Paddy McKinley, formerly owned by John Calvert, of this place, won in easy fashion at Dufferin track in Toronto, on Thursday last, winning in three straight heats in the 2.15 class, with Bob Scott up. After the race, he was sold for the spot cash sum of $1200 to Herb Wilkins, of Owen Sound. Paddy is also entered in the 2.15 class at the Toronto Exhibition.

On Friday morning last, after a somewhat prolonged illness, Mr. Donald Weir died at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Weir, in Glenelg. The deceased was an only son, thirty-eight years of age, of a quiet and retiring disposition, a good, honest, and industrious young man, a thoughtful student, and of more than average intellectual ability. We are not informed as to the cause of his death. The sorrowing relatives have the sympathy of the community in their sore bereavement. Interment took place to Durham cemetery on Sunday afternoon.

Dr. J. C. McGillivray, of Denver, Colorado, was a caller at this office on Saturday, in company with his uncle, Mr. Neil McLean. The Dr. left Denver about the 1st of June on an excursion trip with the Sons of America, and reports an enjoyable time in the Land of the Heather. He spent a week in the old city of London, and visited many places of interest, historical and otherwise. Dr. McGillivray was born in Bentinck, and has a very warm spot in his heart for the friends of his boyhood. He regretted to leave without an opportunity of seeing Inspector Campbell. After visiting a few days with his father at Elmwood, he intends to return to Denver, "the city of Light," and re-enter his medical practice.

We regret to chronicle the death of Miss Margaret Weir, the bright and promising daughter of Mr. William Weir, of Glenelg. For some time, we understand, she has been suffering from tubercular trouble, and for several weeks very little hope was entertained for her recovery. The deceased young lady was eighteen years of age, and gave promise of a very brilliant future. Death occurred on Saturday last. This is Mr. Weir's second sorrow, at very short intervals, as he lost a very clever son about a year or so ago. Mrs. Weir died eight or nine years ago, and the community is in deep sympathy with Mr. Weir and the sorrowing relatives in their many afflictions. Interment took place to Trinity church cemetery on Monday afternoon last.

Barrister A. C. Grant left here for Edmonton, where he intends to follow his profession. On reaching Orillia, he was married. We congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Grant, and wish them an abundance of success.

Tickets are good for return until Wednesday, Sept. 6th. No tickets will be sold at fare of less than 25c.

Mr. W. F. MacLean, of The Toronto World, will address political mass meetings at Ayton, on Wednesday, September 6th, and in Durham on Thursday, September 7th. Mr. MacLean has very large farming interests in the province, and will show the effect of reciprocity on the agriculturist if adopted by the Canadian Government. He is a good speaker and debater, and well worth hearing. Remember the dates, Ayton, September 6th, and Durham, September 7th.

Zion's big annual garden party was held on the grounds of Mrs. Blair, Eborale, and like its predecessors, was considerable of a success. Though the evening was cool, in fact cold, a good sized crowd was in attendance. A good program, games, music by the 31st Regimental Band, and a great big old-fashioned country supper, such as the good people of this locality always provide, kept the crowd in good humor, and formed the principal amusements. We have not the time this Wednesday morning for a fuller account, but will leave that to our Traverston scribe in next week's issue.

In response to a telegram received on Wednesday of last week, announcing the death of his daughter, Mrs. McGovern, of Bowdle, South Dakota, Mr. W. K. Reid left on the first train for the scene of sorrow. The deceased was 38 years of age, and died from the effects of being burned by gasoline. We have no further particulars at time of going to press. This is the first break in Mr. Reid's family, and he feels the bereavement very keenly.

The Walkerton Business College is a worthy link in a chain of seven Business Colleges, located in the cities of London, Peterboro, Welland, and the towns of Orangeville, Walkerton, Wingham and Clinton. Owing to its high-grade work it is affiliated with the Commercial Educators' Association of Canada. It is freely admitted that owing to these connections, its students get the very best positions. Fall openings are on August 28th and September 5th, but at this school each student is instructed privately at his or her own desk. Students may enter any day. Many students study all at home, and others partly at home, and finish at the College. As Spotton Colleges are the largest trainers in Canada, and have thirty years experience, it would be well for young people to get their training there. Last year, Mr. Spotton trained over 1200 young people and placed them in good positions. What he has done for thousands of others he can do for you. 2

MR. G. E. FOSTER AT HANOVER

A Large and Orderly Audience Listen to an able Discussion on Reciprocity.—Two Thousand Attend

On Friday night last, the largest political gathering ever seen in Hanover at an election meeting, assembled in the rink to listen to Hon. George E. Foster giving his views on the question of reciprocity.

Mr. Wm. Scarf, of Durham, President of the South Grey Conservative Association, occupied the chair, and after a few preliminary remarks, called on Mr. Ball, the Conservative candidate, to address the meeting. Knowing that the people came to hear Mr. Foster, and any opposition speaker that might put in an appearance, Mr. Ball was brief in his remarks, though decidedly pointed in his position regarding the question of reciprocity, which the people were asked to vote on on the 21st of September. He was opposed to the agreement, as he believed such a disarrangement of our fiscal policy would be detrimental to Canada as a whole. He scored Mr. Miller on using unfair means to injure his candidature, but hoped the people were not going to injure their own interests by adopting the agreement for the sake of political gain.

It is generally conceded that Mr. Foster is the ablest political debater in Canada, and during the time at his disposal his clear, lucid and convincing arguments detracted nothing from his reputation. It would be impossible in the space and time at our disposal to do justice to the subject, nor would any written account be so clear and convincing as to hear first hand, the multitude of facts and the logical line of argument produced by the speaker, whose evident and undoubted earnestness was plain to all who had the good fortune to listen to him.

He regretted very much that the Liberal party was trying to stir up an ill feeling between the producer and the consumer. These two were so inter-related that one was dependent upon the other. The farmer could not get along without the consumer, which included not only themselves, but all classes in the community. Everybody wants food, and wears clothing, but the farmers produce more than they need, and the market for their surplus production must be found amongst the class of consumers who are not producers. Our home market is our best market, and uses eighty per cent. of all we produce. The British market comes next, and takes an additional sixteen per cent. Of the remaining four per cent., not more than half goes to the United States.

Canada produced annually, he said, $700,000,000 worth, and the population is about 8,000,000. He then drew a very graphic picture to show that if all the products of Canada were gathered in one immense pile, and all the population gathered in one company, the disposal of the products amongst the people would seem like a very perplexing problem. But watch the sequel; the people take away what they want of each of the different commodities, and the pile dwindles down till only one-fifth of it is left, then Britain steps in and takes four-fifths of what remains, or sixteen per cent. of the whole production. This leaves only four per cent. on our hands, of which the American takes about half, and the rest goes elsewhere. He could not understand why there should be such a hubbub over the securing of other markets at a great national sacrifice, when we already had the markets at our very doors, to take everything we could produce.

The Liberals, in their campaign, were magnifying the American markets with a population of ninety millions. But they do not try to enlighten the electors on Continued on page 2.
