It is our duty to announce the death of an old and much respected resident of Artemesia township in the person of Mr. Thomas Sullivan, who calmly and peacefully departed this life on Wednesday morning, April 26th 1911, just as the dawn was breaking, surrounded by members of his devoted family.

Mr. Sullivan had always been a robust man, but caught a cold on election day, and despite the medical skill of the best physicians procurable, and the loving ministrations of his wife and family, who never left him for a moment, he gradually sank. Deceased was seventy-two years of age and was born in the county of Tipperary, Ireland. When quite a boy he and his other brothers and sisters, with their parents, emigrated to Canada, coming to Brock tp. where they remained some time, when they moved to the township of Artemesia, settling on a farm which never passed out of the name of the family, and which he purchased some years ago from his brother Mike's wife. He always took a keen interest in municipal matters and held the position of Councillor in Glenelg for several years. He was appointed Post Master at the time the P. O. was established at the Irish Lake, twenty-two years ago next August, a position he retained up to the time of his death.

Possessed of a kindly disposition he was liked by all who knew him, but it is in the home, where everybody was so happy and loved him so that he will be missed.

To mourn his loss there remains his sorrowing widow; four sons, Patrick, living near by; Frank on the homestead; Tom, in Toronto, and Jim, in Chicago; four daughters, Mrs. J. O'Hearn, (Mary Ann) Toronto; Kate, at home; Mrs. J. Sullivan, (Ellen) Dornoch, and May, of Toronto, all of whom were present at his funeral except Jim, who was unable to come.

The beautiful casket was covered with flowers, a wreath with the inscription "Father" being specially pretty.

The pall bearers were:—Messrs. James Kelly, Thomas Hughes, Martin Sweeney, John Quinlan, James Kerby and Dan McDonald, all true friends of the deceased.

The remains were conveyed to the R. C. Church, Glenelg, on Friday, April 28th, where his beloved pastor, Rev. Father Ferguson, sang the Requiem Mass for the dead and officiated at the funeral. To all members of the bereaved family we extend our sympathy in their deep sorrow.—Markdale Standard.

THE LAST OF DOWIE'S ZION

On April 19th, 1906, the editor of this paper was in Chicago. The late John Alexander Dowie of Zion City had returned as far as Chicago from his pilgrimage to Havana, Cuba. During his absence the people had revolted against his teachings, and the Chicago daily announced that there would in all probability be a fight between the Seceders and the Dowie faction if he attempted to enter Zion City on the date fixed, April 19th. The city is 42 miles north of Chicago on the Chicago and Northwestern R'y and lies between Waukegan and Kenosha. As we were anxious to see the fun we took the first train for the White City, but Dowie did not turn up and there was no pitched battle as we expected to see. A despatch from Chicago on April 28th is headed "Last of Dowie's Zion." It reads as follows:—"The five thousand or more persons all over the world who gave the late John Alexander Dowie their property, that he might found his City of Zion north of this city, will receive what is left of it, 12.8 cents on the dollar of their money. Cheques were mailed yesterday to 676 of the stockholders in every corner of the world.—Shelburne Free Press.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING.

A. W. Day, the general manager of the Right House, one of the leading dry-goods houses in Hamilton, is a strong advocate of and believer in newspaper advertising. The Right House management will this year spend over $25,000 in advertising in three Hamilton newspapers. The late Timothy Eaton attributed his wonderful success to newspaper advertising and always maintained that the newspapers were his staunch friends. J. C. Eaton, his successor, has just doubled the appropriation for newspaper advertising, and is to-day carrying a full page advertisement every day in six daily Toronto newspapers. That means a cost of over $200,000 a year in the city of Toronto alone.—Ex.
